Boy Telephoned to Parents—Father Left Ransom Money But it Was Untouched

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 26.—Paul Little, 13-year-old son of E. R. Little, Lexington capitalist, who has been held for ransom by kidnapers, was found this morning locked in a room at a local hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Little first learned the whereabouts of their son when he telephoned his home from the hotel room. He said he had been kept a prisoner there since Wednesday night.

SCHOONER IN DISTRESS

Dorothy Palmer, Disabled in Great Round Shoals, Calls for Assistance

BOSTON, March 26.—The schooner Dorothy Palmer sent a wireless call for assistance from Great Round Shoals channel today, reporting that she was leaking dangerously with pumps out of commission on account of boiler trouble. She had seven feet of water in her hold and the message said that at the rate the water was gaining, she would sink in 12 hours unless a coast guard cutter or tug were sent to her immediately.

The Acushnet, the nearest available cutter, was at New London and coast guard officers here said it would take her eight or nine hours to reach the disabled schooner.

The Dorothy Palmer left Norfolk, March 19, for Boston.

BONUS PAYMENTS

Mass Meeting for World War Veterans

All veterans of the world war—male and female—are urged to attend a mass meeting in Memorial hall at 8.15 o'clock this evening, for the purpose of discussing further government bonus payments to all service men and women. The question is of sufficient importance to demand the interest of every Lowell veteran and it is hoped that the hall will be hardly large enough to accommodate the crowd.

The $50-a-month scheme will be explained and opportunity will be given for full discussion of any other measures introduced in congress. James E. Markham, school commissioner, will preside, and at the close of the meeting a buffet luncheon and "smokes" for the men will be served.

ORDINANCE VIOLATION

Paige Street Must Not Be Used As Parking Place for Autos

Supt. Redmond Welch, of the police department has asked City Solicitor William D. Regan for an opinion as to the right of Harry Pappas, of Lawrence, to use Paige street, as a parking place for an automobile in which he carries passengers for hire. Supt. Welch says that Mr. Pappas has an office in the restaurant owned by Harry Houghs in Paige street with a card in the window announcing to the public that his car is for hire.

Mr. Regan replies that an ordinance Continued on Page 18

MERRIMACK IS RISING RAPIDLY

Flash Boards Swept Away at Pawtucket Dam by Ice Floes

Water Four Feet Above the Dam—Rise of Three Feet in 24 Hours

Maximum Height Expected Sunday—Concord River Still on the Rampage

With all the flashboards on the Pawtucket dam ripped off by the drifting ice the Merrimack river has been transformed into a raging torrent of near-freshet proportions during the past 24 hours, with an actual rise of substantially three feet between 6.30 a. m. yesterday and the same hour today. The maximum height is not expected before Sunday at the earliest.

Huge floes of ice, carried along by a swift moving current, are being swept over the falls today and battered Continued on Page 15

REMOVE THE GUARDS!

Storm Guards on Pawtucket Bridge Obstruct View of River Observers

Employees of the street department will begin taking down the storm guards from various bridges throughout the city next Monday, according to Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy.

The first job to be tackled will probably be the guards on the new Pawtucket bridge in order that visitors may have an unobstructed view of the falls and Merrimack river swollen by melting snow and ice from the north. There have already been numerous complaints from people who have been unable to get a good view of the unusual spectacle afforded at this season of the year.

Commissioner Murphy says that these complaints have been countered by the sentiments of residents of Pawtucketville who have occasion to cross the bridge daily. The latter claim that the weather has not yet become sufficiently mild to warrant removing the guards, but the commissioner believes that conditions will be ripe for the work next week.

The Sun has had many inquiries from persons who wanted to know what department at city hall had charge of the storm guards on the bridges, the putting up and taking down of them, and many suggested that the guards should be taken down tomorrow as it is expected the river will reach its maximum on Sunday and the guards would obstruct the view of the falls from the bridge. The Sun passed these queries and suggestions on to Mr. Murphy, who said he would rather comply with the wishes of Pawtucketville people, who use the bridge daily, than with those of people whom he referred to as "sightseers."

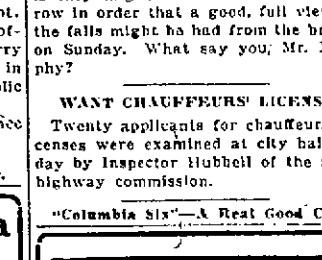

It has also been suggested that some danger attaches to the storm guards; danger for the ambitious youth who dares to climb and perch on the guard rail and one Pawtucketville man reported to The Sun today that he saw two boys perched on the rail as he came across the bridge on his way down town.

Commissioner Murphy, as heretofore stated, intends to take the guards down on Monday, and it does seem as if they might be taken down tomorrow in order that a good, full view of the falls might be had from the bridge on Sunday. What say you, Mr. Murphy?

Campaign For $100,000 Building Fund Will Start Next Week

$200,000 Wanted for Big Reception Building—Trustees' Statement

A $100,000 drive by the alumnae committee of the Rogers Hall school of this city will start here April 1. The money is required for a new reception building and the board of trustees has stated that the sum of $200,000 necessary for the erection of the building will be assured if the alumnae can raise half that amount.

May 6 will be the final day for reports of the alumnae committee in charge of the subscriptions.

Present plans call for an improvement of the entire grounds. The smallest building of the school, which was formerly the residence of Elizabeth Rogers, and which has been used Continued on Page 13

AT CAILLAUX TRIAL

Attempt To Attack Credibility as Witness of Leon Rosenwald

PARIS, March 26.—Efforts were made today by attorneys representing former Premier Joseph Caillaux on trial before the senate for having had treasonable dealings with the enemy during the war, to attack the credibility as a witness of Leon Rosenwald of Buenos Aires. Early in the trial, M. Rosenwald, who is editor of La Nation, testified Caillaux had told him in 1917 France must make peace immediately, at any cost, and that she "could not continue the sacrifices of the last three years."

Daniel Levy, an Alsatian, was called to the stand after the day's session of the court and testified he had long known M. Rosenwald, whose real name, he declared, was Kahn. He asserted Kahn had been convicted of embezzlement at Sarreguemines, Alsace-Lorraine, in 1875.

The prosecution announced it would recall Rosenwald to the witness stand on Tuesday next.

The next witness, M. Tasdohm, testified that in Brazil, Deputy Maurice de la Cripa, reported to him a conversation he had with M. Casella, a journalist. Casella, the deputy declared, boasted of being the secretary of, former Premier Clemenceau and said he had been sent to Brazil to find proofs against Caillaux. M. Tasdohm asserted he was indignant at the things said against Caillaux in Brazil, where it was even charged that Caillaux and his wife were seeking to become king and queen of France.

The hearing closed amid laughter.

Man Wanted by Police in Five Cities Arrested as He Slipped From Jail

WORCESTER, March 26.—John H. Ryan, Jr., of New London, Conn., who is wanted by the police of five states for obtaining money under false pretences, was arrested today as he slipped from the Worcester house of correction, where he had completed a two months' sentence imposed on him in Fitchburg. The arresting officer had five warrants for him from as many cities, and the Worcester police decided to turn him over to the Hartford authorities, as he is wanted by them on two different charges. Ryan came to the Worcester house of correction from the Lawrence house of correction.

EARLY MORNING FIRE IN ADAMS STREET

Damage to the extent of about $1,000 was caused by fire early this morning in the store formerly conducted as a saloon, at 13 Adams street. The blaze started in the floor about the center of the store. The damage to the erstwhile saloon included the breaking of three large plate glass mirrors, injury to the bar and fixtures, and the burning of the floor.

It is believed that the blaze was caused by a cigar stub, carelessly thrown, for when the establishment was closed at about 10 o'clock last night everything seemed all right. Shortly after 2.30 o'clock this morning a young woman who conducts a boarding house nearby, and who was awake at that time, smelled the smoke and, noticing the great volumes coming from the store, sent in an alarm from box 15. When the firemen reached the premises the flames had made considerable headway and it took them over an hour to extinguish the fire. The building is owned by Frederick J. Ryan.

Blaze in Cottage
At 7.47 o'clock last evening an alarm was sent in from 34 for fire in a cottage on the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad in the vicinity of Maple street. The blaze, which it is believed was caused by a spark from a locomotive, practically destroyed the contents of the car.

Says Germans "Turned the British on Their Heads" in Jutland Battle

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Germans, by their superior gunnery, "turned the British on their heads" at the battle of Jutland, Rear Admiral Plunkett declared today, before the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war.

Admiral Plunkett was testifying as to the need for keeping the navy personnel at full strength so men might be adequately trained. He did not go into details as to the Jutland battle, and was asked no questions regarding it by the committee.

The admiral, who commanded the great naval battery of 14-inch guns on the western front, was the fourth witness in the investigation of Rear Admiral Sims' charges that the navy department failed to co-operate fully with the allies early in the war and all of his testimony was devoted to the matter of personnel.

He told the committee the navy was without sufficient men when the war began.

"If we had been up against Germany at the outbreak of the war," he said, "we would have been paying indemnity today, and all because we did not have the trained men."

"We didn't have the men because Mr. Daniels wouldn't let us have them and wouldn't let us do anything to get them."

People formerly used to whiskey, wine and beer are expected to turn to honey and before long the United States may be a nation of honey eaters.

It is also contended that the scientific handling of bees in back-yards will do much towards solving the high cost of living.

Two colonies of bees would provide enough honey for any family and would leave some to sell.

"Eat honey and be happy" is the dominant slogan being employed in the educational campaign being waged by the bee-keepers.

Kenneth Hawkins, formerly United States bee specialist, now of Watertown, Wis., declares that honey is a stimulant and produces energy and is bound to advance in consumption as a substitute for whiskey.

FOUR FINED ON CHARGE OF RIOTING AT EXETER
EXETER, N. H., March 26.—Fines of $50 each and costs were imposed today on four more of the men charged with rioting in connection with the strike at the Chase-Chamberlain Shoe factory in Raymond, on Oct. 18, 1918. Like the five sentenced yesterday, for inciting to riot, they pleaded nolo contendere. All the defendants, Augustus Foster of Haverhill, organizer of the Shoe Workers' Protective union, Lewis Butterfield, Nelson Wheat, and Arthur Davis of Raymond, paid the fines and divided the costs amounting to $164.

COMMUNITY CLUB LEADERS MEET
Reports of progress in the Lowell Community Service membership campaign will be given at a meeting of leaders at the Community club in Dutton street tonight. Supper will be ready at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a business meeting at 7. All community leaders give impetus to the drive and turn in the best possible reports.

Targets designed to show the progress of the campaign have been placed throughout the downtown section of the city and squares thereon will be blocked out to represent hundreds of new memberships.

Unofficial reports received at the campaign headquarters since Tuesday night's meeting show that a great amount of interest has been created in the drive and tonight's reports are expected to show a substantial gain both in memberships and money received.

School children are joining the movement in large numbers and Supt. Hugh J. Molloy hopes to enlist several thousand more before the campaign ends on the 31st.

INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS
No reply to the threatened injunction proceedings of the Connors Bros. Co. of New York as a result of the awarding of the new high school contract will be forwarded by the high school building commission until that body holds a formal meeting and goes over the matter. Chairman John H. Lambert of the commission said today. The New York firm, through its local counsel, has informed the commission that it believes the contract was illegally awarded and asks that Daniel H. Walker be asked to surrender his contract so that bids may be advertised again.

REBUILDING BRIDGES
The Locks and Canals will continue this summer its policy instituted some time ago of rebuilding the various bridges owned by it in this city. The first bridge to be taken care of this year will be the one over the North Channel in Pawtucket street, near Cheever street. This structure which is now of wood, will be rebuilt as an iron bridge. A permit has been granted at the office of the street department for the closing of a section of Pawtucket street for two months beginning April 10.

Plans are under way for building two 1000-foot oil burning ships which will make the distance from New York to Liverpool in four days. Smoking was at one time a penal offense in Turkey.

WOULD FEED CANNED TOMATOES TO BABY

NEW YORK, March 26.—If you want your month-old baby to be entirely free from the taint of scurvy, feed canned tomatoes to the infant. And if you want the child to grow up to be a normal, healthy man or woman, don't interfere with the functioning of the thyroid gland.

These are only two of the interesting conclusions to be drawn from the discussions of prominent physicians at the second session of the 114th annual convention of the Medical Society of the State of New York at the Waldorf-Astoria and the Hotel McAlpin. The papers relating to food for infants and glands were read at the joint meeting of the sections on medicine and pediatrics in the Waldorf-Astoria.

Dr. Alfred P. Hess of this city, who was at one time with the health department, and has conducted investigations of milk as a food for babies, said pasteurized milk, the usual diet, is not enough for them, and to prevent the development of scurvy it was necessary to feed them something in addition, preferably orange juice or canned tomatoes.

Tomatoes "Well Born"

Dr. Hess said canned tomatoes are ideal food for infants, are serviceable and "well born" and could be given in one-ounce quantities to month-old babies without harm. Large numbers of babies, he said, have latent but undistinguishable scorbutic taints because they are deprived of their mother's milk.

Dr. Hess' talk was in connection with vitamins, newly discovered organisms existing in the skin of some plants and considered necessary to health. Nobody has yet seen a vitamin, but the doctors say they know it is there and has an important bearing on the value of certain foods to the human body.

The revelations concerning the importance of the thyroid and other glands were contained in the paper on "The Relationship of the External Appearance of the Body to Disease," read by Dr. George Draper of the Rockefeller Institute.

According to Dr. Draper, a physician familiar with the action of the glands has only to look into the faces of persons in his audience to tell what diseases they have had, ought to have had, or probably will have. In other words, according to Dr. Draper, the functioning of the various glands determines the shape of a man's head and nose and his general bearing and personality. The disturbance of these glands, especially in the first ten years in addition to shaping the skull and moulding one's personality, he said, makes one susceptible to certain infectious diseases.

Freckles and Indigestion
He referred, in illustration, to the fact that people of dark complexion or with pronounced freckles or moles had proved most susceptible to influenza and that pure blooded races have always been the greatest sufferers from epidemics.

Dr. Draper said the interstitial glands were among those which have great influence upon a person's life and that the improper functioning of these produced the effeminate type of man.

The importance of investigation into the work of the glands and their relation to disease, he pointed out, lies in the fact that it opened another field for the study of the prevention and control of disease, and would not leave scientists entirely dependent upon bacteriology for their knowledge of disease.

Dr. Joseph A. Blake, whose work in the American hospitals in France won him international fame, spoke before the surgical section on "The Application of the Methods Developed During the War to the Treatment of Fractures in Civil Life." He branded as obsolete the "infirmary" of limb fractures by encasing the members in a plaster cast and keeping it motionless. He advocated, instead, suspending a broken limb in a wire splint, a treatment used with great success in France.

In the new treatment, illustrated by Dr. Blake with lantern slides, the fractured limb is put in the splint and elevated to a natural position by pulleys and weights attached to a wooden frame above the bed. When properly adjusted the ends of the broken bone are by this method held in the proper alignment by the pull of the tendons and muscles around them, and there is less danger of a deformity than in the old method. At the same time the pulley system permits occasional movement of the limb while the bone is knitting, and also facilitates taking X-ray photographs of its development.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PUT OFF BY SENATE

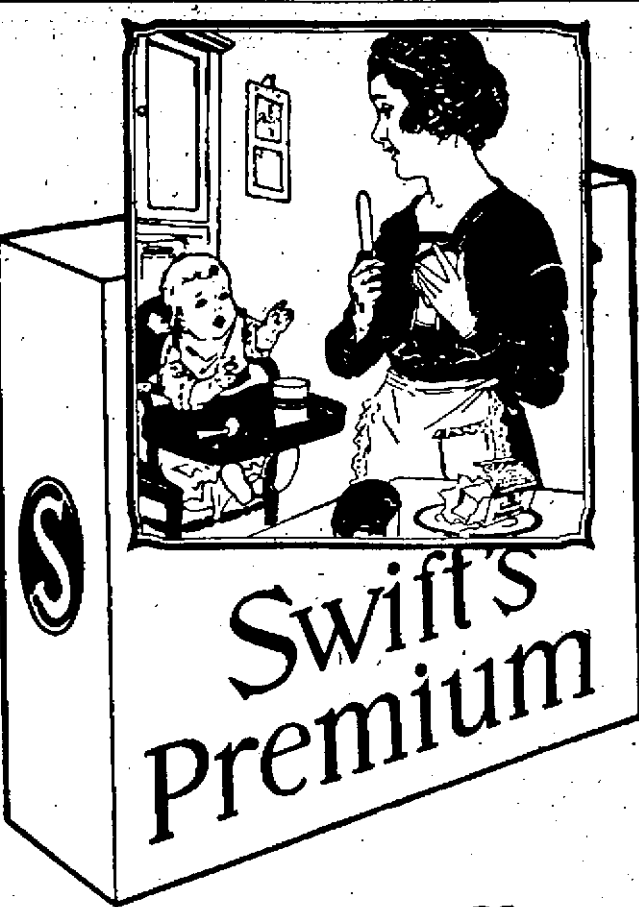

BOSTON, March 26.—Consideration of the "daylight savings" bill was put over until next Tuesday by the state senate yesterday afternoon. The measure, which has already passed the house, was to have taken effect next Sunday at 2 a. m. Yesterday's action of the senate prevents the operation of the law, provided it is passed, for one month at least. Senator Wells of Boston will offer an amendment next Tuesday to provide that it take effect at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 25.

Postponement was carried by a standing vote of 17 to 14. This, however, is not considered an indication of the senate's attitude on the merits of the bill itself. The question of "senatorial courtesy" had a part in the result. On the other hand it is understood that the railroads and representatives of industrial establishments and business interests agreed that they would be better prepared if the bill were to take effect the last Sunday in April.

As the bill stands "daylight saving" would begin each year the last Sunday in March and end the last Sunday in October. Senator Wells' amendment is only for the present year.

There was a sharp debate before postponement was carried. Senator Reed of Taunton criticized the opponents of postponement. Others in favor of postponement were Senator Walsh of Boston, Senator Hardy of Huntington and Senator Griswold of Greenfield.

that the upper branch will act favorably on the bill, it cannot become operative April 25 unless an emergency preamble is attached by a two-thirds vote of each branch. There is little doubt but that the house has that necessary two-thirds, but whether the senate has is not definitely known.

Still another thing to be considered is the attitude of the governor. He may exercise the power of veto; in fact, there is a report current that such is his intention. This, however, cannot be confirmed and those who know the governor intimately say it is useless to attempt to forecast his decision.

Attacks on Alleged Misrepresentation of Despatches Made on Senate Floor

WASHINGTON, March 26 (By the Associated Press).—Attacks on alleged misrepresentations of the doings of the senate, in newspaper despatches from Washington, were made on the senate floor yesterday by Senators Norris, republican, Nebraska, and Gronna, republican, North Dakota.

Senator Norris denounced a "special despatch" to the Omaha World-Herald, owned by Senator Hitchcock, administration leader in the treaty fight, and Senator Gronna attacked the Associated Press.

Mr. Norris, charging that the spe-

EXCHANGE "FREAKS" MAKE SOME POOR, OTHERS RICH

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Exchange rates are playing all sorts of freaks these days, making some folks rich and others poor. For instance:

Exchange between the American dollar and the Mexican dollar current in China, as fixed by the U. S. government for the sole purpose of marines, has in effect doubled the pay of the sea soldiers stationed there.

The marine is allowed $3.32 "Mex" for every dollar to his credit on the books. Thus, if he draws $30 in gold, and the rate for converting it into

"Mex" on payday is $3, the marine receives $99.60 "Mex." He can save $30 "Mex" for his expenses, and convert the remaining $69.60 into a draft at 93 and send it back to the U. S. In other words he can eat his cake and have it too.

On the other hand, here is Miss Zoe Fenton who before the war used to live comfortably in the United States on her income from Australia, but who must now go back to Sydney to make ends meet because the English pound is rated at but $3.50 in America.

cial despatch to the World-Herald had misrepresented his attitude on the Irish reservation to the peace treaty, denounced Earl Gaddis, the correspondent, who also is Senator Hitchcock's secretary, as one who "would rather tell a lie than the truth, if it would accomplish the same purpose." Senator Hitchcock was not present, being out of the city, and no reply was made to the attack, Senator Gronna declaring "perhaps it would be well to have a few funerals" to end the misrepresentations he alleged referred to his war record charged that the Associated Press during the war had sent out a despatch "charging me with voting against the appropriation of $60,000,000," provided in one of the war bills.

The bill referred to is the first aviation appropriation bill. The Associated Press despatches of July 21, 1917, the day the bill was passed in the senate stated that the bill was passed "without amendment or a record vote."

The same despatches, however, chronicled the fact that Senator Gronna was one of 13 senators voting to insert an amendment by Senator Hardwick of Georgia, prohibiting the drafting of men for the aviation service. The amendment was defeated, 56 to 12. The facts as stated in the Associated Press despatches agree with the official report of the senate proceedings as given in the Congressional Record of that day. The record also shows that during the debate on that day, Senator Gronna made another attack on the Associated Press, charging misrepresentation of his attitude.

Attacks on Alleged Misrepresentation of Despatches Made on Senate Floor

WASHINGTON, March 26 (By the Associated Press).—Attacks on alleged misrepresentations of the doings of the senate, in newspaper despatches from Washington, were made on the senate floor yesterday by Senators Norris, republican, Nebraska, and Gronna, republican, North Dakota.

Senator Norris denounced a "special despatch" to the Omaha World-Herald, owned by Senator Hitchcock, administration leader in the treaty fight, and Senator Gronna attacked the Associated Press.

March Worst Month For This Trouble—How to Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.—Adv.

MAKES SECOND FORTUNE ON SHOE STRING

SEATTLE, Wash., March 25.—Young men who are waiting for opportunity to come up and kidnap them might get a few pointers from the achievement of Jacob Kaniak.

Kaniak is 30 years young. He is the son of Count Kaniak of Poland, a veteran of the Franco-Prussian war and lost his fortune in Europe. Ten years ago he started in to amass his second fortune. He has just sold out a thriving shoe factory here for $20,000 and has moved to Oakland, Cal., to await the approach of old age.

Kaniak started literally "on a shoe-string." He worked in a shop as a cobbler. He saved and planned and eventually went into business for himself. When he sold out he was employing 100 men.

"Talk about this not being the land of opportunity," he exclaimed. "Why,

JACOB KANIAK

If I can make a little fortune after eighty years of age when most of my contemporaries are sitting around in the sun waiting for death, what can't a young man do?

"How did I do it? Well I came to this country the second time when I was 50 years old. I hadn't a cent and I made up my mind to get rich. I started to work in a shoe shop in Seattle after seeking a job for a long time. Nobody wanted to hire an old man.

Finally a man gave me a chance and I worked for him for two years. Then I started a shoe shop of my own. In five more years I built a little factory and employed 10 men.

"At the end of four years I built a larger factory and employed 100 men. The business got so prosperous that two years afterward I received an offer of $20,000 and I sold out.

"Here is my advice to young men—work, save and apply yourself to your business. Leave costly pleasure for others, and plan for your future. If I made my little pile after I was 50 years old, you can surely manage to get along under 30 or 40."

BIG SLUMP IN MOUSE MARKET

NEW YORK, March 25.—A big slump in the mouse market is reported from Columbia university where large stocks of the little rodents are used for experimental purposes. Quotations for mice have fallen far below pre-war levels and many breeders have been forced out of business, according to Dr. Francis Carter Wood.

Hosts of mice were required during the war for medical experiments and high prices offered for them by the government stimulated the breeding of these animals. When the armistice was signed the breeders were caught "long" on mice and they found themselves carrying a heavy overload of a useless commodity.

This situation in the mouse market is disclosed in Dr. Wood's annual report as director of the George Crocker special research fund. This fund was created to conduct scientific cancer investigation and many mice not used for experiments at Columbia are shipped to other laboratories. As one means to reduce the surplus the directors of the research fund have attempted to ship some of the mice to the Pathological Institute of the Imperial University of Tokyo.

The Luncheon That Proved a Success

"Mary," exclaimed Mrs. Gordon to her new maid, in dismay, "what in the world are we going to do! Mrs. Redfern has come for lunch. You might be sure she'd hit upon the very day we had planned on just a pick-up lunch. We might manage, but there isn't a thing we can have for dessert at this short notice."

"I can manage, Mrs. Gordon," replied Mary, confidently. "Just you leave it to me."

Luncheon time arrived, and Mary brought in a delicious, smooth mould of rich chocolate blanc mange. She had saved the day!

"How in the world did you do it!" said Mrs. Gordon. "Your dessert was delicious."

"Why," replied her maid, "I made it with Pudding."

"Pudding?" questioned Mrs. Gordon. "Do tell me about it."

"It's a dessert that always turns out right, and isn't a bit of trouble to make. All you have to do is to add milk, either fresh or condensed, and sugar, and boil for three minutes, and then when it is cool, you have a rich, creamy mould of dessert."

"Does it come in more than one flavor?" asked Mrs. Gordon.

"Oh, yes, indeed—chocolate, rose vanilla, orange, lemon and in several flavors. And it only costs 15c for a box which will serve 15 people."

"Well," said Mrs. Gordon, "it certainly is delicious."

"Use it for cake and pie fillings, too," said Mary, "and it makes ice cream smooth and rich."

"Well," exclaimed Mrs. Gordon, emphatically, "there is one thing sure. In the future, we will never be without Pudding!"

ON EASTER ORDERS

Rivalling the splendor of the country's most prosperous days in volume of business NOW DOING, I expect the biggest two days in the history of my store.

Never in my eleven years in Lowell have I shown you a stock so exclusively high grade. I don't hesitate to make the broad statement that no other concern in New-England is showing a line that begins to compare with mine.

I am seeking your business with the old-time favorite quality Woolens that you always looked for in the days before the war.

I HAVE THESE QUALITIES—I have them in abundance—I have them in all the latest styles and patterns, from woolen makers who have long been recognized as the champions of the world.

The idea or notion that woolens will not be good, or like they used to be, for a year or two to come, is not founded on facts. Why shouldn't they be as good as ever? High priced, maybe, but as good as ever.

NO UNHOLY ALLIANCES FOR ME

We are in the piping times of peace, the war is over, war trade murdering necessities are no longer necessities. I for one will not tolerate them. I am against the unholy alliance of

Are their Reputations Guarantee enough for you? Then come to me for your suit and I will give you their goods.

The Largest Display of Woolens I Have Ever Shown. I have the Perseverance Worsteds, Dunn's Worsteds, Paragons, Rockville, Standish, Mabbits, North Adams and hundreds of yards of Wanskuk Blue Serges, and when I get these I don't see what is left in woolens for anybody to get better. THERE IS NO BETTER MADE THAN THE ABOVE MENTIONED MILLS.

MISS LADY-BUG ARRIVES

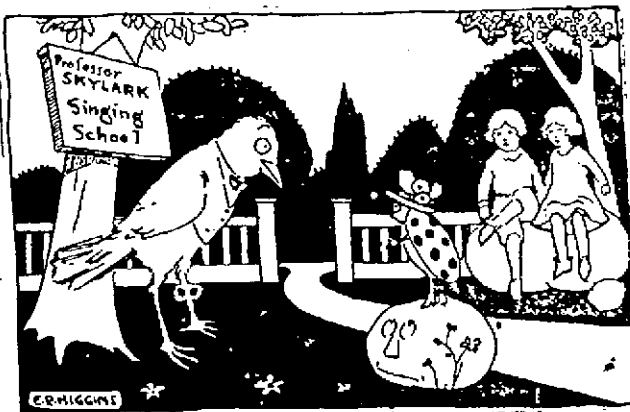

But no new pupils came to the singing school for a time, and Nancy and Nick saw that Professor Skylark was getting impatient. "My, my!" he exclaimed as he walked up and down the fence near the gatepost sign, taking out his watch every few minutes. "Prices keep going up and I need the money! I had to pay a dollar today for bird-seed I used to get for 15 cents. Ah, ha! Here comes somebody now."

And he gave his brown waistcoat a what would you like to learn, buzzes, or hums, or chirps, and he ran a scale on the piano with one hand, matching the notes with his fine voice.

"Oh, how lovely!" exclaimed Miss Lady-Bug. "I'd like to learn that, May I?"

"Well, not exactly," said the professor, smiling in a very patronizing way, as he wheeled around on his stool. "You see, you're a—ahem! An insect. And I'm a bird. Just wait 'till I get

"I want to learn to sing," said she timidly. "Is this the place?"

Jerk and straightened his tie, as he hopped down to receive the newcomer.

It was Miss Lady-Bug in her terracotta satin dress with black spots, shiny as a new cent.

"I want to learn to sing," said she timidly. "Is this the place?"

"It certainly is," said the professor in an encouraging voice, ushering her up the path where he had his piano under a bush of wild currants. "Now out my book on insect exercises. We'll try the buzzer first!"

The twins then saw him set the book marked "Fine Buzzes" on the piano bracket. "Now," said he, "stick out your wings so and wiggle them so."

Miss Lady-Bug looked frightened, but did what she was told. But no sound came.

"No, no, no!" cried Professor Skylark. "That's too slow!"

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Total of $908,829,172 as First Installment of Nation's Tax Bill for 1919

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Figures of income and excess profits taxes aggregating $908,829,172, paid as the first installment of the nation's tax bill for 1919, and made public yesterday, show that the district including New York, New Jersey and Connecticut paid more than a quarter of this amount, or $255,291,152.

Treasury officials said last night that while $908,829,172 does not represent exactly one-fourth of the taxes for last year, it indicates that approximately $3,500,000,000 will be collected for the entire year. This first instal-

HOME RULE COMMITTEE

Owing to the dearth of business and the absence of several members, the street railway home rule committee failed to hold a formal meeting yesterday afternoon at city hall as scheduled. Secretary John B. Curtin, Mrs. E. M. Burke, John E. Sullivan and Walter H. Durfee were present, but three other members failed to put in an appearance. Thomas Lees, manager of the Lowell District of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., with whom the committee is supposed to meet, was also absent, having an important engagement in Boston. Accordingly, no business was transacted and the committee will again meet on Thursday, April 5.

Idyls of an Irresponsible

When I could take two drinks or three, and wander in the flowery path, a stern, old boy would come to me and wag his whiskers in his wrath. "Lay off," he'd say, "you're going bad, your time will come in life's fair spring; heed one who's older than your dad, nor listen when the sirens sing." Time passed, and old J. Barleycorn was laid away among the dead; I go without my morning horn and drain the water-tap instead. I really like this sort of plan much better than I'd thought I well as me.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

H. P. KETTER'S THEATRE

Everybody likes snappy music, and about everybody can stand for variety. That latter is what Durt Earle and his six girls give at the B. K. Ketter theatre this week. Earle is one of the greatest players of the banjo. He makes it sing like a violin. His girls play a variety of instruments, and largely devote themselves to popular stuff. Jack Inalls is the same rapid-fire funmaker as of yore. He never lets up with his witticisms nor does he twice follow the same line of attack. And Tony Hunting and Corinne Francis give a delightful touch to everything they do in "The Flower Shop." It is a pretty melange of comedy, singing and dancing. The Krenka Bros. are startlingly original gymnasts. Other acts on the bill are: Dalton & Craig, LaPino & Emery, and Paul George.

THE OWL THEATRE

In "The Web of Deceit," the Edwin Carowe feature, the headline attraction for the last half of this week at the Owl theatre, Delores Cassinelli is her own greatest enemy. She lies to and cheats and deceives herself, and the way in which it is accomplished is very simple—she makes two roles. Oddly enough, it is as the selfish, unscrupulous and deceitful sister that Miss Cassinelli has her biggest opportunity. The story by Elmer Elliott Peake appeared in magazine form under the title of "An Altar on Little Thunder." The beautiful Kentucky mountains famous in song and story furnish the background for many of the great outdoor scenes. Little Mickey Moore, four years young, again appears with Salisbury. The Hall Room Boys and a News of world events worth while complete the bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Cecil B. de Mille, famous for his long string of artistic motion picture successes, has excellently all previous efforts in "Male and Female," his latest production, now showing at the Merrimack Square theatre. The story was adapted for the screen from Sir James M. Barrie's great play, "The Admirable Crichton," and the cast includes such notable stars as Gloria Swanson, Thomas Meighan and Theodore Roberts. No effort was spared by Mr. de Mille to make the motion picture faithful to the story in every respect. Only two days remain for Lowell people to witness "Male and Female," as it closes its week's engagement tomorrow night. Other attractions on the current bill are "A Red Hot Finish," a new comedy; the Burton Holmes travel pictures and the News Pictorial.

OPERA HOUSE

The right kind of mystery plays are always interesting and entertaining. "The 13th Chair," which is being so cleverly presented this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, should certainly appeal to all lovers of this particular brand of play. See Miss Fields' great characterization of "Madame la Grange." It is one of her most artistic portrayals, while the others of a large cast, are praiseworthy. Next week's production will be "Alexander Dumas' great masterpiece, the emotional play, "Camille." It will be presented with all of the artistic finish and cleverness that has marked the productions by the Players in the past. You can't afford to miss it.

"BEST OF ALL" BALMWOOD KIDNEY TABLETS

Mr. Wm. E. Bryant, R. F. D., Bryantville, Mass., writes: "I am using your Balmwood Kidney Tablets and find them the very best of anything I have ever tried. I have tried lots of other remedies," etc. Pains in the back, rheumatic pains, frequent, scanty, highly colored, smarting pains, etc., tell you that Kidneys and Bladder are not doing their regular duties. Balmwood Kidney Tablets correct and revive their activity. Sold by all druggists.

THE STRAND
If you are anxious to take a peep into real newspaper work see "Deadline at Eleven," with Corinna Griffith in the principal role, now showing at The Strand. It's a great story and it's produced well. Then there is "Soldiers of Fortune," Richard Harding Davis' great story, and a good comedy and Universal Weekly. The contest for the most popular woman patron, with an Easter hat and parasol to match as the prize, is another incentive. This hat in a Paris creation, procured through the firm Marche. It was worn by Pauline Frederick in "The Bachelor Case." Coupons are being given with the purchase of every ticket and the woman securing the largest number of coupons receives the prize.

A 17-year-old girl of Passaic, N. J., accompanied by her mother, attended the annual sale in New York of the effects of deceased, deserting and absent sailors of the navy and the merchant marine, bid in a suit case for $5.75, carried it into a far corner, opened it, and made sure of the possession of a package of letters that was in the case. "I wrote all these letters," she explained. "I'm not going to say to whom I wrote them, except that he deserted his ship, and it's all over."

LOYD GEORGE SAYS U. S. CONSULTED ON TURKEY

LONDON, March 26.—Replying to criticism of the government's foreign policy of Herbert H. Asquith, member of the house for Paisley, Premier Lloyd George yesterday afternoon gave a detailed explanation of the Turkish settlement.

United States Consented
The premier said it would have been a blunder to have settled the Turkish problem without giving the United States the most ample opportunity to decide whether it would accept a mandate to administer the Turkish settlement.

CASTORIA

France were taking advantage of the political dissensions in the United States to divide the whole of Turkey among themselves.

"It was only when America definitely refused the mandate that we proceeded without her," Mr. Lloyd George declared.

The premier said the proposal to oust the sultan had been rejected as inadequate, because it left the question of the government of Constantinople undecided and the allies were anxious to avoid the expense and responsibility of the administration of Constantinople.

With regard to Armenia, the premier continued, France would have been willing to hand Cilicia to the United States if the latter had accepted the mandate.

"Up to the present we have only received requests from America to protect Armenia, without any offer to assume responsibility," Mr. Lloyd George said. "We hope France will undertake the responsibility, but it is much to ask, considering all the burden France already has."

Limit to England's Aid

The premier contended that it was quite impossible for England to send armies to keep order in Armenia and

Asia Minor. England would do her utmost to exert pressure in Constantinople to secure good treatment for Christians, he asserted, but was unable to accept a wider responsibility.

The Armenians are an exceptionally intelligent people, and must begin to depend on themselves for the protection of their independence. Mr. Lloyd George said, adding that he understood they could easily raise an army of 40,000 men. Great Britain would be willing to supply equipment and officers for their training. If that were done they could defend themselves against the Turks, the premier declared.

Referring to central Europe Mr. Lloyd George said: "If Germany would perform her part of the treaty by volunteering to state what amount of reparations she is able to pay, and if she can prove the impossibility of paying unless she first secures raw materials, I do not believe either Belgium or France will stand in the way of her obtaining the necessary credits. But there must be a definite indication that she intends to discharge her liabilities."

SEES DECISIVE AERIAL CONFLICT

Brig. Gen. Mitchell Says First
Battle of Next War Will be Fought in Air

Will be Last One as Losing
Nation Would be Helpless
After Defeat of Air Fleet

NEW YORK, March 25.—The first battle of the next war will be fought in the air, Brigadier General William Mitchell, chief of the Division of Training and Operations, Army Air Service, declared in a statement here today, in which he visualized a decisive aerial conflict. The battle, he added, would also be the last one of the war because the losing nation would be helpless and unable to continue hostilities after its air fleet had been conquered. The air service chief predicted that aviation will "completely drive" huge battle cruisers, battleships and other surface ships off the water in the next conflict. "A great air force can render surface craft incapable of operating and stop debarkations from ships and attacks on shore establishments," he said.

Brigadier General Mitchell, in his visualization of the great air struggle of the future described vividly the part he believes giant gun-bearing battle planes, bombers, rigid dirigible balloons and armored aircraft of various design will play in the next war.

With the beginning of war, he pictures a huge fleet of dirigible balloons soaring high above the ocean and, from nests on the tops of these, tiny airplanes are launched, locate the enemy fleet and return with the information. The chief air officer, working in contact with the army and navy, sends his air force against the enemy.

The American fighting planes drive from the sky the enemy pursuit and combat planes launched from the decks of enemy battleships.

"Then comes the main attack by our air forces against the hostile fleet," says General Mitchell. "The battle planes are in squadrons of 25 and four of these constitute an attack group. Circling over the enemy fleet they maintain a heavy fire, destroying personnel and anti-aircraft equipment.

"With the gun-bearing planes or immediately behind them are the bombers, huge air freighters carrying projectiles weighing up to one ton and depth bombs for effect against submarines. Water torpedoes controlled by wireless from the planes crash into the sides of the hostile vessels sinking the smaller ones and damaging the larger.

"Darkness comes and when visibility from the ships has become poor, huge rigid dirigible balloons, carrying bombs of enormous weight join the attack, their projectiles crashing through the heaviest armor of the enemy ships.

"As the navy comes up to complete the work done by the aerial forces the battle is over. The enemy, driven from the air and with most of its ships either sunk or out of action, surrenders. The battle has been the first and is also the last of the war. The enemy cannot land his forces."

TELLS ABOUT A CHRONIC TROUBLE

Mr. John O'Brien, 659 N. 15th St., Philadelphia, writes: "I had been troubled for years with chronic constipation, until my whole system seemed poisoned, and I suffered with headache, languor, depression and general impaired health. I began taking Sulphur Tablets and got immediate relief. I am, after many months, still regular in habits, and thank you, and hope they will become known to thousands, etc." "If your blood is bad, tongue coated and you are constipated, with stomach and bowel irregularity, get a tube of Sulphur Tablets of your druggist right away. They are made of sulphur, cream of tartar and herbs—so don't accept ordinary 'sulphur' tablets."

You'll Say $60 is a "Fair Price" For These Suits

We'll leave it to you. See these suits. Judge their worth for yourself.

The fairness of a price depends entirely on what you get for it. You can't consider the clothes question any other way.

When you consider these suits in proportion to the worthiness of the fabrics and the cost of the skilled workmanship employed in their making, you'll say they are great values, and they are.

They're all wool goods, hand tailored; smart styles for the young men as well as the conservative dresser. Patterns of rich appearance.

BIG INCREASE IN CATHOLICS IN U. S.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The official Catholic directory for 1920, made public yesterday, announces an increase of 156,224 in the membership of the church last year, bringing the total membership in the United States and its possessions up to 37,650,204.

The number of archbishops was increased from 14 to 16, according to the directory, but the number of bishops was decreased by deaths. There was an increase of 1079 seminarians. New parishes totalled 145, and two new orphan asylums were established.

The regular clergy now number 13,353, an increase of 337, while priests of religious orders number 21,019, an increase of 94.

GIRLS' COMMUNITY SERVICE CLUB

Leaders in the new squad organization of the Girls' Community Service club met with the executive committee last evening to review the work of the past fall and winter and lay plans for spring activities. Supper was served in the assembly hall, followed by a business meeting, at which Miss Mae Hewson, chairman of the reorganization committee, presided. Miss J. Macklin Beattie, club director, spoke on a more general club spirit; Miss Sadie Melancon, acting president, outlined a few of the things the club hopes to accomplish this year, and Miss Noreen Graffam, chairman of the ways and means committee, stressed methods of raising sufficient money to install lockers in the new gymnasium rooms and mentioned the possibility of a carnival as one of the activities.

The meeting was the first of the new squad leaders since the club set about a reorganization of its membership and practically all the leaders were present. It was the general feeling that the supper and meeting should be made a regular event.

The first spring "hike" will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, when the girls are invited to meet with Miss Cronin and set out in the general direction of Clark road.

U. S. MARINES CAPTURE HAITI SUGAR BANDITS

Here is a group of Uncle Sam's marines living up to their reputation down in Haiti. This time they are protecting your morning coffee cup by bugging a bunch of native sugar bandits, and bringing in the raiders at Port Au Prince. The revolutionary element or "Cacos" often resort to sabotage by breaking sky-lights and letting water into sugar warehouses and even plan raids upon the mills.

MAXIMUM PENALTY FOR FREIGHT JUMPERS

Lowell boys who are in the habit of "jumping freights" better watch their step in future.

For one thing, a campaign having for its objective the elimination of this all too common practice has been instituted by the local police and Boston & Maine railroad officials.

In addition, Judge Enright of the municipal court has announced that persons convicted of this offense will receive the full limit of the law, which provides for a fine of $50 or imprisonment for a term of six months.

Judge Enright made this statement in disposing of the cases of four local youths arraigned on this charge in the juvenile police court session this morning.

The quartet, all of whom are employed at a local shoe shop, pleaded guilty, and but for the management of the firm making an earnest plea for leniency, would have been given stiff sentences. In the end the cases were placed on file after the court had issued a warning that the next offense would result in substantial fines being imposed or direct jail sentences.

During the hearing of the cases it was brought out that more accidents have occurred in the vicinity of the local railroad station which could be directly attributed to young men "riding the bumpers" than at any station north of Boston.

It was the opinion of Judge Enright and the railroad officials that only by taking drastic steps in the matter would it be possible to minimize these casualties, hence the decision of the court to impose heavy penalties on offenders in the future.

The general session of the municipal court was of a brief nature. A few continued cases were called and recontinued for several weeks, following which the court adjourned.

No arrests of any kind were recorded during the past 24 hours.

ANTI-BOLSHEVİK ARMY IN BLACK SEA PROVINCE

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 25. (By Associated Press.)—The anti-Bolshevik army operating in the vicinity of Novorossisk and moving southward in the Black sea province towards Batum, has established its capital at Sochi (Lake Hovsk), on the Black sea, about midway between Novorossisk and Batum) where a general committee is directing a so-called government. Gen. Keith of the British forces is reported to have visited Sochi recently and discussed the situation with M. Filinposki, chairman of the committee for liberation of the Black sea province.

Despatches from Novorossisk indicate that the war-worn refugees in this region, confused by the multiplicity of factions and somewhat reassured by the Bolshevik promises to abandon terrorism, are becoming reluctant to remain in Russia even if the Bolsheviks should occupy Novorossisk. The allies, however, are removing those who it is considered would unquestionably be in danger of Bolshevik reprisals, transporting them to Theodosia in the Crimea. The American Red Cross is removing its supply depot to Constantinople. The prevalence of typhus among the refugees is making their removal a difficult operation, and one dangerous to other countries.

Besides the British emissary who went to Novorossisk, the French also sent an officer to confer with the committee which denounced both the Bolshevik and the Denikin forces, saying the Black sea people were fighting for the purpose of freeing their territory from all outside plunderers. This "green" army is not Mohammedan and is not connected with the Moslem green army which is opposing the Cossacks in Daghestan.

ed. They were given the option of spending 10 days in jail or paying $12.50 fine.
When arraigned, some of the students were clad in pajamas, while others were barefoot. Frederick H. Straycr was the only one with a bandage on his head. He explained he was struck five minutes after arrival at the scene of the disturbance.

Magistrate Harris declared it was a pity more of the students were not wearing bandages.

According to the police, the celebration of victory was the most aggressive since on the part of the students they had ever witnessed. It lasted from 11 p. m. until 4 o'clock this morning.

The students pulled the bluecoats with bricks and stones from alleys and side streets, and even threw clocks, water bottles and furniture out of windows.

Murver, what makes you so cross?

Poor mother, has backache, dizzy spells, headache and is nervous, which are all symptoms of woman's trouble.

Most women neglect their health, and for this neglect they pay the penalty. Any woman who suffers thus will find that she loses flesh faster than Nature can put it on. She will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life and make her worries fewer. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around vegetable tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

Dr. Pierce put his Favorite Prescription in the drug stores in 1870. For fifty years it has stood the test, and thousands upon thousands of women all over the United States can testify that this non-alcoholic tonic made them healthy and well. ON HUNGARIAN TERMS

Count Apponyi's Second Article on Peace Treaty—Appeals for Plebiscite

PARIS, March 25.—Count Albert Apponyi, head of the Hungarian peace delegation, in the second and concluding article on the Hungarian peace treaty which he prepared for the Associated Press, calls for a plebiscite of the inhabitants of the regions severed from Hungary by the Versailles treaty. He says:

"Comparing Hungary as she was before the war with the new states created or aggrandized through dismemberment, the situation is this:

"The Hungary of old is the finest natural geographic unity in Europe, whose limits are fixed by mountains and rivers; whose parts are economically interdependent, so as to make the whole almost self-supporting. For more than 1000 years this part of Europe never gave trouble to the rest, either averted from it whatever trouble threatened its tranquillity and safety from the east. While historic Hungary stood, the troublesome area of Europe was as distant from the centre as the Balkan peninsula.

"To make the moral cohesion of her people perfect, one factor alone was wanting; racial unity. On this plea was her dissection planned. New constructions arise on her ruins, based on the racial principle, irrespective of geography, history, or political economy. We make the astonishing discovery that these new constructions are racially quite as mixed as Hungary has been."

Count Apponyi declares that 64.8 per cent. of the 18,000,000 inhabitants of "Hungary proper" were Magyars, 16.1 Hungarian, 10.7 Slovak, 10.4 German and the rest Serb, Ruthenian or miscellaneous. Comparing these to the newly organized or aggrandized states he says that the population of Czechoslovakia has claimed parts of Hungary containing 3,670,000 persons of which 47 per cent. are Slovak and 37 per cent. Magyar or German. Rumania claims territories on which live about 5,260,000 souls of which 53 per cent. are Rumanian and 43 per cent. Magyar or German. The population of parts of Hungary annexed by Jugoslavia, says Count Apponyi, is only 22 per cent. Jugo-Slav, 33 per cent. Magyar and 27 per cent. German. Count Apponyi continues:

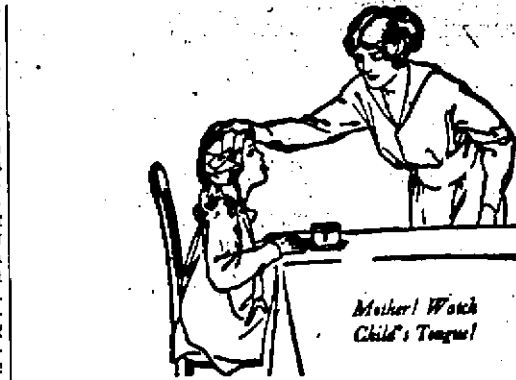

"These figures show that the only principle of organic unity that has been wanting to Hungary's racial unity is likewise wanting to the states artificially built up on her ruins; the difference consists only in this, that Hungary was possessed of every other principle of unity, while the new states have none, absolutely none. What is still worse, the leadership in them will be transferred to races of inferior culture, the results of which we may already notice, after one year's occupation of the territories torn from Hungary. There is a wanton destruction of cultural values, universities, high schools and others. On the territory occupied by Rumanians, 5000 grammar schools are deserted, the former teacher having been expelled and nobody being found to supplement him. In consequence of which more than 200,000 children are left without education of any sort. There is a conspicuous lower level of public functionaries and the general prevalence of semi-barbarous methods of government."

"What can result from this state of things? Will those people who are violently severed from their beloved old associations only to be subjected to alien government of an inferior sort—those 4,500,000 Magyars and Germans torn from Hungary—will they ever be reconciled to denationalization implying economic losses and cultural retrogression? Can the conscience of humanity tolerate such a downfall of millions? Anyhow, it is certain that those new constructions, with no vital principle in them, will be distracted by the permanence of a most violent, because most legitimate, irredentism and that through them eastern and central Europe will know no rest, till the equilibrium represented by old Hungary is restored."

"These facts answer the question how far the destruction of Hungary and the constructions planned on her ruins might promote the general welfare of mankind? It would confer on our part of Europe the following 'blessings':

"Racial discussions not assuaged but embittered; permanent unrest, implying danger of new wars.

"Economic difficulties enhanced;

thereby social dangers aggravated.

"Cultural retrogression in government, learning, general standard of education.

"But how does liberty fare in the proposed peace treaty? In its terms millions of men would be driven from one allegiance to another, without being consulted as to their wishes. In the case of nearly half of them, of Magyars and Germans who should become Czech-Slovak, Rumanian or Jugo-Slav subjects, you may confidently assert that it would be done against their will, that it means moral torture to them. But even the Slavs and Rumanians who would be transplanted to states racially more homogeneous, can simply be 'supposed' to long for such change and there are many symptoms indicative of the reverse, chiefly among the Slovaks, Ruthenians and the Roman-Catholic Jugo-Slavs.

"There is only one way to settle that question with a result that can no more be challenged: It is the plebiscite. And the plebiscite is what Hungary asks for and insists on. In every region claimed by our neighbors, so do we say, let the people decide; we unconditionally submit to its decision; we do not want a single soul to remain with us but by an act of free will. We have been charged with oppression of the non-Magyar nationalities; well, instead of going into argument we propose to make those same people whom we are alleged to oppress, judge of our case. If we have really been oppressors, they will gladly seize upon this occasion to break away from us; but if they stick to the old country, then the charge of oppression is belied by those who know best. We accept this crucial test, we are anxious that it should be applied; if our opponents shrink from it, judgment goes against them by default. The good faith of both parties is then put into such clear light that in fairness the decision must be considered as ended.

"The plebiscite offers the only solution which combines justice with expediency. It would ensure the tranquillity of Europe, since everybody would be where he desires. On the liberty of nations on their right of self-determination rests our whole case. Our principle is in any case fore-ordained to prevail after a passing hour of darkness and we feel proud of having thrown in our lot with whatever is most sacred to humanity."

ATTITUDE OF THE PROHIBITION PARTY

CHICAGO, March 25.—Whether the prohibition party will nominate a candidate for the presidency and take an active part in the coming presidential campaign depends upon the attitude of the major parties toward the strict enforcement of prohibition, says Virgil G. Hinchaw, of this city, chairman of the party.

There has been considerable speculation among political observers as to whether the prohibition party would or would not continue its political activity now that prohibition has become a constitutional enactment. Questions have been asked whether the prohibition party leaders would feel that the party's object had been attained and the time at hand when prohibitionists might return to or become affiliated with one or the other of the major parties.

Chairman Hinchaw believes the battle is not over; that the fight for enforcement of prohibition is still to be won.

"Our organization," he declares, "will continue as long as the alcoholic serpent continues to wiggle its tail." Concerning the party's attitude in the presidential campaign, Mr. Hinchaw said its policies to be enunciated in its national convention at Lincoln, Neb., July 12, would depend entirely upon the action taken at the conventions of the major parties.

"If the major parties fail to come out unequivocally for strict enforcement of existing dry laws we will certainly run a prohibition candidate for president," said Mr. Hinchaw.

"Of course, it is up to the convention whether we will or will not run one anyway. But if the major parties fail to enforce not only the 18th amendment but existing prohibition laws as well, I believe there will be break-ups that will bring many of their voters and their big men to our side."

As to the party's probable action concerning lesser candidates, it is said that it "will seek the election of representatives in congress, governors, members of legislatures and others who are charged with the enforcement of the dry law."

Ernest H. Cherrington, of Westerville, O., declared that the Anti-Saloon league, of which he is secretary, will work to defeat candidates who are avowedly opposed to prohibition enforcement.

DISORGANIZED MEANS OF COMMUNICATION IN VIENNA DESCRIBED

VIENNA, Mar. 25.—Americans who may sometimes be dissatisfied with the telephone, telegraph or postal service in America should come here if they want to see a really disorganized means of communication.

So demoralized is the telephone service of Vienna that a great mass meeting of business men has been held and has demanded that this service be taken from the government bureaucracy and turned over to private control.

It is almost impossible to get central and once secured the line is usually cut after less than one minute's conversation. The telephone employees claim they are overworked, undernourished and the whole equipment run down. The minister of communications admitted to the mass meeting that the telephone and post and telegraph systems generally had failed and that the postoffice had paid more than 15,000,000 crowns last year for stolen packages. Armed guards are now placed on all mail transport.

The worst factor in the situation is declared to be inability of officials to enforce discipline under the present government where various councils of workmen and soldiers operate to make the employees lax and independent.

One man who attempted to telephone from a postal sub-station was told by the attendant the other day to "go to a public automatic station, and don't worry me."

LOVE LETTERS of the CZARINA

Written during the War Years preceding the fall of the Czar's Throne and now given to the public for the first time.

This grand-daughter of Queen Victoria had no fear of handling the fate and future of Russia. Her orders to the Czar to make and unmake ministers, generals and governments, though veiled in the language of affection, are as decisive as the commands of an officer to his men.

In fiction or fact there has never been a story quite like this.

Writing to her husband at his Main Headquarters this imperious Queen writes without reserve or caution to her husband and Emperor.

These are genuine letters, not fiction, and were found in government archives.

At times, the Czarina appears as absolute ruler of Russia—and behind every act of the Czarina stands the shadow of Rasputin whom she completely trusted and believed—as in a Saint. The last letter was written when Rasputin was assassinated.

Hardly a letter fails to mention that menacing, uncouth, sinister, peasant figure, Rasputin. No earlier records of Rasputin have disclosed, as do these letters, his complete domination of the mind of the Czarina and, through her, of the Czar.

WOULD ALLOW PROBE OF ANY STOCK SALES

BOSTON, March 26.—A bill to permit the attorney general of the state to investigate in the interests of the public any matter relating to the issuance, transfer, sale, purchase or other dealings in shares or other securities was offered in the Massachusetts house of representatives yesterday afternoon by Representative B. Loring Young of Weston. The bill was drafted by Atty. Gen. J. Weston Allen.

Under the bill's provisions the attorney general may summon witnesses and secure the production of books and papers whenever he believes "there is cause to investigate any matter relating to the advertising or offering for sale of such securities, etc." or when there is cause to believe "that an unlawful conspiracy has been entered into affecting any of the aforesaid matters."

The attorney general is authorized by the bill to institute criminal proceedings when it appears from the investigation that there has been a violation of the law.

An emergency preamble has been attached in order that if the law is passed it may become operative at once.

The bill reads as follows:

"Section 1.—Whenever it appears to the attorney general that, in the interest of the public, there is cause to investigate any matter relating to the issuance, transfer, sale, purchase or other dealings in shares or other securities of corporation, voluntary trusts or associations, or dealings in foreign bonds or exchange, if it appears to the attorney general that such securities have been or are being offered for sale in this commonwealth, or whenever it appears to the attorney general that, in the interests of the public, there is cause to investigate any matter relating to the advertising or offering for sale of such securities or foreign bonds or exchange, or whenever it appears to the attorney general that there is cause to believe that an unlawful conspiracy has been entered into affecting any of the aforesaid matters, the attorney gen-

Man Alleges He Was Blinded by "Whiskey"

NEW YORK, March 26.—Alleging that he was partly blinded and otherwise injured by a liquor sold by the defendant as whiskey, "wholesome and drinkable," but which contained wood alcohol, Max Rein, a Jeweller of No. 3305 Third avenue, Brooklyn, filed suit yesterday against Israel Turitzky of No. 77 Monroe street, Manhattan, to recover $100,000 damages.

It is alleged the supposed whiskey was bought last November. After drinking some of it, the complainant charges, he became ill and lost the sight of his right eye, while the sight of his left eye also became seriously impaired, and he suffered other ailments which may be permanent.

Samuel Liebowitz of No. 50 Court street, Brooklyn, attorney for Rein, stated that the liquor was bought from Turitzky—four gallons at $13 a gallon—by Herman Senter of No. 335 Hewitt place, the Bronx, whose daughter Rein was to marry. After the liquor was bought, the lawyer said, it was turned over to Rein to be used at a party he was to give to celebrate his engagement. Before the party Rein drank two or three glasses of the liquor, with the result alleged in the suit, the lawyer said.

Liebowitz declared that, owing to ill health from drinking the beverage, Rein was unable to marry.

The time in which Turitzky may file an answer has not yet expired.

It is said that at 60 years of age a woman's chance of marrying is one-tenth of 1 per cent., or one chance in 1000.

MOTORMAN IS FOUND GUILTY

BOSTON, March 26.—Motorman Jas. J. O'Neill, who last week was formerly tried by the police commissioner for using abusive language to police officers, was yesterday punished by a four-day suspension of his Elevated license, beginning March 31. The text of the commissioner's finding is:

"In the matter of James J. O'Neill, motorman, who was given a hearing on March 13 and 20, 1920, for violation of the condition of his license as motorman of the Boston Elevated Railway company, as set down in rule 54 of the rules and regulations of this department, you will note that I have found the said O'Neill guilty. I hereby suspend the motorman's license of said O'Neill for a period of four days, beginning March 31, 1920. You will cause proper notice of such suspension to be issued to the said O'Neill and to the Boston Elevated Railway company."

5 FIREMEN OVERCOME

Investigation to Determine if Fire in Shoe Plant Due to Labor Troubles

NEW YORK, March 26.—The factory of the Adler Shoe Co. in Brooklyn was damaged early this morning by a fire believed to have been of incendiary origin. An investigation to determine whether the blaze may have been the result of recent labor troubles at the factory has been started.

Five firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting the flames. The loss was estimated at $150,000, and more than 300 employees were temporarily out of work because of the fire.

NAPOLEON HAD THE RIGHT DOPE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Napoleon's statement that every corporal carrier in his knapsack the baton of a marshal, has been practically exemplified in Serg. Maj. Weber, leader of the Spartacist forces in the Ruhr valley, estimated to number 120,000 men.

During the war Weber, according to reports received here, was a non-commissioned officer attached to General Ludendorff's staff at German general headquarters. When not engaged in running errands, Weber, the reports state, listened to the discussions of military strategy by the headquarters' officers. On one occasion, Weber is said in these reports to have overheard General Ludendorff quote Napoleon's famous dictum, and today the former non-commissioned officer carries the "baton" of the German red army.

BRINGING THEIR RELATIVES HERE

The near east relief committee of Lowell is directing the details in connection with the emigration to this country of many relatives of Armenians and Syrians of this city. The foreigners of this city have sought information in regard to their relatives at the different social service bureaus in the city.

Miss Breed of the Social Service League says that many of the foreigners have considerable money laid aside to defray the expenses of the voyage of their relatives and friends from their native lands. The cost of bringing a child from Armenia or Syria is $250 and when some of the foreigners desire to bring over all their family they must have quite a large sum saved up to pay for the trip at this rate. The several bureaus where information is sought report that these foreigners are in good financial condition and that they do not care how much it may cost as long as their mothers, or fathers, brothers, sisters, relatives or all their family reach this country in safety.

All the Armenians and Syrians who

AMERICA'S GIFT TO STATUE FUND

Throughout Middlesex county the committees in charge of the fund for America's gift to France report that their quotas are already assured and that great spirit is displayed by the public. The Lowell committee has deposited in a local bank thus far $150.35 so that the sum of $125,000 remains to be collected by Saturday night.

The Middlesex county committee reported last night that the county had on hand thus far, $258. Provided that the people continue to come forward and display interest similar to that of the past few days the county quota of $1000 will be raised without question. The entire matter is one of volunteer offering and not a campaign for money. What is asked is that the people show appreciation for France's gift to America, the Statue of Liberty, by contributing a sum, no matter how small, towards the total of $250,000, which is to be collected from the nation.

An excellent response has come from high school pupils, Miss Adelaide Baker of the French department reporting that her pupils have already contributed nearly $40. The Merrimack Mfg. Co. and the Appleton company have each sent in $10 representing the penny subscriptions of the 1000 employees at each concern.

During all this week committees are accepting contributions throughout the country to provide $250,000 for erecting a statue by Frederic MacMonnies, on the Marne. The statue will represent America's tribute to the heroism of the French armies under Joffre and Foch and will be placed in the village of Meaux on the River Marne, where Von Kluck's horde was stopped, almost within sight of Paris. The fund necessary for the memorial might easily be raised among a few of the country's wealthiest citizens, but that would defeat its purpose. The MacMonnies statue is planned as "America's Gift to France," and it will not be America's gift unless rich and poor, old and young, have had an opportunity of giving their mite toward the fund. Any of the banks in the city are receiving subscriptions for the statue in any amount from one cent upwards.

Strike Ties Up Rio Janeiro

RIO JANEIRO, March 26.—Graver aspects have been assumed by the strike which has virtually paralyzed traffic in this city. Firemen on all Brazilian steamships walked out today in sympathy with the idle teamsters and truck drivers, and it was announced the carpenters, woodworkers, waiters and restaurant employees, ship mechanics and municipal laborers had decided to join in the movement.

2,000,000 Polish Refugees Missing

WARSAW, March 26.—More than 2000 Poles repatriated from southern Russia by the American Red Cross, have arrived here this week and preparations are being made to receive five thousand each week until mid-summer. Two million Polish refugees are still missing from this country, Red Cross officials say in spite of the large numbers returning. Labor conditions which were deplorable during the past winter are expected to improve soon.

Chaotic Conditions in Southern Germany

GENEVA, March 26.—Towns along the Swiss-German frontier are calm, but railroad and telegraph conditions are chaotic and food is growing scarcer in southern Germany. Many wealthy German families after much trouble in securing passports are crossing the border to get good meals. They are forced to return to Germany within 24 hours, however, and, because of the exchange rate, must pay high prices for food secured in this country.

PIANOFORTE RECITAL

William C. Heller, organist at St. Anne's church and recognized as a pianist of exceptional capabilities, gave a pianoforte recital in Colonial hall late evening before a large audience, many of whom have watched his rapid progress with friendly interest.

He essayed a program of wide variation, selecting the works of such old masters as Schubert, Chopin, Bach and Liszt, and thus imposing upon himself a considerable task. That he was fully capable of meeting the requirements of such a program was clearly shown throughout the recital. He brought out every tonal quality of his instrument and never failed to bring out a beautiful melody, well sustained and faultless in its interpretation of the composer's thought.

The program ran as follows:

Rogers Hall School Drive

as a dormitory for some of the school girls, will be moved, according to present plans, farther back on the land, and in its place will be erected a building similar in construction to the gymnasium. It will contain a large recitation room, library, class rooms, well equipped laboratories, art studio, music studio, sound proof practice rooms, room for typewriting and stenography, and a domestic science laboratory. The plans as submitted by Ralph Adams Cram, a Boston architect, call also for the erection of a colonial colonnade connecting the proposed new building with the gymnasium and the present large building.

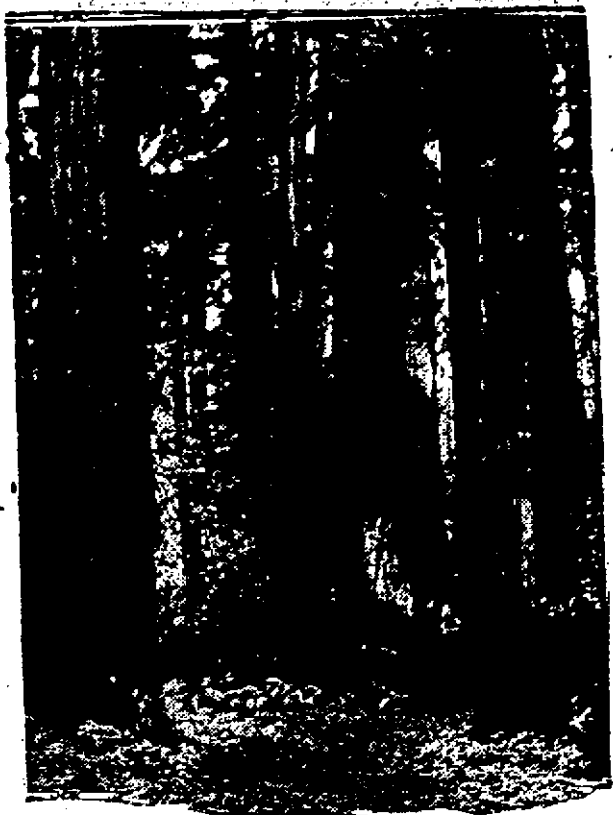

If the complete plan be carried out the school will be laid out in semi-circular style with the colonnade forming a very quaint centre for the grounds. The trustees state that if the plan to raise a fund of $100,000 among those interested in the school is too ambitious, the sum of $25,000 at least ought to be raised immediately. This sum would be loaned to the trustees in order that they might procure temporary quarters to be used as a recitation building, and would be repaid with interest within five years. The trustees point out that the operating expenses of schools have increased $4 per cent. in the last four years, that Rogers Hall has increased its fees for house pupils only 25 per cent., that a deficit has been avoided by an increase in numbers, and that the school has not been enlarged. They say that they need a larger school room, more class rooms, a room exclusively devoted to art, practice rooms for music students, and better equipped laboratories as well as a larger dining room, more bed rooms, an infirmary and more bath rooms. The proposed new academic building will take care of the academic needs and the space salvaged in the house and hall can be utilized in providing for the others. An addition to the main house is also contemplated. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's church, and president of the board of trustees stated that the undertaking will be started as soon as the necessary funds are on hand, and that the appeal being made by the Alumnae among former students is most heartily endorsed. Present and former students of Rogers Hall represent every state in the Union, but two. There are hundreds of young women throughout the country who have attended Rogers hall and a large percentage of them are graduates. At the present time, besides those who have attended the school without graduating, there are 94 graduates in this city. The alumnae has been set apart in committees which will see that all those who have any interest in the school, receive personal letters and information regarding the building proposition. All the members of the fund committee are Lowell people except the director, Miss Florence Harrison, a member of the faculty and a resident of Minneapolis. Those on the committee are: Miss Julia Stevens, 1 Park street; Mrs. Olive Hockmeyer, 15 Astor street; Miss Harriet Coburn, 273 Andover street; Miss Leslie Hyman, 28 Nesmith street; Mrs. Edwin Hyman, 431 Westford street; Miss Mary Holden, 26 Talbot street; Mrs. Matthew Mahoney, 23 Holyrood avenue; Miss Helen Hill, teacher in the school, 10 Astor street; and Miss Sarah Hobson, Astor street, treasurer. These

Ex-Kaiser's Gold Behind Kapp Plot

GENEVA, March 26.—Former Emperor William of Germany withdrew deposits amounting to 250,000 Swiss francs from a Zurich bank early in March, it is learned here, and the money is said to have been sent to Berlin just before the attempted reactionary revolt led by Dr. Wolfgang Kapp and General Luetwitz. The German mark is now quoted at 10 centimes and the sum withdrawn from the bank would represent quite a snug fortune in Germany. The preacher again complimented the men on their large numbers. At the masses this morning many received communion. Tonight Fr. Doherty will take as his subject, "The General Judgment." There will be no sermon tomorrow night, but Holy Hour services will be held at 7.30 o'clock. On Sunday evening at 8.30 o'clock the retreat will be brought to a close with impressive services.

Stand of giant Redwoods in Humboldt County, California. Size of trees indicated by figure of man.

FORM LEAGUE TO SAVE TEMPLES OF GOD

N.E.A. Staff Special

BERKELEY, Cal., March 26. — Will California's giant Redwood trees, contemporaries of Rameses and the Caesars fall victim, like the Indian and the buffalo to the ruthlessness of the white invader?

Unless the nation is aroused these tall monitors, the oldest living things in the world, will soon be converted into private dollars, for already the high cost of lumber is bringing about an alarming invasion into "God's First Temples" by axe, rotary saw and donkey engine.

Nature lovers and conservationists have sounded the alarm through California and Oregon and have organized a "Save the Redwoods League" with headquarters here and with former secretary of Interior Franklin K. Lane as president and William Kent, Stephen Mather and others active supporters. They are seeking federal aid in having the Humboldt county forests nationalized, and with what private funds have been donated are buying small forest tracts along the highway to save them from the lumberman's axe.

Northern California and southern

Oregon form the last stand of these glorious monarchs, known to the scientific world as Sequoia sempervirens. Almost ageless, many of them have stood since the days when history was young. The oldest spent their youth in tertiary times and shed their leafy benevolence while man and beast were fighting with club and fang. Even the youngest have stood patiently since the days when civilization slowly encroached, fated perhaps at last to be converted into shingles and rafters for modern man.

The Redwood has proven the "Attest of the confifers" because it has survived many of its nitchladen cousins in withstanding forest fires which sear, but do not destroy this timber.

Because of their bulk these trees thus far have largely escaped the lumberman's craft, but now it is being found profitable to cut them, so high has the cost of lumber soared.

Big plans are under way to mill these forests and only the concerted protests and action of nature-lovers can save them for coming generations.

WOOL AUCTION SALES

SHELLS FALL IN WESEL

15 Drop in Civilian Part,
Causing Heavy Damage
and Killing Three Persons

WESEL, Rhinisch Prussia, March 25, 5 p. m. (By Associated Press.)—Fifteen shells fell in the civilian part of Wesel today, considerably damaging a number of dwellings in the business quarter and resulted in the killing of a nurse and two children.

The virtual shutting off of Wesel from news of the outside world, little information of what is going on elsewhere reaching the city is adding to the tenor of the situation in the beleaguered town.

There was a flurry this afternoon, causing crowds to collect, when a squad of soldiers passed through one of the streets escorting three men, believed to be spies who had been taken prisoner. The men were compelled to hold their arms above their heads.

There is evidence of some dissatisfaction among the Reichswehr over the proclamation issued by Major General Kahlisch forbidding men who had been dismissed from the army to wear their uniforms. A number of such men, including three officers, who crossed the Rhine Monday night, have been interned by the Belgians.

The morale of the remaining troops is said to be good. Many veterans, wearing iron crosses, are frequently seen. Reserves on their way to the front lines this afternoon passed through the streets singing.

RUSSIAN REDS DIRECT GERMAN SPARTACANS

ROTTERDAM, March 26.—The Spartacan movement has been organized with co-operation of the Russian Reds and the Bolshevik offensive against Poland has been launched with the joint object that Trotsky, the Russian Bolshevik minister of war, would be at the gates of Berlin at the beginning of July, according to Munster despatch to the Courant. Russian red army officers, says the correspondent are directing the German Spartacans whose army is being rapidly organized and armed on the exact model of Trotsky's.

The revolution was planned originally for May 1, but the leaders believed that the Kapp movement gave them an opportunity to hasten their plans which included the capture of Munster and Wesel.

According to the Telegraaf, the Dutch government is taking steps to prevent red activity.

Took RED PILLS nine years ago.
Still well

I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women nine years ago, as I was then suffering from general weakness brought on by overwork. I was sick in bed and was beginning to get discouraged, as I was growing weaker every day. I had gas on the stomach, and that combined with sore back made me suffer terribly. I had consulted several physicians, who were unable to help me any, and so I then took RED PILLS, which relieved me altogether in a very short time. I am now perfectly well and happy.

—Mrs. EMILIA DESILET
77 Clinton Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

Extreme Weakness

RED PILLS have helped me of extreme weakness from which I had been suffering. My mother had recommended them to me, knowing through experience of their beneficial properties, and now that I have become familiar with the good results obtained through their use, they have been my favorite remedy for the past sixteen years.

—Mrs. DELIA LAVIGNE
547 Silver Street, Manchester East, N.H.

RED PILLS

Truly, RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women are the ideal medicine for weak and sick women who wish to keep up their strength, especially for mothers who have to bring up a family. I myself used them at different times during my life, and always with the most satisfactory results. They helped me at each confinement, and my children were all strong and healthy. Now when I see any of my friends who are weak and sickly, I cannot recommend them anything better than RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

—Mrs. EXILDA BIBEAU
302 Moody Street, Lowell, Mass.

A recent confinement had left me in such a weakened condition that several of my friends advised me to give RED PILLS a trial, stating that they were the surest remedy, and one which would be sure to give me prompt results. I had taken but a few boxes when I began to notice that I was getting stronger, and it was not long before I was well again and enjoying good health. Now, when the occasion arises, I am always anxious to recommend RED PILLS to Weak and Suffering Women.—Mrs. ETIENNE CHAMPAGNA
461 Rimmion Street, Manchester West, N.H.

RED PILLS are for Women only

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "FRANCO-AMERICAN CHEMICAL COMPANY LIMITED" is on every box.

United States should intervene in Mexico will be decided in Salem tonight when the Lowell high school debating team will meet the debating team of the Salem high school. The question is, "Resolved, that the United States should intervene in Mexico."

Mr. Sturtevant of the English department of the high school and Miss Mary Joyce, teacher of elocution, have been coaching the debaters for the past three or four weeks, and they have hopes of a very strongly contested debate. This is the return debate with Salem.

The debaters are Francis O'Donnell, James W. Flood, William J. McCann and as an alternate, Meyer Lipschitz. Mr. Sturtevant will accompany the team to Salem.

man registered as J. C. Cox, of Cincinnati. The frantic parents, overjoyed at the news of their boy's safety hurried to the hotel and took him home.

The boy disappeared Wednesday afternoon from in front of the Lexington postoffice where he had been seen in conversation with a man. Playmates said the Little boy had told them he was to be given a dollar to deliver a box of candy. Soon afterward, the father received a note stating that his son Paul was being held for ransom. Little intimated that the amount asked was $25,000. Last night, Little deposited a package containing the ransom money in a Main street garbage can. When he returned a half hour later the package had not been removed. Believing the kidnapper failed to show up for fear of being "double-crossed," Little pocketed the money and went home, intending today to seek other means of obtaining the boy.

At 7 o'clock this morning the key for the room in which the boy was found was turned in at the hotel desk. At 7:15 a. m., Mrs. Little, called to the telephone, was overjoyed to hear the voice of her missing son. Nothing has been seen of the "Mr. Cox" since he left the hotel at 7 o'clock.

Arrest Expected

Katherine Sartain, maid on the sixth floor of the hotel, said she had not been able to get into the room occupied by Cox for two days, or ever since.

Merrimack Rising Rapidly

to pieces on the rocks below and the river is clear as far as the eye can reach from the Pawtucket bridge. With the flashboards gone, the water dropped considerably in height on the dam even though the river rose rapidly throughout the night. Water was pouring over the dam this morning, four feet above the stone crest. In many places toward the boulevard side the water has almost a level flow and it is expected that all signs of the dam will disappear on that end by Sunday.

Great clouds of spray and mist were churned up by the water as it broke against the rocks and stone pillars of the bridge today, becoming so dense at times as to entirely shut out all view of the river. It is hoped that the storm boards on the bridge will be taken down before Sunday in order that the thousands of people who will journey to the falls may enjoy the majesty of the scene.

Although ice is coming down the river in large cakes, it is fair to presume that great quantities broken up in the stream to the north have not reached Lowell and the water will continue to rise over the week-end.

There is practically no ice coming down the Concord river, although it is three inches higher today than on the gauge at the Lawrence street dam at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Swollen brooks are emptying into the river and if the Merrimack continues to rise some back water will be forced up from the mouth of the Concord below the Massachusetts mills.

Howe street and the cellars of several buildings on the river bank are still flooded and today the stream had swollen to such an extent that the water has spread out over the foundations of the old tannery building at one side of the dam near Howe street and is tumbling over them in fantastic cataract form.

Many houses in Billerica are entirely surrounded by water, one in particular just beyond the Fordway bridge being marooned on a small island, with boats tied to the front door as the only means of transportation from the house to the road.

OXFORD AND CAMBRIDGE

Classic Collegiate Rowing
Race to be Revived Tomorrow
After Lapse of 6 Years

NEW YORK, March 26.—After a lapse of six years the classic collegiate rowing race between the Oxford and Cambridge universities will be revived tomorrow in England. This annual rowing event which was first decided in 1811 was won 39 times by the Oxford crew. The Cambridge crew finished in front in 31 races and once, on March 24, 1877, the result was a dead heat. On one other occasion neither crew secured a victory. This was on March 20, 1912, when both boats were swamped in the rough water and the race was declared void.

The last time these rival college crews met was in March, 1914, when Cambridge proved the victor. Then the world war interrupted all sporting events of any prominence in Great Britain so that this year it was decided to revive this event in which the British sporting public takes a very keen interest, not only because being lost and won on the results.

This year, however, American oarsmen and followers of rowing on this side of the Atlantic will be interested in the outcome of the English varsity rowing contest inasmuch as there is a probability that one or more American crews may meet either or both of the English collegiate crews during the English Henley regatta next July or the Olympic games regatta at Antwerp.

The course over which the Oxford-Cambridge race is rowed is on the Thames river between Putney and Mortlake, a distance of 4½ miles. Thousands of persons line the banks on either side of the river to watch the contest and everywhere one sees nothing but dark or light blue flags, streamers, ribbons and other decorations in the rival colors of the Oxonians and Cantabs.

President Spence of the Cambridge University Boat club thinks well of the chances of his crew against Oxford. In a recent interview, he said: "It must not be forgotten that we have had a year of rowing at Cambridge since the armistice, and it has been exceedingly useful. Still we are nothing like in the position we used to be in before the war when commencing practice for the race."

"There has been a tremendous gap. Nearly all the members of the crew have had to learn their rowing in a year, instead of the two or three years prospective members of the boat were able to give it. Still, this circumstance is an advantage as well as a disadvantage."

"We have no preconceptions to combat. The rowing will not be up to the best as before the war, but the crew will be better than many of the moderate ones. It will be a heavy one."

"Our style comes straight from Captain Bruce, who coached the winning crew of 1914, and we are as near to it as possible. We have not adopted any new methods of training, except that we are not so strict about food as in other days."

President E. A. Berrisford of the Oxford University Boat club, who had been difficultly coaching the "Dark Blues" for weeks before he was relieved by E. D. Horsfall, the experienced, also thinks well of his crew's ability to outrow the Cantabs. He, as well as the others interested in the coaching and training of the Oxford eight, are well satisfied with the work of the men and the progress they are making in their preparatory swims.

to say that the floor seats and balcony will be filled to overflowing, for both teams have their followings and the local color added will tend to augment the size of the crowd.

The teams will battle not only for the championship and a silver cup donated by Frank Ricard, but also for the entire gate receipts and a side bet of $100. It will be a series well worth winning from more than one standpoint and the fur is sure to fly. The game Monday night will start at 8:30 o'clock.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT

Inter-Party Deliberations
Looking to Reorganization
Fruitless

BERLIN, March 25.—Inter-party deliberations looking to the reorganization of the German government had been fruitless up until 7 o'clock this evening. Unexpected attacks on Vice Premier Schiffer and increased dissension in the wing of the socialist party led by Philipp Scheidemann, former chancellor, featured the debate.

Dr. Schiffer was sharply criticized by the right socialists for alleged duplicity in his negotiations with Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, leader of the revolt of March 13, and it was claimed he had issued a premature and unauthorized statement announcing the end of the general strike. The latter action, it was said, had been taken without consulting with officials of the labor federation.

Democratic party leaders rushed to the defense of Dr. Schiffer, declaring he had acted as a representative of the government and that he was not bound by party politics.

A wide gap developed between the Berlin contingent of the right socialists and the party's representatives who had supported Gustav Noske, former minister of defense, at Stuttgart. The former faction is made up of followers of Dr. Scheidemann, who hold the independent socialists should be humiliated as they were obliged to respect the agreement effected with the federation of trade unions. The left wing of the right socialists is openly rebelling against the attitude of the party's representatives in the government who are accused of attempting to make reservations to the terms under which the strike was ended.

Berlin party leaders declare the men from Stuttgart have a too rosy idea of the labor situation in this city and appeal for the acceptance of the terms laid down by Herr Legien, which have been accepted by the independent socialists.

The right socialists are said to be lukewarm in their approval of Herr Gessler as minister of defense, and to Captain Fisher Cuno, who is slated as successor of Mathias Erzberger, minister of finance, Captain Cuno is a member of the left wing of the clerical party.

MISS TENNEY HONORED

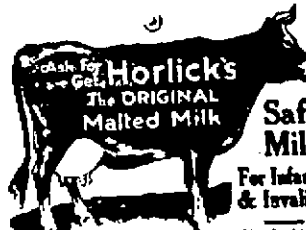

A most enjoyable surprise party in honor of Miss Margaret Tenney, who is soon to become the bride of a local young man, was staged in Lincoln hall last evening by her co-workers of the Lowell Telephone exchange. Miss Tenney was presented many valuable gifts by friends, all of whom joined in wishing her health, wealth and happiness. Following the presentation a banquet was served, after which prizes for the best costumes worn by the young women present were awarded. First prize went to Miss Alice Roughan in a "Charlie Chaplin" costume; second, Miss Ruth Flint, who appeared as "Simple Simon," and third prize, Miss Margaret Fitzpatrick as "Cia Hopkins." Miss Helen Moran, president of the local telephone operators' union, had general charge of arrangements.

The dramatic re-union of Deputy Sheriff John Burke and his son Willie whom he captured as "Red" Christensen, "Murder-Bend," to learn that it was the boy he left with the lad's mother 14 years ago.

BATTLES TO FREE BOY HE VOWED TO HANG

N.E.A. Staff Special

SAN MATEO, Cal., March 26.—John Burke, deputy sheriff of San Mateo county, for a year trailed "Red" Christensen up and down California as relentlessly as Javert hounded Jean Valjean.

He had landed William Hanle for killing and robbing Albert Reiding, a jitney man, and had assisted in giving him life imprisonment. But Hanle's partner "Red" was missing. It was a "foul murder" and "Red" was a "head," said Burke who swore he'd make him swing.

Then, just as the law's net was closing on "Red," Burke's divorced wife's brother came to him and asked:

Close the net.

"Do you know who this 'red' Christensen is?"

"Sure I do," boasted Burke. He's the yegg who helped slug Reiding—a foul murder. I'll have him dead to rights in three days."

"Well," said the brother-in-law, "he's your son. His mother sent me to tell you."

At first Burke was as stunned as Deiding was by the gas pipe. Then duty asserted itself. "If he's guilty," said Burke, "he'll swing."

Duty Versus Love

"Red" was arrested. Then his father who had not seen him since the lad was five years old, looked into the freckled face and stroked the red head of an honest-looking, awkward youth of 19 and called him Willie. The miracle of love was performed again.

"Guilty? A hang?" Burke now says. "Say, look at that kid and judge for yourself. He had no more to do with that murder than I did. He's just the kind of a kid I hoped the baby would grow into."

Defends His "Baby"

Burke, the implacable trailer of the "head," is now defending Willie, his son and will, he says, prove him innocent. He has secured corroboration from Hanle to the boy's story that he was only riding in the machine and had no part in the crime.

Burke still holds his job of man hunter and will trail other "heads." Some will turn out to be red headed lads with honest faces, other boys caught in circumstantial traps. Will Burke sneer at their stories and bully them with his belief in their guilt, or will he remember how near he came to sending his son to the gallows?

"Tiz" Gladdens Sore, Tired Feet

No Puffed-up, Burning, Tender, Aching Feet—No Corns or Callouses

"Tiz" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters, bunions and chilblains.

"Tiz" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "Tiz" brings restful foot comfort. "Tiz" is magical, grand, wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Ah! how comfortable, how happy you feel. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

Get a box of "Tiz" now from your druggist or department store. End foot torture forever—wear smaller shoes, keep your feet fresh, sweet and happy. Just think! A whole year's foot comfort for a few cents.—Adv.

The original woman "Bull Moose," 3000 Spokane women are battling down the high cost of living here with a consumers' league, a reverse-English boycott, a weekly bulletin of prices and a slogan.

The league is supported by dues of 25 cents a month from each member.

Instead of boycotting merchants who charge too much, the women seek out those who cut prices, boost them in the weekly bulletin, which is mailed to all members and enable the cut-raters to sell large volumes at low profits.

The slogan—which is considerably worrying some local stores—is "No thank you—it costs too much."

The league is headed by Dean William C. Hicks, of the Episcopal church here. The organizer and guiding spirit is Mrs. Sarah Flannigan, who attained fame some years ago as the only woman delegate to the original bull moose convention in Chicago.

A dozen Spokane drygoods and grocery firms have rushed into print recently to assure the league that they're with 'em. But the women aren't taking anyone's word for it. If a price seems too high the slogan is, gently, wafted across the counter—and the next issue of the bulletin carries the word along.

DOUBLE MURDER IN N. Y.

Doctor and "Patient" Found Dead in Lodging House—

Third Man Missing

NEW YORK, March 26.—Detectives of the homicide bureau today were searching for a "third man" in the belief that his capture would clear up the mystery in the double murder of Dr. Vincent J. Campisi, a wealthy young Brooklyn physician and an unidentified "patient" whose bodies were found in a disordered lodging house room in Brooklyn, last night.

Dr. Campisi was summoned to visit the patient last night by a middle aged man who accompanied him to the lodging house. An hour later Dr. Campisi's body, terribly slashed, was found on the floor of the patient's room and the latter was dead in his bed with the imprint of human fingers on the throat. The third man had disappeared.

One theory advanced was that the patient had been assaulted earlier by the missing man, and that Dr. Campisi was murdered by the same man after the doctor, summoned to give medical aid, had pronounced the patient dead and had threatened to notify the police.

DON'T WASTE WASTE

Sec. Alexander Urges Housewives to Utilize Paper, Rubbers, Metals, Etc.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—"Don't waste waste," Secretary of Commerce Alexander today urged upon the American housewife, calling attention to the possibility of utilizing much of the refuse which will be disclosed by the spring housecleaning. At least $450,000,000 worth of waste paper, rubber, metals and other articles sent to the rubbish heap each year, can be reclaimed, the secretary said.

"The lessons learned during the war should not be forgotten," Mr. Alexander said. "It is very essential that every means of offsetting the high cost of living be found. Turn waste back into the channels of commerce by selling odds and ends to the junk dealers who will start them back into useful trades."

SEEK BONUS RANGING FROM $1000 TO $2500

MONTREAL, March 26.—Canadian ex-service men want a bonus from the government ranging from a minimum of $1000 to a maximum of $2500, according to resolutions adopted last night at the annual convention of the Great War Veterans' association of Canada.

The resolutions call upon parliament to take immediate action because of the serious difficulties confronting the soldiers in their efforts to re-establish themselves. The soldiers also ask that dependents or beneficiaries of men killed receive a lump sum equal to the amount the soldier would have received up to the signing of the armistice.

Dominion Secretary-Treasurer MacNell informed the delegates that the proposed bonus would cost the government $215,000,000. He said the present government had declared itself against an indiscriminate cash bonus.

In olden times rhinoceros horns were employed for drinking cups by royal personages, the notion being that poison put into them would show itself by bubbling.

RIGHT TO SEARCH SUIT CASE FOR LIQUOR

NEW YORK, March 26.—The peril of carrying one's liquor about in over-night bags or suitcases, has been enhanced in Brooklyn by a ruling of United States Commissioner McGoldrick that such containers may be searched on sight by official enforcers of the "dry" act.

Overruling contentions of attorneys that their client's right had been violated by search of his suitcase, Commissioner McGoldrick held Robert Walsh, of Kings Park, for action by the federal grand jury.

"I believe that when an officer suspects a person is carrying liquor in a package or bag that he has the right to search the package or bag, and does not need a search warrant to do it,"

adopted by the municipal council in July, 1918, provides that no vehicle shall be allowed to stand in Paige street from Bridge to John street between 8.30 a. m. and 7 p. m. except vehicles of the fire and police departments and ambulances. Accordingly, Mr. Pappas is not entitled to keep his machine in front of his office for more than 20 minutes at a time between the hours mentioned.

Redmond Welch, Esq., Superintendent of Police, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: In answer to the query contained in your communication of the 24th, I would refer you to the ordinance entitled "Ordinance Regulating Vehicular Traffic on Ways in the City of Lowell," and particularly to section 1 of the same, said ordinance having been ordained on the 24 day of July, 1919.

Said section 1 provides among others, that no vehicle shall stop or stand more than 20 minutes on the following street areas, except for the period of time necessary, if it exceeds 20 minutes, for loading or unloading of merchandise: Paige street, from its intersection with Bridge street to its intersection with John street.

Under the provisions of said ordinance it is clear that no vehicle shall be allowed to stand on Paige street within the limits described between the hours of 8.30 a. m. to 7 p. m., except on Sundays and holidays, and on Saturdays from 8.30 to 9 p. m. other than the period of time stated in said section 1. This prohibition is absolute, and contains no exceptions other than to the vehicles of the fire and police departments and to the ambulances there in the performance of duty.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM D. REGAN,
City Solicitor.

Regulars Hold Wesel

workers will undertake to maintain public order in the district.

Reds Take Several Villages

LONDON, March 26.—Workers' forces entrenched along the Lippe river, south and southeast of the city of Wesel, threaten, if they fail to capture Wesel, to destroy all factories and mines in western Germany, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., filed in Berlin this morning. The Reds have established great headquarters similar to that of old German army and are issuing official statements.

In last night's communique, the Reds claimed to have captured several villages and to have taken more than 200 prisoners during the day. They say the government troops in western Germany are not taking any action, pending orders from Berlin.

Treatment of men arrested on accusations of complicity in the revolutionary movement by military authorities at Halle has greatly excited German workers, rendering the situation more critical, it is reported.

Wesel Still Holds Out

COBLENZ, March 26.—(By Associated Press)—It was stated from German official sources tonight that Wesel, the government fortress northwest of the Ruhr region, besieged by a workers' army, was still in the hands of the government troops at 9 o'clock, although the fighting was heavy.

The government, officials declared, had definitely decided not to negotiate with the revolutionaries in the Ruhr region because of their violation of the armistice agreement Tuesday night and Wednesday. A counter attack by the Reichswehr was expected momentarily. It was said, the situation of the troops in Wesel remained critical meanwhile.

In Berlin it was announced the situation was still unsettled.

To March On Berlin

BERLIN, March 26.—The majority socialist organ Vorwaerts charges that Pomerania and the northern Uckermark, northwest of Stettin, are under the domination of the Iron division (Baltic troops) and the League of Pomeranian land owners, who have mobilized the citizens' guard and used it for their own purposes. In Prenzlau, southwest of Stettin, they procured the murder of the local executive of the Independent socialists, the newspaper declares.

According to statement made by its officers, the Vorwaerts asserts, the Iron division intends to march on Berlin.

The peasants of the eastern district of Prignitz, northwestern Brandenburg have been equipped with machine guns, according to other advices to Vorwaerts, while reports of similar terrorism come from other parts of Brandenburg.

Machine Guns Used in Battle

AMSTERDAM, March 25.—Fighting at Wesel began yesterday morning when government troops sent to secure arms the communists had agreed to surrender were fired upon with machine guns, says a Muenster despatch to the Telegraph. On Wednesday night the commander of the troops in Wesel demanded that the Reds withdraw to a line about two miles south of the Lippe river and surrender arms stored at Poddenburg. This was agreed to, it is said, but fighting developed when the communists were asked to turn over the arms.

When communist forces occupied Dolmen, a town 25 miles east of Wesel, government troops holding the place retired without fighting. It is said.

Reds in Retreat

BUDERICH, Rhenish Prussia, March 25 (By Associated Press).—Ebert government troops still held Wesel, across the Rhine north of this city, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Fighting, which had been in progress during the day, was seemingly dying away at that hour and, although Wesel was under fire from artillery in the hands of the workers' army the troops had succeeded in repelling all infantry attacks.

Today's battle opened during the forenoon when government troops attacked the workers' forces which had advanced to within a few hundred yards of the Wesel bridgehead. Moving rapidly to the onslaught, the regulars drove the Reds south across the Lippe river and southeast out of Lippe Schloss. In the meantime, government artillery opened fire upon the workers' headquarters at Lipperdorf and partially destroyed them. Working southward from Lippe Schloss and eastward from Lipperdorf, the regulars began a double flank attack which swept the Reds back, they being forced to retreat under heavy artillery and machine gun fire. An armored train pushed along toward the bridge across the Lippe river, about three and a half miles from Wesel and kept up a steady fire on the workers.

Many shells fired by the workers' artillery flew wild during this struggle.

Reinforcements Pour In

AMSTERDAM, March 26.—Government troops at Wesel have been reinforced, according to reports from the Dutch frontier.

Coal trains to Holland from the Ruhr district were operating normally today, although the crowds were sometimes threatened by Spartacists. The Dutch government, which relies upon volunteer detachments especially recruited, will not call on conscripts. In the event of any trouble with the soviet adherents, this country will combat the movement with local detachments. These volunteers have been mobilized on the frontier at Rosheer-enberg.

Government forces at Wesel are strongly entrenched north of the Lippe river and are being constantly reinforced by armed farmers and bourgeois from towns nearby, the frontier correspondent of the Telegraph says. The Red army's trenches are but little over a half mile from those occupied by the defenders of Wesel and are manned by about 6000 men. The Red forces also are increasing, it is said. Casualties in the ranks of the Communists in the fighting up till last night, have been quite light, being only about 60 dead and 100 wounded.

Southwest of the scene of the fighting are Belgian forces which have been withdrawn to the left bank of the Rhine from the bridge head formerly occupied on the right bank. In addition to the Belgians, French troops equipped with artillery are arriving. Soldiers in the Communist army receive 30 marks per day with rations.

PLAYS LLOYD GEORGE IN FRENCH CHAMBER

PARIS, March 26.—A bitter attack upon Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain was delivered in the chamber of deputies this afternoon by Jean Louis Barthou, former premier.

M. Barthou declared that the British premier was in agreement with the allies in sending stern notes to Germany, but they bore the signatures of Clemenceau or Millerand, while the concessions were allowed Germany when the notes were signed by Mr. Lloyd George. Thus France is left alone facing Germany as the country toward which Germany must prepare her revenge, he said.

"France," he declared, "cannot remain in a position of inferiority toward the other free nations. She has nothing to hide of her policies, projects or aims. France is not a militaristic nation. There is no military dictatorship in France. She desires no conquests, but she asks restitution."

M. Barthou's declaration that France was not a militaristic nation was taken as a reply to the recent letter of President Wilson to Senator Hitchcock. "I have confidence," M. Barthou continued, "that the United States will finally ratify the peace treaty which is rejected today. The United States one day will take its place in the League of Nations, but meanwhile the treaty, which guarantees England, the United States and France, is a dead letter. England has obtained its security by destruction of the German fleet, but France stands alone."

M. Barthou advocates the resumption of relations with Russia, and said Italy's stand along this line was being supported by Great Britain.

"France is still strong enough to defend her interests," he added, "if they agree, and without them, if they withdraw." M. Barthou insisted upon strict application of the peace treaty and the pursuance of a hands-off policy toward Germany as far as a choice of a government for herself was concerned.

Deputies and spectators alike were puzzled as to M. Barthou's motives. The question was raised whether it might not have been a maneuver of evolution toward the parties of the Left, with the assistance of which M. Barthou, according to reports, hopes to govern the country in the near future.

While M. Barthou was attacking Great Britain someone on the extreme right shouted:

"You speak like Caillaux." (Former Premier Caillaux is on trial before the high court charged with treason.)

The consensus of opinion was that M. Barthou's attack against an allied government was ill-timed, many deputies declaring after the sitting of the chamber that his speech would only tend to complicate a situation already grave. Charles Bernard, deputy for Paris, said: "He has scuttled his own ministry before forming it."

STORE KEEPERS

TAKE WARNING!

Lowell storekeepers are requested by the police to keep a weather eye open for a trio of young men still in their teens who have succeeded in rifling the cash registers of several variety stores in the outskirts of the city during the past few days.

The method used by the trio, according to the police, is for all three to enter a store apparently intent on making some purchases. One of the boys asks the proprietor for an article to get which he must go to a far end of the shop, and while his attention is thus engaged elsewhere the illi is tapped and the boys make their escape. The police have received a partial description of the youthful robbers, and believe that they will, soon have the trio under arrest.

CARPENTER PRIZE
FIGHTER DE LUXE

NEW YORK, March 26.—Callers on M. and Mme. Georges Carpentier became convinced today that the French champion is a prize fighter de luxe. Their flower-filled, sumptuously furnished six rooms constitute the best suite in one of the city's newest and best hotels. From France they brought a valet, a maid, a secretary, a manager and a trainer, and 35 trunks.

In addition to natural Apollo-like Beau Brummel by the following wardrobe:

One hundred silk shirts of various hues, stripes and dots with collars to match.

Twenty overcoats, three fur coats and one fur robe.

Seventy-five suits.

Two hundred neckties.

The wardrobe has been found to be insufficient for American purposes and Carpentier is rapidly increasing it by visits to Fifth avenue shops.

INQUEST ON BODY OF MAN WHO
HOSPITAL

MALDEN, March 26.—Marks found on the body of Alvin W. Woodward of this city, who died at a private hospital in Meriden, Conn., on Feb. 11, led to an autopsy today by order of the district attorney of Middlesex county. The death of Woodward, who was a designer of silverware, occurred after three days' illness which was reported as pneumonia.

When the body was brought here for burial, a dent was noticed in the forehead and two discolorations over the right eye. The condition was brought to the attention of the district attorney's office by Woodward's daughter, Mrs. George Frost of Boston, and the examination was ordered to determine whether there was any fracture of the skull or other indication of violence.

DE VALERA TO ADDRESS
MARYLAND HOUSE

ANAPOLIS, Md., March 26.—Acting on a resolution adopted by the Maryland house of delegates, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie today sent a letter to Eamon de Valera, "President of the Irish republic," inviting him to address that body next week.

Losing pay

on account of colds and disorders that could be avoided. Lots of time and money are lost because of needless ills. Whenever you are out in wet weather, or have headaches, or are at all constipated, a good dose of "L.F." Atwood's Medicine taken immediately, will safeguard your health and prevent serious illness from developing. Don't wait until you begin to notice bad effects but use it whenever there is the slightest symptom of trouble. It can't do any harm, and will aid your digestion at all times.

After a short time you will be pleasantly surprised with your general condition. With your stomach, liver and other organs working properly all the time, you will take a greater interest in your work, your blood will be purer, and you will be less tired at night after a hard day's work.

Start using this well-known old standby, today. Get a bottle from your dealer, for 60 teaspoonful doses. "L.F." Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

To Remove Sultan Forever

NEW YORK, March 26.—A resolution, signed by more than 200 clergymen, requesting President Wilson to exercise all possible influence to remove the sultan forever from governmental control of any part of Europe, has been forwarded to the White House, the presiding bishop and council of the Protestant Episcopal church announced here today. Among those who signed the resolution was Bishop Chauncey P. Brewster, Hartford, Conn.

$10,000 For Relief of Doctors in Vienna

NEW YORK, March 26.—The medical scientists of New York have contributed $10,000 to purchase food drafts for the relief of physicians and medical scientists in Vienna, the American relief administration announced today. The food drafts when purchased will be forwarded to Dr. Lindley Williams at Paris, who will go to Vienna to distribute the food.

Noted German Officer Is Dead

BERLIN, March 26.—The death of General Bernhard Emil Koerner, the noted German officer who directed the reorganization of the Chilean army after the civil war in 1891 in that country, was announced today by the Vossische Zeitung. General Koerner went to Chile in 1885 and after his work in reorganizing the army there served as chief of the general staff. He was born in 1840.

SAYS NAVY DEPT. KEPT EVIDENCE OF FRICTION AT BREAST HEADQUARTERS

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Charges that the navy department took steps to prevent reports reaching the public regarding a shortage of personnel in the navy before the United States entered the war were made before the senate naval investigating committee today by Captain Joseph K. Taussig of the naval war college of Newport, R. I.

Captain Taussig, who was on duty at the navy department prior to the war and later served on destroyers overseas, said that Secretary Daniels in his annual report in 1914 stated that the numerical strength of the navy was adequate and in 1915 said that only an additional 10,000 men were needed, while the navy general board in its 1914 report had stated that 19,600 men were necessary.

The general board, the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet and many officers of high rank "brought the deplorable and unsatisfactory condition of the personnel" to the department's attention with "emphatic and repeated" recommendations that immediate steps be taken to remedy the situation, Captain Taussig testified.

"The witness told the committee that the department's policy with regard to personnel was 'one of unpreparedness rather than preparedness' even when war with Germany 'apparently' was inevitable."

"There was no trained personnel for a large number of ships when the United States entered the war, the witness said.

"As a result of this department policy of unpreparedness," he added, "the larger part of the ships operated throughout the war with inadequately trained personnel and in consequence, they were not as efficient as they should have been."

Capt. Taussig was followed by Rear Admiral Plunkett, commander of the destroyers of the Atlantic fleet, who testified that prior to the United States entry into the war, he, as Secretary Daniels, had said that "there can be no gunnery without people and there are no people."

"I argued with Mr. Daniels for two years without making an impression on him," declared the witness.

Admiral Benson said Admiral W. S. Benson, chief of naval operations during the war, had told him to take up directly with the secretary relating to personnel.

"Admiral Benson said he had exhausted all the talk in his system," asserted the officer, "and told me if I thought I could do anything to go ahead and try."

INJURED IN RUNAWAY
Miss Rose Ouellette, of Merrimack street was painfully injured in a runaway accident, which took place yesterday afternoon in Church street, when the carriage in which she was riding collided with an automobile. Miss Ouellette was thrown out of the carriage and suffered injuries to her wrist as well as abrasions about the body. She was treated at the Lowell Corporation hospital.

BATTLE ON SUFFRAGE IN DELAWARE

DOVER, Del., March 26.—Plans for disposal of resolutions to ratify the woman suffrage constitutional amendment were uncertain when the Delaware legislature reconvened today. The struggle of suffrage workers and antagonists has reached a climax, with the time for voting and the result of both in doubt.

Overnight gains in strength were claimed by the suffragists, but confidence of the opposition was indicated in plans of Representative McNabb, democratic leader in the house, to call up the ratification resolutions immediately. Suffrage forces were prepared to filibuster against a vote.

Developments in the senate were equally dubious, suffragists and opponents both claiming a majority. With the fight at high heat and adjournment planned tonight until Monday, a vote in either house before next week was doubtful.

WHO WANTS TO GO TO GERMANY?

Lowell young men who find life in these peaceful and dry United States a rather hum-drum existence and who pine for more exciting scenes—get in on this.

Out in Germany, where they stage a new revolution every day in the week and two on Sunday, there is an urgent need of musicians and train dispatchers to serve with Uncle Sam's forces.

So announced Lieut. Kennedy of Lowell's army recruiting party today. He adds further that the pay in these branches of the service is most liberal.

Applicants must have some experience in either of these lines, and should be over 21 years of age.

The lieutenant also states that as far as he has been able to discover, prohibition has not yet made its debut in the fatherland, although this last has, of course, nothing to do with the subject in hand.

WORLD WAR DRAWINGS ON EXHIBITION HERE

One of the most realistic portrayals of scenes that attended the world war is that contained in the exhibition of drawings by Lucien Jonas and Jean Drott now on display at the city library. The exhibition is furnished the library by the Library Art club of New England and is the ninth in a series of war picture displays being circulated by that organization.

The greater part of the 40-odd drawings in the exhibition is the work of Jonas, one of the most successful illustrators of incidents of the great conflict, while Drott's pictures are confined to eight drawings, each showing a type of the French soldier.

Jonas' works range from the intensity of the fighting in the front line trench to the effect of the war on peaceful French homes hundreds of miles behind the trenches.

One of his most notable achievements shows a Belgian priest reading Cardinal Mercier's letter of protest against the deportations of his countrymen while a German soldier stands by the pulpit with drawn bayonet ready to quell any demonstration on the part of the congregation. The drawing is entitled "Pulpit Protest Under Guard."

"The Blue" portrays one of the youngsters of the French fighting men writing his first letter home after his induction into the service. Boys still in their early teens were called to the service and while in the preliminary stage of training the youthful soldier or embryo poet was called a "bleuet."

"Two Minutes and Over" shows a trench scene with a French officer standing in front of his men, with his eyes on his wrist watch, counting off the minutes before he gives the signal for the dash over the parapet to the eager men behind him. Some of the most noted war observers said that the most critical and nerve-straining period in the soldier's work was during the few minutes that he waited for the signal to get into the conflict and the artist has interpreted this tension admirably in his drawing.

"Is No Passeront Pas?" ("They Shall Not Pass") is the title of another drawing showing the gallant stand made by the French troops at Verdun. Another group of drawings show scenes attending the deportations of Belgians, even the women and children, to work in Germany. Girls were separated from their mothers and very often families were parted for years by these deportations. However, "The Hour of Deliverance" shows the same girls being restored to their parents

Borah Charges "War Profiteers" Iron Division Plans to March on Berlin. Had Combine to Control National Machine Guns Used in Battle for Wesel. Convention of Both Parties Report Premier Bauer's Cabinet Resigned. Reds Threaten to Wreck German Factories.

URGES CONGRESS LIMIT EXPENSES

Declares Pre-Convention Expenditures Presented a "Shameless Situation"

Charges Start Political Debate in Which Senators of Both Sides Joined

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Charging that "war profiteers" had combined to control the republican and democratic national conventions, Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, told the senate today that the pre-convention candidates presented a "shameless situation," promising a "saturnalia of corruption" unless congress called a halt.

Senator Borah's charges, which were made in presenting his bill for limitation of pre-convention expenditures, started a political debate in which senators on both sides of the chamber joined.

Reading a published story that "testimonials" endorsing Major General Leonard Wood were being purchased in Indiana at the rate of $2.50 apiece, Senator Borah said he had been advised that "plenty of affidavits to the same effect were on file in a neighboring state."

"If these men who have supposed that you can purchase the nomination are beginning by paying $3.50 for testimonials," Senator Borah asked, "what will they pay for votes?"

"General Leonard Wood's managers state that the managers for Gov. Lowden are spending more money than they are. That is their defense. I am inclined to think that that is true. There are some evidences of it."

"Here is the shameless situation: Certain candidates are charged with having made enormous expenditures and they apparently have turned themselves over to the control of men of vast wealth and are permitting those men to conduct their campaign. To the man in the street, it has every appearance of an attempt to deliberately control with money, the national convention."

"If these gentlemen will frankly tell us where the money is coming from, I would be willing to accept their explanation. But when they remain silent, there is only one inference to be drawn and that is that the charges are true."

Senators Thomas, Colorado and Ashurst, Arizona, democrats, asked Senator Borah to give the names of democrats who were spending large sums of money and the speaker said he would do so at the proper time.

AT CAILLAUX TRIAL

Attempt To Attack Credibility as Witness of Leon Rosenwald

PARIS, March 26.—Efforts were made today by attorneys representing former Premier Joseph Caillaux on trial before the senate for having had treasonable dealings with the enemy during the war, to attack the credibility as a witness of Leon Rosenwald, of Buenos Aires. Early in the trial, M. Rosenwald, who is editor of La Nation, a prominent Argentine newspaper, testified Caillaux had told him in 1917 France must make peace "immediately, at any cost," and that she "could not continue the sacrifices of the last three years."

Daniel Levy, an Alsacian, was called to the stand after the day's session of the court and testified he had long known M. Rosenwald, whose real name, he declared, was Kahn. He asserted Kahn had been convicted of embezzlement at Sarreguemines, Alsace-Lorraine, in 1875.

The prosecution announced it would recall Rosenwald to the witness stand on Tuesday next.

The next witness, M. Tasdormm, testified that in Brazil, Deputy Maurice de la Cita, reported to him a conversation he had with M. Casella, a journalist. Casella, the deputy declared, boasted of being the secretary of former Premier Clemenceau and said he had been sent to Brazil to find proofs against Caillaux. M. Tasdormm asserted he was indignant at the things said against Caillaux in Brazil, where it was even charged that Caillaux and his wife were seeking to become king and queen of France.

The hearing closed amid laughter.

Maximum Height Expected Sunday—Concord River Still on the Rampage

With all the flashboards on the Pawtucket dam ripped off by the drifting ice the Merrimack river has been transformed into a raging torrent of near-freshet proportions. During the past 24 hours, with an actual rise of substantially three feet between 6.30 a. m. yesterday and the same hour today, the maximum height is not expected before Sunday at the earliest.

Huge floes of ice, carried along by a swift moving current, are being swept over the falls today and battered

Dorothy Palmer, Disabled in Great Round Shoals, Calls for Assistance

BOSTON, March 26.—The schooner Dorothy Palmer sent a wireless call for assistance from Great Round Shoals channel today, reporting that she was leaking dangerously with pumps out of commission on account of boiler trouble. She had seven feet of water in her hold and the message said that at the rate the water was gaining, she would sink in 12 hours unless a coast guard cutter or tug were sent to her immediately.

The Acushnet, the nearest available cutter, was at New London and coast guard officers here said it would take her eight or nine hours to reach the disabled schooner.

The Dorothy Palmer left Norfolk, March 19, for Boston.

WINS LIVERPOOL STEEPLECHASE

LIVERPOOL, March 26. (Canadian Press).—The Liverpool grand national steeplechase, run over the Aintree course here today, was won by Major Gerard's Troycourt. The distance was a little under four and one-half miles. Troycourt carried 143 pounds.

The Turk II, owned by C. Wilcox, finished second, and The Bore, belonging to H. Brown, third. The prices on the first three horses were: Troycourt, 6 to 1 against; The Turk II, 5 to 1, and The Bore 28 to 1.

Out of the 24 horses which started in the race, only five completed the course. The value of the race this year was $25,000, the greatest in the history of the event.

SUMMARY OF CHILE'S REPLY TO U. S. NOTE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—A summary of Chile's reply to the American note requesting that it use its influence to prevent hostilities between Peru and Bolivia, growing out of the recent incidents at La Paz, was received at the state department from Ambassador Shea at Valparaiso. The reply itself is being forwarded by mail.

It was announced that Ambassador Shea's summary of the Chilean communication and the full text of the American note will be made public by the state department late today. Meanwhile officials refused to discuss either. Today's announcement was the first from the state department that a formal note had been sent to Chile regarding the anti-Peruvian outbreaks at the Bolivian capital early this month.

At the time of the outbreaks it was stated that Beltran Mathien, the Chilean ambassador, had called at the state department and had been asked by Under Secretary Polk, who then was acting as secretary, to request his government to use "its strong influence" to prevent the peace of South America from being disturbed.

Before that Federico Alfonso Pezet, the Peruvian ambassador, had asked the state department to intervene and two notes had been dispatched to Bolivia and a third prepared requesting that it make every effort possible to prevent hostilities.

POSTPONE VOTE ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

DOVER, Del., March 26.—Agreement to postpone voting in the Delaware legislature on the woman's suffrage amendment until next week was reached today by republican leaders in charge of majorities in both senate and house.

The new program was decided upon at a caucus of the house republicans and joint steering committee after the leaders conferred with Governor Townsend. Delay was determined on in a hope of the suffragists to secure further votes in the house where the present alignment admittedly presages rejection of the ratification. Improvement, however, in the senate situation was claimed by the suffragist leaders. Overnight gains, they asserted, insure senate approval of the ratification resolution.

Says Germans "Turned the British on Their Heads" in Jutland Battle

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The Germans, by their superior gunnery, "turned the British on their heads" at the battle of Jutland, Rear Admiral Plunkett declared today, before the senate committee investigating the navy's conduct of the war.

Admiral Plunkett was testifying as to the need for keeping the navy personnel at full strength so men might be adequately trained. He did not go into details as to the Jutland battle, and was asked no questions regarding it by the committee.

The admiral, who commanded the great naval battery of 14-inch guns on the western front, was the fourth witness in the investigation of Rear Admiral Sims' charges that the navy department failed to co-operate fully with the allies early in the war and all of his testimony was devoted to the matter of personnel. He told the committee the navy was without sufficient men when the war began.

"If we had been up against Germany at the outbreak of the war," he said, "we would have been paying indemnity today, and all because we did not have the trained men."

"We didn't have the men because Mr. Daniels wouldn't let us have them and wouldn't let us do anything to get them."

Another Assassination in Dublin

LONDON, March 26.—Alan Bell, resident magistrate who presided over the inquiry into the dealings of the Sinn Fein with Irish banks, was shot dead this morning, outside the Masonic club in Dublin, according to a dispatch from that city to the Central News.

In the house of commons, Mr. Bonar Law, the government leader, announced that Magistrate Bell was taken out of a tram car by four armed men and shot to death.

educational campaign designed to impress upon the people of that commonwealth the opportunities they are overlooking by refusing to negotiate with the bee. They are being told that modern methods of handling bees have done away with all danger of being stung.

Bees are a thrifty lot. They are a great boon to Bolshevism. The life of a bee is great propaganda for thrift and production and should be studied by all persons seeking subjects of true Americanism. The insects are happy; they are the world's greatest producers and have a way about them of getting rid of the non-producers that makes Bolshevism among the human family a decidedly unpopular movement.

Two colonies of bees would provide enough honey for any family and would leave some to sell. "Eat honey and be happy" is the dominant slogan being employed in the educational campaign being waged by the bee-keepers.

Kenneth Hawkins, formerly United States bee specialist, now of Watertown, Wis., declares that honey is a stimulant and produces energy and is bound to advance in consumption as a substitute for whiskey.

Hawkins points out that the first of the German prisoners captured during the forced march through Belgium all carried honey. When questioned, German officers declared this was done to give the men more "pop."

People formerly used to whiskey, wine and beer are expected to turn to honey and before long the United States may be a nation of honey eaters.

It is also contended that the scientific handling of bees in back-yards will do much towards solving the high cost of living.

ROOMS FOR MEMBERS AND VISITORS

Mrs. Florence Foster of the Y.W.C.A. states that she has already registered about 50 rooms in the city which are desirable for use by the association members or visitors. The registration of such rooms will continue, however, until such time as a sufficient number is entered upon the list. The girls who use the room registry do not have to pay for such service, a feature which is significant of the Y.W.C.A. During the past two weeks many girls visited the "Y" building to refer to the room registry in securing desirable lodgings.

Saturday afternoon the members of the Y.W.C.A. will organize a hunt for pussy willows. They will leave the local association building at 2 p.m. Their destination is not yet fixed but by the time the girls return they will have covered much ground.

On Saturday evening another exciting basketball game will be staged in the gymnasium. The headliner will be between the first team of the Worcester Y.W.C.A. and the local regular team and the second game between the Worcester second team and the local high school team.

On Friday, April 3, the association will run a food sale to raise money to defray the expenses of the Lowell delegates who will attend the T.W. conference to be held soon.

Pawtucket Street at Northern Canal Closed

On and after Wednesday, April 7, 1920, Pawtucket Street at Northern Canal will be closed to through passage until such time as the necessary repairs upon the bridge will be completed.

Per order DENNIS A. MURPHY, Commissioner of Streets and Highways

J. C. AYER CO. HONORS OLD EMPLOYEE

David Dewar of Wentworth Avenue, this city, who successfully rounded out 50 years' service with the J. C. Ayer Co. on February 10 last, was the recipient of a beautiful gift from the employees of the office and laboratory and a handsome testimonial from the company yesterday.

Paying tribute to the faithful service of Mr. Dewar, Dr. U. H. Stowell, the manager of the company's local plant, spoke of the object of the gathering and of the appreciation and goodwill in which the company and employees held him throughout his long connection with the company. As a tribute for the esteem of the J. C. Ayer company Mr. Dewar received an elaborately engraved testimonial and as a token of friendship from his fellow workers, a clock of the Westminster cathedral chimes type. February 10, 1920, the date of his completion of half a century's work with the company, and also his name was engraved upon the pendulum of the clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewar were both present at the gathering and they both expressed their gratefulness for the display of friendship.

FOUR FINED ON CHARGE OF RIOTING AT EXETER

EXETER, N. H., March 26.—Fines of $50 each and costs were imposed today on four more of the men charged with rioting in connection with the strike at the Chase-Chamberlain Shoe factory in Raymond, on Oct. 18, 1918. Like the five sentenced yesterday, for inciting to riot, they pleaded nolo contendere. All the defendants, Augustus Foster of Haverhill, organizer of the Shoe Workers' Protective union, Lewis Butterfield, Nelson Wheat, and Arthur Davis of Raymond, paid the fines and divided the costs amounting to $164.

COMMUNITY CLUB

LEADERS MEET

Reports of progress in the Lowell Community Service membership campaign will be given at a meeting of leaders at the Community club in Dutton street tonight. Supper will be ready at 8.30 o'clock, followed by a business meeting at 7. All community leaders give impetus to the drive and turn in the best possible reports.

Targets designed to show the progress of the campaign have been placed throughout the downtown section of the city and squares thereon will be blocked out to represent hundreds of new memberships.

Unofficial reports received at the campaign headquarters since Tuesday night's meeting show that a great amount of interest has been created in the drive and tonight's reports are expected to show a substantial gain both in memberships and money received.

School children are joining the movement in large numbers and Supt. Hugh J. Molloy hopes to enlist several thousand more before the campaign ends on the 31st.

INJUNCTION PROCEEDINGS

No reply to the threatened injunction proceedings of the Connors Bros. Co. of New York as a result of the awarding of the new high school contract will be forwarded by the high school building commission until that body holds a formal meeting and goes over the matter, Chairman John H. Lambert of the commission said today. The New York firm, through its local counsel, has informed the commission that it believes the contract was illegally awarded and asks that Daniel H. Walker be asked to surrender his contract so that bids may be advertised again.

WOULD FEED CANNED TOMATOES TO BABY

NEW YORK, March 26.—If you want your month-old baby to be entirely free from the taint of scurvy, feed canned tomatoes to the infant. And if you want the child to grow up to be a normal, healthy man or woman, don't interfere with the functioning of the thyroid gland.

These are only two of the interesting conclusions to be drawn from the discussions of prominent physicians at the second session of the 114th annual convention of the Medical Society of the State of New York at the Waldorf-Astoria and the Hotel McAlpin. The papers relating to food for infants and glands were read at the joint meeting of the sections on medicine and pediatrics in the Waldorf-Astoria.

Dr. Alfred F. Hess of this city, who was at one time with the health department, and has conducted investigations of milk as a food for babies, said pasteurized milk, the usual diet, is not enough for them, and to prevent the development of scurvy it was necessary to feed them something in addition, preferably orange juice or canned tomatoes.

Tomatoes "Well Born"

Dr. Hess said canned tomatoes are ideal food for infants, are serviceable and "well born" and could be given in one-ounce quantities to month-old babies without harm. Large numbers of babies, he said, have latent but undistinguishable scorbutic taints because they are deprived of their mother's milk.

Dr. Hess' talk was in connection with vitamins, newly discovered organisms existing in the skin of some plants and considered necessary to health. Nobody has yet seen a vitamin, but the doctors say they know it is there and has an important bearing on the value of certain foods to the human body.

The revelations concerning the importance of the thyroid and other glands were contained in the paper on "The Relationship of the External Appearance of the Body to Disease," read by Dr. George Draper of the Rockefeller Institute.

According to Dr. Draper, a physician familiar with the action of the glands has only to look into the faces of persons in his audience to tell what diseases they have had, ought to have had, or probably will have. In other words, according to Dr. Draper, the functioning of the various glands determines the shape of a man's head and nose and his general bearing and personality. The disturbance of these glands, especially in the first ten years in addition to shaping the skull and moulding one's personality, he said, makes one susceptible to certain infectious diseases.

Freckles and Influenza

He referred, in illustration, to the fact that people of dark complexion or with pronounced freckles or moles had proved most susceptible to influenza and that pure blooded races have always been the greatest sufferers from epidemics.

Dr. Draper said the interstitial glands were among those which have great influence upon a person's life and that the improper functioning of these produced the effeminate type of man.

The importance of investigation into the work of the glands and their relation to disease, he pointed out, lies in the fact that it opened another field for the study of the prevention and control of disease, and would not leave scientists entirely dependent upon bacteriology for their knowledge of disease.

Dr. Joseph A. Blake, whose work in the American hospitals in France won him international fame, spoke before the surgical section on "The Application of the Methods Developed During the War to the Treatment of Fractures in Civil Life." He branded as obsolete the "fixation" of limb fractures by encasing the members in a plaster cast and keeping it motionless. He advocated, instead, suspending a broken limb in a wire splint, a treatment used with great success in France.

In the new treatment, illustrated by Dr. Blake with lantern slides, the fractured limb is put in the splint and elevated to a natural position by pulleys and weights attached to a wooden frame above the bed. When properly adjusted the ends of the broken bone are by this method held in the proper alignment by the pull of the tendons and muscles around them, and there is less danger of a deformity than in the old method. At the same time the pulley system permits occasional movement of the limb while the bone is knitting, and also facilitates taking X-ray photographs of its development.

DAYLIGHT SAVING PUT OFF BY SENATE

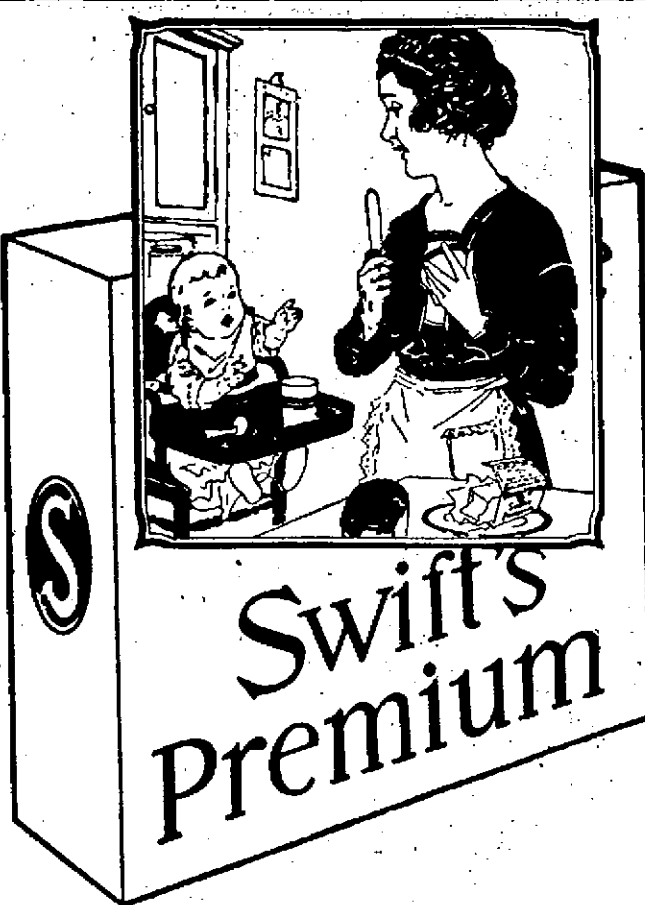

BOSTON, March 26.—Consideration of the "daylight savings" bill was put over until next Tuesday by the state senate yesterday afternoon. The measure, which has already passed the house, was to have taken effect next Sunday at 3 a. m. Yesterday's action of the senate prevents the operation of the law, provided it is passed, for one month at least. Senator Wells of Boston will offer an amendment next Tuesday to provide that it take effect at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 25.

Postponement was carried by a standing vote of 17 to 14. This, however, is not considered an indication of the senate's attitude on the merits of the bill itself. The question of "senatorial courtesy" had a part in the result. On the other hand, it is understood that the railroads and representatives of industrial establishments and business interests agreed that they would be better prepared if the bill were to take effect the last Sunday in April.

As the bill stands "daylight saving" would begin each year the last Sunday in March and end the last Sunday in October. Senator Wells' amendment is only for the present year.

There was a sharp debate before postponement was carried. Senator Reed of Taunton criticized the opponents of postponement. Others in favor of postponement were Senator Walsh of Boston, Senator Hardy of Huntington and Senator Griswold of Greenfield.

that the upper branch will act favorably on the bill, it cannot become operative April 25 unless an emergency preamble is attached by a two-thirds vote of each branch. There is little doubt but that the house has that necessary two-thirds, but whether the senate has is not definitely known.

Still another thing to be considered is the attitude of the governor. He may exercise the power of veto; in fact, there is a report current that such is his intention. This, however, cannot be confirmed and those who know the governor intimately say it is useless to attempt to forecast his decision.

DOINGS OF THE SENATE

Attacks on Alleged Misrepresentation of Despatches Made on Senate Floor

WASHINGTON, March 26 (By the Associated Press).—Attacks on alleged misrepresentations of the doings of the senate, in newspaper despatches from Washington, were made on the senate floor yesterday by Senators Norris, republican, Nebraska, and Gronna, republican, North Dakota.

Senator Norris denounced a special despatch to the Omaha World-Herald, owned by Senator Hitchcock, administration leader in the treaty fight, and Senator Gronna attacked the Associated Press.

Mr. Norris, charging that the spe-

EXCHANGE "FREAKS" MAKE SOME POOR, OTHERS RICH

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—Exchange rates are playing all sorts of freaks these days, making some folks rich and others poor. For instance:

Exchange between the American dollar and the Mexican dollar current in China, as fixed by the U. S. government for the sole purpose of marines, has in effect doubled the pay of the sea soldiers stationed there.

The marine is allowed $3.32 "Mex" for every dollar to his credit on the books. Thus, if he draws $20 in gold, and the rate for converting it into

MISS ZOE FENTON

"Mex" on payday is $3, the marine receives $99.60 "Mex." He can save $30 "Mex" for his expenses, and convert the remaining $39.60 into a draft at $3 and send it back to the U. S. In other words he can eat his cake and have it too.

On the other hand, here is Miss Zoe Fenton who before the war used to live comfortably in the United States on her income from Australia, but who must now go back to Sydney to make ends meet because the English pound is rated at but $3.60 in America.

cial despatch to the World-Herald had misrepresented his attitude on the Irish reservation to the peace treaty, denounced Earl Gaddis, the correspondent, who also is Senator Hitchcock's secretary, as one who "would rather tell a lie than the truth, if it would accomplish the same purpose."

Senator Hitchcock was not present, being out of the city, and no reply was made to the attack, Senator Gronna declaring "perhaps it would be well to have a few funerals" to end the misrepresentations he alleged referred to his war record charged that the Associated Press during the war had sent out a despatch "charging me with voting against the appropriation of $40,000,000," provided in one of the war bills.

The bill referred to is the first aviation appropriation bill. The Associated Press despatches of July 21, 1917, the day the bill was passed in the senate stated that the bill was passed "without amendment or a record, vote."

The same despatches, however, chronicled the fact that Senator Gronna was one of 13 senators voting to insert an amendment by Senator Hardwick of Georgia, prohibiting the drafting of men for the aviation service. The amendment was defeated, 56 to 12. The facts as stated in the Associated Press despatches agree with the official report of the senate proceedings as given in the Congressional Record of that day. The record also shows that during the debate on that day, Senator Gronna made another attack on the Associated Press, charging misrepresentation of his attitude.

A Berkshire (Mass.) man has on his lawn as receptacles for flowers three marble bathtubs, for which he paid $50 each. The cost to the original owner, after whose death they were sold, was $5000 each.

FRECKLES

March Wrist Month For This Trouble—How to Remove Easily

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of Othine, double strength, from your druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles, for if not removed now they may stay all summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if Othine fails.—Adv.

I HAVE THESE QUALITIES—I have them in abundance—I have them in all the latest styles and patterns, from woolen makers who have long been recognized as the champions of the world.

The idea or notion that woolens will not be good, or like they used to be, for a year or two to come, is not founded on facts. Why shouldn't they be as good as ever? High priced, maybe, but as good as ever.

NO UNHOLY ALLIANCES FOR ME

JACOB KANIAK

MAKES SECOND FORTUNE ON SHOE STRING

SEATTLE, Wash., March 23.—Young men who are waiting for opportunity to come up and kidnap them might get a few pointers from the achievement of Jacob Kaniak.

Kaniak is 50 years young. He is the son of Count Kaniak of Poland, a veteran of the Franco-Prussian war, and lost his fortune in Europe. Ten years ago he started in to amass his second fortune. He has just sold out a thriving shoe factory here for $20,000 and has moved to Oakland, Cal., to await the approach of old age.

Kaniak started literally "on a shoestring." He worked in a shop as a gobbler. He saved and planned and eventually went into business for himself. When he sold out he was employing 100 men.

"Talk about this not being the land of opportunity," he exclaimed. "Why, if I can make a little fortune after eighty years of age when most of my contemporaries are sitting around in the sun waiting for death, what can't a young man do?

"How did I do it? Well I came to this country the second time when I was 50 years old. I hadn't a cent and I made up my mind to get rich. I started to work in a shoe shop in Seattle after seeking a job for a long time. Nobody wanted to hire an old man.

Finally a man gave me a chance and I worked for him for two years. Then I started a shoe shop of my own. In five more years I built a little factory and employed 10 men.

"At the end of four years I built a larger factory and employed 100 men. The business got so prosperous that two years afterward I received an offer of $20,000 and I sold out.

"Here is my advice to young men—work, save and apply yourself to your business. Leave costly pleasures for others, and plan for your future. If I made my little pile after I was 50 years old, you can surely manage to get along under 30 or 40."

BIG SLUMP IN MOUSE MARKET

NEW YORK, March 25.—A big slump in the mouse market is reported from Columbia university where large stocks of the little rodents are used for experimental purposes. Quotations for mice have fallen far below pre-war levels and many breeders have been forced out of business, according to Dr. Francis Carter Wood.

Hosts of mice were required during the war for medical experiments and high prices offered for them by the government stimulated the breeding of these animals. When the armistice was signed the breeders were caught "long" on mice and they found themselves carrying a heavy overload of a useless commodity.

This situation in the mouse market is disclosed in Dr. Wood's annual report as director of the George Crocker special research fund. This fund was created to conduct scientific cancer investigation and many mice not used for experiments at Columbia are shipped to other laboratories. As one means to reduce the surplus the directors of the research fund have attempted to ship some of the mice to the Pathological Institute of the Imperial University of Tokyo.

The Luncheon That Proved a Success

"Mary," exclaimed Mrs. Gordon to her new maid, in dismay, "what in the world are we going to do! Mrs. Redfern has come for lunch. You might be sure she'd hit upon the very day we had planned on just a pick-up lunch. We might manage, but there isn't a thing we can have for dessert at this short notice."

"I can manage, Mrs. Gordon," replied Mary, confidently. "Just you leave it to me."

Luncheon time arrived, and Mary brought in a delicious, smooth mould of rich chocolate blanc mange. She had saved the day!

"How in the world did you do it?" said Mrs. Gordon. "Your dessert was delicious."

"Why," replied her maid, "I made it with Pudding."

"Pudding?" questioned Mrs. Gordon. "Do tell me about it."

"It's a dessert that always turns out right, and isn't a bit of trouble to make. All you have to do is to add milk, either fresh or condensed, and sugar, and boil for three minutes, and then when it is cool, you have a rich, creamy mould of dessert."

"Does it come in more than one flavor?" asked Mrs. Gordon.

"Oh, yes, indeed—chocolate, rose vanilla, orange, lemon and in several flavors. And it only costs 15c for a box which will serve 15 people."

"Well," said Mrs. Gordon, "it certainly is delicious."

"I use it for cake and pie fillings, too," said Mary, "and it makes ice cream smooth and rich."

"Well," exclaimed Mrs. Gordon, emphatically, "there is one thing sure. In the future, we will never be without Pudding!"

MISS LADY BUG ARRIVES

But no new pupils came to the singing school for a time, and Nancy and Nick saw that Professor Skylark was getting impatient. "My, my!" he exclaimed as he walked up and down the fence near the gatepost sign, taking out his watch every few minutes. "Prices keep going up and I need the money! I had to pay a dollar today for birdseed I used to get for 15 cents. Ah, ha! Here comes somebody now!" And he gave his brown waistcoat a

"I want to learn to sing," said she timidly. "Is this the place?"

Jerker and straightened his tie, as he hopped down to receive the newcomer. It was Miss Lady-Bug in her terracotta satin dress with black spots, shiny as a new cent.

"I want to learn to sing," said she timidly. "Is this the place?"

"It certainly is," said the professor in an encouraging voice, ushering her up the path where he had his piano under a bush of wild currants. "Now out my book on insect exercises. We'll try the buzzer first!"

The twins then saw him set the book marked "Fine Buzzes" on the piano bracket. "Now," said he, "stick out your wings so and wiggle them so."

Miss Lady-Bug looked frightened, but did what she was told. But no sound came.

"No, no, no!" cried Professor Skylark. "That's too slow!"

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Total of $908,829,172 as First Installment of Nation's Tax Bill for 1919

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Figures of income and excess profits taxes aggregating $908,829,172, paid as the first installment of the nation's tax bill for 1919, and made public yesterday, show that the district including New York, New Jersey and Connecticut paid more than a quarter of this amount, or $253,291,152.

Treasury officials said last night that while $908,829,172 does not represent exactly one-fourth of the taxes for last year, it indicates that approximately $3,500,000,000 will be collected for the entire year. This first instal-

ROME RULE COMMITTEE

Owing to the dearth of business and the absence of several members, the street railway home rule committee failed to hold a formal meeting yesterday afternoon at city hall as scheduled. Secretary John B. Curtin, Mrs. E. M. Burke, John E. Sullivan and Walter H. Burfee were present, but three other members failed to put in an appearance. Thomas Lees, manager of the Lowell district of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. with whom the committee is supposed to meet, was also absent, having an important engagement in Boston. Accordingly, no business was transacted and the committee will again meet on Thursday, April 5.

Idyls of an Irresponsible
by LEE HINGSTON
©1920-1921

When I could take two drinks or would, but how about that dear, old three, and wander in the flowery path, a stern, old boy would come to me and wag his whiskers in his wrath. "Lay off," he'd say, "you're going bad, your time will come in life's fair spring; heed one who's older than your dad, nor listen when the sirens sing." Time passed, and old J. Barleycorn was laid away among the dead; I go without my morning horn and drain the water-lap instead. I really like this sort of plan much better than I'd thought I well as me.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Everybody likes snappy music, and yet about everybody can stand for variety. That latter is what Earl Earle and his six girls give at the H. F. Keith theatre this week. Earle is one of the greatest players of the banjo. He makes it sing like a violin. His girls play a variety of instruments, and largely devote themselves to popular stuff. Jack Ingalls is the same rapid-fire funmaker as of yore. He never lets up with his witticisms nor does he twice follow the same line of attack. And Tony Hunting and Corinne Francis give a delightful touch to everything they do in "The Flower Shop." It is a pretty melange of comedy, singing and dancing. The Kramka Bros. are startlingly original gymnasts. Other acts on the bill are: Dalton & Craig, LaPino & Emery, and Paul George.

THE OWL THEATRE

In "The Web of Deceit," the Edwin Carowe feature, the headline attraction for the last half of this week at the Owl theatre, Dolores Cassinelli is her own greatest enemy. She lies to and cheats and deceives herself, and the way in which it is accomplished is very simple—she enacts two roles. Oddly enough, it is as the selfish, unscrupulous and successful sister that Miss Cassinelli has her biggest opportunity. While the sympathies are entirely with the sweet and gentle Lucille, and no man wants to hold the center of the stage because it is she who weaves the plot into a fascinating tangle, pulling Lucille and several others into her web, but none more securely than herself. An authority on "What Women Will Wear Next Season," Miss Cassinelli brings forth several advanced styles in "The Web of Deceit." Edwin Carowe making his debut as a producer after many years of directing, gave the picture his personal attention in every detail, and the settings are particularly beautiful and lavish. The second feature is in every respect big enough and good enough to headline any program. For Monroe Salisbury is at his best in "His Divorced Wife," his latest picture. The story by Elmer Elliott Peake appeared in magazine form under the title of "An Altar on Little Thunder." The beautiful Kentucky mountains famous in song and story furnish the background for many of the great outdoor scenes. Little Mickey Moore, four years young, again appears with Salisbury. The Hall Room Boys and a News of world events worth while complete the bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Cecil B. de Mille, famous for his long string of artistic motion picture successes, has excelled all previous efforts in "Male and Female," his latest production, now showing at the Merrimack Square theatre. The story was adapted for the screen from Sir James M. Barrie's great play, "The Admirable Crichton," and the cast includes such notable stars as Gloria Swanson, Thomas Meighan and Theodore Roberts. No effort was spared by Mr. de Mille to make the motion picture faithful to the story in every respect. Only two days remain for Lowell people to witness "Male and Female," as it closes its week's engagement tomorrow night. Other attractions on the current bill are "A Red Hot Flash," a new comedy; the Hurton Holmes travel pictures and the News Pictorial.

OPERA HOUSE
The right kind of mystery plays are always interesting and entertaining. "The 13th Chair," which is being so cleverly presented this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, should certainly appeal to all lovers of this particular brand of play. See Miss Fields' great characterization of "Madame La Grange." It's one of her most artistic portrayals, while the others of a large cast are praiseworthy. Next week's production will be Alexander Dumas' great masterpiece, the emotional play, "Camille." It will be presented with all of the artistic finish and effectiveness that has marked the productions by the players in the past. You can't afford to miss it.

"BEST OF ALL" BALMWORK KIDNEY TABLETS

Mr. Wm. E. Bryant, R. F. D. Bryantville, Mass., writes: "I am using your Balmwork Kidney Tablets and find them the very best of anything I have ever tried. I have tried lots of other remedies," etc. Pains in the back, rheumatic pains, frequent, scanty, highly colored, smarting pains, etc., tell you that Kidneys and Bladder are not doing their regular duties. Balmwork Kidney Tablets correct and revive their activity. Sold by all druggists.

THE STRAND
If you are anxious to take a peep into real newspaper work see "Deadline at Eleven," with Corinne Griffith in the principal role, now showing at The Strand. It's a great story and it's produced well. Then there is "Soldiers of Fortune," Richard Harding Davis' great story, and a good comedy and Universal Weekly. The contest for the most popular woman patron, with an Easter hat and parasol to match as the prize, is another incentive. This hat in a Paris creation, procured through the Bon Marche, it was worn by Pauline Frederick in "The Fallacy Case." Coupons are being given with the purchase of every ticket and the woman securing the largest number of coupons receives the prize.

A 17-year-old girl of Passaic, N. J., accompanied by her mother, attended the annual sale in New York of the effects of deceased, deserting and absent sailors of the navy and the merchant marine, bid in a suit case for $9.75, carried it into a far corner, opened it, and made sure of the possession of a package of letters that was in the case. "I wrote all these letters," she explained. "I'm not going to say to whom I wrote them, except that he deserted his ship, and it's all over."

LLOYD GEORGE SAYS U. S. CONSULTED ON TURKEY

LONDON, March 26.—Replying to criticism of the government's foreign policy of Herbert H. Asquith, member of the house for Paisley, Premier Lloyd George yesterday afternoon gave a detailed explanation of the Turkish settlement.

The premier said it would have been a blunder to have settled the Turkish problem without giving the United States the most ample opportunity to decide whether it would accept a mandate because it would have given rise to suspicions that Great Britain and France were taking advantage of the political dissensions in the United States to divide the whole of Turkey among themselves.

"It was only when America definitely refused the mandate that we proceeded without her," Mr. Lloyd George declared.

The premier said the proposal to oust the sultan had been rejected as inadequate, because it left the question of the government of Constantinople undecided and the allies were anxious to avoid the expense and responsibility of the administration of Constantinople.

With regard to Armenia, the premier continued, France would have been willing to hand Cilicia to the United States if the latter had accepted the mandate.

"Up to the present we have only received requests from America to protect Armenia, without any offer to assume responsibility," Mr. Lloyd George said. "We hope France will undertake the responsibility, but it is much to ask, considering all the burden France already has."

The premier contended that it was quite impossible for England to send armies to keep order in Armenia and

Asia Minor. England would do her utmost to exert pressure in Constantinople to secure good treatment for Christians, he asserted, but was unable to accept a wider responsibility.

The Armenians are an exceptionally intelligent people, and must begin to depend on themselves for the protection of their independence, Mr. Lloyd George said, adding that he understood they could easily raise an army of 40,000 men. Great Britain would be willing to supply equipment and officers for their training. If that were done they could defend themselves against the Turks, the premier declared.

Referring to central Europe Mr. Lloyd George said: "If Germany would perform her part of the treaty by volunteering to state what amount of reparations she is able to pay, and if she can prove the impossibility of paying unless she first secures raw materials, I do not believe either Belgium or France will stand in the way of her obtaining the necessary credits. But there must be a definite indication that she intends to discharge her liabilities."

SEES DECISIVE AERIAL CONFLICT

Brig. Gen. Mitchell Says First
Battle of Next War Will be Fought in Air

Will be Last One as Losing
Nation Would be Helpless
After Defeat of Air Fleet

NEW YORK, March 26.—The first battle of the next war will be fought in the air, Brigadier General William Mitchell, chief of the Division of Training and Operations, Army Air Service, declared in a statement here today, in which he visualized a decisive aerial conflict. The battle, he added, would also be the last one of the war because the losing nation would be helpless and unable to continue hostilities after its air fleet has been conquered. The air service chief predicted that aviation will "completely drive" huge battle cruisers, battleships and other surface ships off the water in the next conflict. "A great air force can render surface craft incapable of operating and stop debarkations from ships and attacks on shore establishments," he said.

Brigadier General Mitchell, in his visualization of the great air struggle of the future described vividly the part he believes giant gun-bearing battle planes, bombers, rigid dirigible balloons and armored aircraft of various designs will play in the next war. With the beginning of war he pictures a huge fleet of dirigible balloons soaring high above the ocean and, from nests on the tops of these, tiny airplanes are launched, locate the enemy fleet and return with the information. The chief air officer, working in contact with the army and navy, sends his air force against the enemy.

The American fighting planes drive from the sky the enemy pursuit and combat planes launched from the decks of enemy battleships. "Then comes the main attack by our air forces against the hostile fleet," says General Mitchell. "The battle planes are in squadrons of 25 and four of these constitute an attack group. Circling over the enemy fleet they maintain a heavy fire, destroying personnel and anti-aircraft equipment.

"With the gun-bearing planes or immediately behind them are the bombers, huge air freighters carrying projectiles weighing up to one ton and depth bombs for effect against submarines. Water torpedoes controlled by wireless from the planes crash into the sides of the hostile vessels sinking the smaller ones and damaging the larger. "Darkness comes and when visibility from the ships has become poor, huge rigid dirigible balloons carrying bombs of enormous weight join the attack, their projectiles crashing through the heaviest armor of the enemy ships.

"As the navy comes up to complete the work done by the aerial forces the battle is over. The enemy, driven from the air and with most of its ships either sunk or out of action, surrenders. The battle has been the first and is also the last of the war. The enemy cannot land his forces."

TELLS ABOUT A CHRONIC TROUBLE

Mr. John O'Brien, 653 N. 15th St., Philadelphia, writes: "I had been troubled for years with chronic constipation, until my whole system seemed poisoned, and I suffered with headache, languor, depression and general impaired health. I began taking Sulphur Tablets and got immediate relief. I am, after many months, still regular in habits, and thank you, and hope they will become known to thousands, etc." If your blood is bad, tongue coated and you are constipated, with stomach and bowel irregularity, get a tube of Sulphur Tablets of your druggist right away. They are made of sulphur, cream of tartar and have no don't accept ordinary "sulphur" tablets.

BIG INCREASE IN CATHOLICS IN U. S.

NEW YORK, March 26.—The official Catholic directory for 1920, made public yesterday, announces an increase of 136,221 in the membership of the church last year, bringing the total membership in the United States and its possessions up to 27,650,204.

The number of archbishops was increased from 14 to 16, according to the directory, but the number of bishops was decreased by deaths. There was an increase of 1079 seminarians. New parishes totalled 148, and two new orphan asylums were established.

The secular clergy now number 13,351, an increase of 337, while priests of religious orders number 21,012, an increase of 24.

GIRLS' COMMUNITY SERVICE CLUB

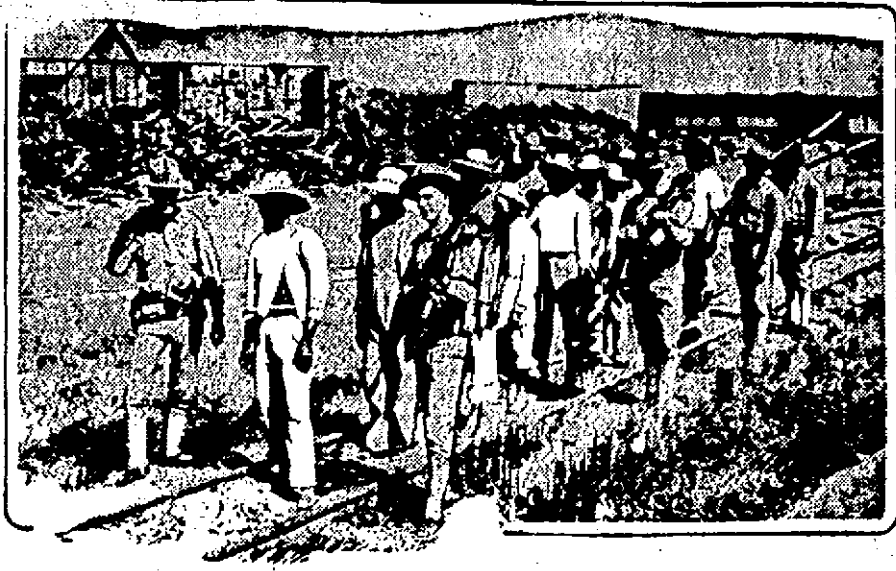

Leaders in the new squad organization of the Girls' Community Service club met with the executive committee last evening to review the work of the past fall and winter and lay plans for spring activities. Supper was served in the assembly hall, at which Miss Mae Hawsom, chairman of the reorganization committee, presided. Miss J. Macklin Beattie, club director, spoke on a more general club spirit. Miss Edie Melancon, acting president, outlined a few of the things the club hopes to accomplish this year, and Miss Noreen Graffam, chairman of the ways and means committee, stressed methods of raising sufficient money to install lockers in the new gymnasium rooms and mentioned the possibility of a carnival as one of the activities.

The meeting was the first of the new squad leaders since the club set about a reorganization of its membership and practically all the leaders were present. It was the general feeling that the supper and meeting should be made a regular event.

The first spring "hike" will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, when the girls are invited to meet with Miss Cronin and set out in the general direction of Clark road.

U. S. MARINES CAPTURE HAITI SUGAR BANDITS

Here is a group of Uncle Sam's marines living up to their reputation down in Haiti. This time they are protecting your morning coffee cup by bagging a bunch of native sugar bandits, and bringing in the raiders at Port Au Prince. The revolutionary element or "Cacos" often resort to sabotage by breaking sky-lights and letting water into sugar warehouses and even plan raids upon the mills.

MAXIMUM PENALTY FOR FREIGHT JUMPERS

Lowell boys who are in the habit of "jumping freights" better watch their step in future.

For one thing, a campaign having for its objective the elimination of this, all too common practice has been instituted by the local police and Boston & Maine railroad officials.

In addition, Judge Enright of the municipal court has announced that persons convicted of this offense will receive the full limit of the law, which provides for a fine of $50 or imprisonment for a term of six months.

Judge Enright made this statement in disposing of the cases of four local youths arraigned on this charge in the juvenile police court session this morning.

The quartet, all of whom are employed at a local shoe shop, pleaded guilty, and but for the management of the firm making an earnest plea for leniency, would have been given stiff sentences. In the end the cases were placed on file after the court had issued a warning that the next offense would result in substantial fines being imposed or direct jail sentences.

During the hearing of the cases it was brought out that more accidents have occurred in the vicinity of the local railroad station which could be directly attributed to young men "riding the bumpers" than at any station north of Boston.

It was the opinion of Judge Enright and the railroad officials that only by taking drastic steps in the matter would it be possible to minimize these casualties, hence the decision of the court to impose heavy penalties on offenders in the future.

The general session of the municipal court was of a brief nature. A few continued cases were called and re-continued for several weeks, following which the court adjourned.

No arrests of any kind were recorded during the past 24 hours.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIK ARMY IN BLACK SEA PROVINCE

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 26. (By Associated Press.)—The anti-Bolshevik army operating in the vicinity of Novorossisk and moving southward in the Black sea province towards Batum, has established its capital at Sochi (Lake Hovsk, on the Black sea, about midway between Novorossisk and Batum) where a general committee is directing a so-called government. Gen. Keith of the British forces is reported to have visited Sochi recently and discussed the situation with M. Filipposki, chairman of the committee for liberation of the Black sea province.

Despatches from Novorossisk indicate that the war-worn refugees in this region, confused by the multiplicity of factions and somewhat reassured by the Bolshevik promises to abandon terrorism, are becoming reconceded to remain in Russia even if the Bolsheviks should occupy Novorossisk. The allies, however, are removing those who it is considered would unquestionably be in danger of Bolshevik reprisals, transporting them to Theodosia in the Crimea. The American Red Cross is removing its supply depot to Constantinople. The prevalence of typhus among the refugees is making their removal a difficult operation, and one dangerous to other countries.

Besides the British emissary who went to Novorossisk, the French also sent an officer to confer with the committee which denounced both the Bolsheviks and the Denikin forces, saying the Black sea people were fighting for the purpose of freeing their territory from all outside plunderers. When arraigned, some of the students were clad in pajamas, while others were barefoot. Frederick H. Strayer was the only one with a bandage on his head. He explained he was Magistrate Harris declared it was a pity more of the students were not wearing bandages.

According to the police, the celebration of victory was the most aggressive

Murver, what makes you so cross?

Poor mother, has backache, dizzy spells, headache and is nervous, which are all symptoms of woman's trouble.

Most women neglect their health, and for this neglect they pay the penalty. Any woman who suffers thus will find that she loses flesh faster than Nature can put it on. She will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life and make her worries fewer. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around vegetable tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

Dr. Pierce put his Favorite Prescription in the drug stores in 1870. For fifty years it has stood the test, and thousands upon thousands of women all over the United States can testify that this non-alcoholic tonic made them healthy and well. ON HUNGARIAN TERMS

PARIS, March 26.—Count Albert Apponyi, head of the Hungarian peace delegation, in the second and concluding article on the Hungarian peace treaty which he prepared for the Associated Press, calls for a plebiscite of the inhabitants of the regions severed from Hungary by the Versailles treaty. He says:

"Comparing Hungary as she was before the war with the new states created or aggrandized through dismemberment, the situation is this:

"The Hungary of old is the finest natural geographic unity in Europe, whose limits are fixed by mountains and rivers; whose parts are economically interdependent, so as to make the whole almost self-supporting. For more than 1000 years this part of Europe never gave trouble to the rest, rather, averted from it whatever trouble threatened its tranquillity and safety from the east. While historic Hungary stood, the troublesome area of Europe was as distant from the centre as the Balkan peninsula.

"To make the moral cohesion of her people perfect, one factor alone was wanting; racial unity. On this plea was her dissection planned. New constructions arise on her ruins, based on the racial principle, irrespective of geography, history, or political economy. We make the astonishing discovery that these new constructions are

Count Apponyi declares that 54.6 per cent. of the 18,000,000 inhabitants of "Hungary proper" were Magyars, 16.1 Rumanian, 10.7 Slovak, 10.1 German and the rest Serb, Ruthenian or miscellaneous. Comparing these to the newly organized or aggrandized states he says that the population of Czechoslovakia has claimed parts of Hungary containing 3,570,000 persons of which 47 per cent. are Slovak and 37 per cent. Magyar or German. Rumania claims territories on which live about 5,260,000 souls of which 53 per cent. are Rumanian and 43 per cent. Magyar or German. The population of parts of Hungary annexed by Jugoslavia, says Count Apponyi, is only 22 per cent. Jugo-Slav, 33 per cent. Magyar and 27 per cent. German. Count Apponyi continues:

"These figures show that the only principle of organic unity that has been wanting to Hungary's racial unity is likewise wanting to the states artificially built up on her ruins; the difference consists only in this, that Hungary was possessed of every other principle of unity, while the new states have none, absolutely none. What is still worse, the leadership in them will be transferred to races of inferior culture, the results of which we may already notice, after one year's occupation of the territories torn from Hungary. There is a wanton destruction of cultural values, universities, high schools and others. On the territory occupied by Rumanians, 5000 grammar schools are deserted, the former teacher having been expelled and nobody being found to supplement him, in consequence of which more than 200,000 children are left without education of any sort. There is a conspicuous lower level of public functionaries and the general prevalence of semi-barbarous methods of government.

"What can result from this state of things? Will those people who are violently severed from their beloved old associations only to be subjected to alien government of an inferior sort—those 4,500,000 Magyars and Germans torn from Hungary—will they ever be reconciled to denationalization implying economic losses and cultural retrogression? Can the conscience of humanity tolerate such a downfall of millions? Anyhow, it is certain that those new constructions, with no vital principle in them, will be distracted by the permanence of a most violent, because most legitimate, irredentism and that through them eastern and central Europe will know no rest, till the equilibrium represented by old Hungary is restored.

"These facts answer the question how far the destruction of Hungary and the constructions planned on her ruins might promote the general welfare of mankind? It would confer on our part of Europe the following 'blessings':

"Racial discussions not assuaged, but embittered; permanent unrest, implying danger of new wars.

"Economic difficulties enhanced; those who know best. We accept this thereby social dangers aggravated.

"But how does liberty fare in the proposed peace treaty? In its terms missions of men would be driven from one allegiance to another, without being consulted as to their wishes. In the case of nearly half of them, of Magyars and Germans who should become Czechoslovak, Rumanian or Jugo-Slav subjects, you may confidently assert that it would be done against their will, that it means moral torture to them. But even the Slavs and Rumanians who would be transplanted to states racially more homogenous, can simply be 'suppressed' to long for such change and there are many symptoms indicative of the reverse, chiefly among the Slovaks, Ruthenians and the Roman-Catholic Jugo-Slavs.

"There is only one way to settle this question with a result that can no more be challenged: it is the plebiscite. And the plebiscite is what Hungary asks for and insists on. In every region claimed by our neighbors, so do we say, let the people decide; we unconditionally submit to its decision; we do not want a single soul to remain with us but by an act of free will. We have been charged with oppression of the non-Magyar nationalities; well, instead of going into argument we propose to make those same people whom we are alleged to oppress, judge of our case. If we have really been oppressors, they will gladly seize upon this occasion to break away from us; but if they stick to the old country, then the charge of oppression is belied by those who know best. We accept this crucial test, we are anxious that it should be applied; if our opponents shrink from it, judgment goes against them by default. The good faith of both parties is then put into such clear light that in fairness the discussion must be considered as ended.

"The plebiscite offers the only solution which combines justice with expediency. It would ensure the tranquillity of Europe, since everybody would be where he desires. On the liberty of nations on their right of self-determination rests our whole case. Our principle is in any case fore-ordained to prevail after a passing hour of darkness and we feel proud of having thrown in our lot with whatever is most sacred to humanity."

ATTITUDE OF THE PROHIBITION PARTY

CHICAGO, March 26.—Whether the prohibition party will nominate a candidate for the presidency and take an active part in the coming presidential campaign depends upon the attitude of the major parties toward the strict enforcement of prohibition, says Virgil G. Hinshaw, of this city, chairman of the party.

There has been considerable speculation among political observers as to whether the prohibition party would or would not continue its political activity now that prohibition has become a constitutional enactment. Questions have been asked whether the prohibition party leaders would feel that the party's object had been attained and the time at hand when prohibitionists might return to or become affiliated

LOVE LETTERS of the CZARINA

Written during the War Years preceding the fall of the Czar's Throne and now given to the public for the first time.

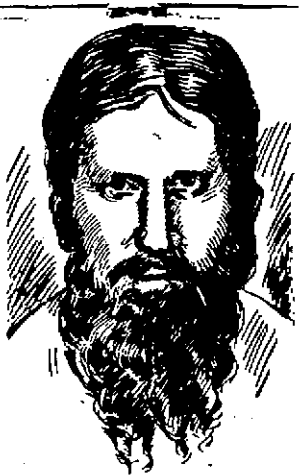

This grand-daughter of Queen Victoria had no fear of handling the fate and future of Russia. Her orders to the Czar to make and unmake ministers, generals and governments, though veiled in the language of affection, are as decisive as the commands of an officer to his men.

In fiction or fact there has never been a story quite like this.

These are genuine letters, not fiction, and were found in government archives.

At times, the Czarina appears as absolute ruler of Russia—and behind every act of the Czarina stands the shadow of Rasputin whom she completely trusted and believed—as in a Saint. The last letter was written when Rasputin was assassinated.

Hardly a letter fails to mention that menacing, uncouth, sinister, peasant figure, Rasputin. No earlier records of Rasputin have disclosed, as do these letters, his complete domination of the mind of the Czarina and, through her, of the Czar.

with one or the other of the major parties.

Chairman Hinshaw believes the battle is not over; that the fight for enforcement of prohibition is still to be won.

"Our organization," he declares, "will continue as long as the alcoholic serpent continues to wiggle its tail." Concerning the party's attitude in the presidential campaign, Mr. Hinshaw said its policies to be enunciated in its national convention at Lincoln, Neb., July 12, would depend entirely upon the action taken at the conventions of the major parties.

"If the major parties fail to come out unequivocally for strict enforcement of existing dry laws we will certainly run a prohibition candidate for president," said Mr. Hinshaw.

"Of course, it is up to the convention whether we will or will not run one anyway. But if the major parties fail to enforce not only the 18th amendment but existing prohibition laws as well, I believe there will be break-ups

As to the party's probable action concerning lesser candidates, it is said that it "will seek the election of representatives in congress, governors, members of legislatures and others who are charged with the enforcement of the dry law."

Ernest H. Cherrington, of Westerville, O., declared that the Anti-Saloon league, of which he is secretary, will work to defeat candidates who are avowedly opposed to prohibition enforcement.

DISORGANIZED MEANS OF COMMUNICATION IN VIENNA DESCRIBED

VIENNA, Mar. 26.—Americans who may sometimes be dissatisfied with the telephone, telegraph or postal service in America should come here if they want to see a really disorganized means of communication.

So demoralized is the telephone service of Vienna that a great mass meeting of business men has been held and has demanded that this service be taken from the government bureaucracy and turned over to private control.

It is almost impossible to get central and once secured the line is usually cut after less than one minute's conversation. The telephone employees claim they are overworked, undernourished and the whole equipment run down. The minister of communications admitted to the mass meeting that the telephone and post and telegraph systems generally had failed and that the postoffice had paid more than 15,000,000 crowns last year for stolen packages. Armed guards are now placed on all mail transport.

The worst factor in the situation is declared to be inability of officials to enforce discipline under the present government where various councils of workmen and soldiers operate to make the employees lax and independent.

One man who attempted to telephone from a postal sub-station was told by the attendant the other day to "go to a public automatic station, and don't worry me."

WOULD ALLOW PROBE OF ANY STOCK SALES

BOSTON, March 26.—A bill to permit the attorney general of the state to investigate in the interests of the public any matter relating to the issuance, transfer, sale, purchase or other dealings in shares or other securities was offered in the Massachusetts house of representatives yesterday afternoon by Representative B. Loring Young of Weston. The bill was drafted by Atty. Gen. J. Weston Allen.

Under the bill's provisions the attorney general may summon witnesses and secure the production of books and papers whenever he believes "there is cause to investigate any matter relating to the advertising or offering for sale of such securities, etc." or when there is cause to believe "that an unlawful conspiracy has been entered into affecting any of the aforesaid matters."

The attorney general is authorized by the bill to institute criminal proceedings when it appears from the investigation that there has been a violation of the law.

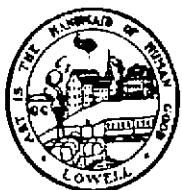

An emergency preamble has been attached in order that if the law is passed it may become operative at once.

The bill reads as follows:
"Section 1.—Whenever it appears to the attorney general that, in the interest of the public, there is cause to investigate any matter relating to the issuance, transfer, sale, purchase or other dealings in shares or other securities of corporation, voluntary trusts or associations, or dealings in foreign bonds or exchange, if it appears to the attorney general that such securities have been or are being offered for sale in this commonwealth, or whenever it appears to the attorney general that, in the interests of the public, there is cause to investigate any matter relating to the advertising or offering for sale of such securities or foreign bonds or exchange, or whenever it appears to the attorney general that there is cause to believe that an unlawful conspiracy has been entered into affecting any of the aforesaid matters, the attorney gen-

Man Alleges He Was Blinded by "Whiskey"

NEW YORK, March 25.—Alleging that he was partly blinded and otherwise injured by a liquor sold by the defendant as whiskey, "wholesome and drinkable," but which contained wood alcohol, Max Rein, a jeweller of No. 5308 Third avenue, Brooklyn, filed suit yesterday against Israel Turetzky of No. 77 Monroe street, Manhattan, to recover $100,000 damages.

It is alleged the supposed whiskey was bought last November. After drinking some of it, the complainant charges, he became ill and lost the sight of his right eye, while the sight of his left eye also became seriously impaired, and he suffered other ailments which may be permanent. Samuel Liebowitz of No. 50 Court street, Brooklyn, attorney for Rein, stated that the liquor was bought from Turetzky—four gallons at $13 a gallon—by Herman Seiler of No. 838 Hewitt place, the Bronx, whose daughter Rein was to marry. After the liquor was bought, the lawyer said, it was turned over to Rein to be used at a party he was to give to celebrate his engagement. Before the party Rein drank two or three glasses of the liquor, with the result alleged in the suit, the lawyer said.

Liebowitz declared that, owing to ill health from drinking the beverage, Rein was unable to marry. The time in which Turetzky may file an answer has not yet expired.

It is said that at 60 years of age a woman's chance of marrying is one-tenth of 1 per cent. or one chance in 1000.

MOTORMAN IS FOUND GUILTY

BOSTON, March 26.—Motorman Jas. J. O'Neill, who last week was formerly tried by the police commissioner for using abusive language to police officers, was yesterday punished by a four-day suspension of his Elevated license, beginning March 31. The text of the commissioner's finding is:

"In the matter of James J. O'Neill, motorman, who was given a hearing on March 19 and 20, 1920, for violation of the condition of his license as motorman of the Boston Elevated Railway company, as set down in rule 54 of the rules and regulations of this department, you will note that I have found the said O'Neill guilty. I hereby suspend the motorman's license of said O'Neill for a period of four days, beginning March 31, 1920. You will cause proper notice of such suspension to issue of the said O'Neill and to the Boston Elevated Railway company."

5 FIREMEN OVERCOME

Investigation to Determine if Fire in Shoe Plant Due to Labor Troubles

NEW YORK, March 26.—The factory of the Adler Shoe Co. in Brooklyn was damaged early this morning by a fire believed to have been of incendiary origin. An investigation to determine whether the blaze may have been the result of recent labor troubles at the factory has been started.

Five firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting the flames. The loss was estimated at $150,000, and more than 300 employees were temporarily out of work because of the fire.

NAPOLEON HAD THE RIGHT DOPE

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Napoleon's statement that every corporal carries in his knapsack the baton of a marshal, has been practically exemplified in Serg. Maj. Weber, leader of the Spartacist forces in the Ruhr valley, estimated to number 120,000 men.

BRINGING THEIR RELATIVES HERE

The near east relief committee of Lowell is directing the details in connection with the emigration to this country of many relatives of Armenians and Syrians of this city. The foreigners of this city have sought information in regard to their relatives at the different social service bureaus in the city.

Miss Breed of the Social Service league says that many of the foreigners have considerable money laid aside to defray the expenses of the voyage of their relatives and friends from their native lands. The cost of bringing a child from Armenia or Syria is $250 and when some of the foreigners desire to bring over all their family they must have quite a large sum saved up to pay for the trip at this rate. The several bureaus where information is sought report that these foreigners are in good financial condition and that they do not care how much it may cost as long as their mothers, or fathers, brothers, sisters, relatives or all their family reach this country in safety.

All the Armenians and Syrians who seek information or further details in regard to emigration to this country are referred to the near east relief committee.

AMERICA'S GIFT TO STATUE FUND

Throughout Middlesex county the committees in charge of the fund for America's gift to France report that their quotas are already assured and that great spirit is displayed by the public. The Lowell committee has deposited in a local bank thus far $150.35 so that the sum of $19.55 remains to be collected by Saturday night.

The Middlesex county committee reported last night that the county had on hand thus far, $595. Provided that the people continue to come forward and display interest similar to that of the past few days the county quota of $1000 will be raised without question. The entire matter is one of volunteer offering and not a campaign for money. What is asked is that the people show appreciation for France's gift to America, the Statue of Liberty, by contributing a sum, no matter how small, towards the total of $250,000, which is to be collected from the nation.

Strike Ties Up Rio Janeiro

WARSAW, March 26.—More than 2000 Poles repatriated from southern Russia by the American Red Cross, have arrived here this week and preparations are being made to receive five thousand each week until mid-summer. Two million Polish refugees are still missing from this country, Red Cross officials say in spite of the large numbers returning. Labor conditions which were deplorable during the past winter are expected to improve soon.

MR. HELLAR GIVES

PIANOFORTE RECITAL

William C. Heller, organist at St. Anne's church and recognized as a pianist of exceptional capabilities, gave a pianoforte recital in Colonial hall late evening before a large audience, many of whom have watched his rapid progress with friendly interest.

He essayed a program of wide variation, selecting the works of such old masters as Schubert, Chopin, Bach and Liszt, and thus imposing upon himself a considerable task. That he was fully capable of meeting the requirements of such a program was clearly shown throughout the recital. He brought out every tonal quality of his instrument and never failed to bring out a beautiful melody, well sustained and faultless in its interpretation of the composer's thought.

The program ran as follows:

Andante with variations... Schubert
Prelude and Fugue... C. Minor... Bach
Gavotte in Minor... Bach-Saens
Ballade in G Minor... Chopin
Nocturne in G... Chopin
Etude in G Sharp Minor... Chopin
Waltz in D Flat... Chopin
Etude in G Flat... Chopin
Polonaise in A... Chopin

The ghosts of the "hoodoo cell" in the city jail at Denver have claimed another victim. The single cell in an isolated part of the jail has been the scene of more than one grimy tragedy. Jacob Becker, charged with a petty offense, hanged himself with his belt after one night with the ghosts. The remains of the straps and ropes that two other men used to strangle out their lives cling to pipes at the roof of the cell. One man traced "better death than dishonor," across the wall before he took his life.

as a dormitory for some of the school girls, will be moved, according to present plans, farther back on the land, and in its place will be erected a building similar in construction to the gymnasium. It will contain a large recitation room, library, class rooms, well equipped laboratories, art studio, music studio, sound proof practice rooms, room for typewriting and stenography, and a domestic science laboratory. The plans as submitted by Ralph Adams Cram, a Boston architect, call also for the erection of a colonial colonnade connecting the proposed new building with the gymnasium and the present large building.

Ing. If the complete plan be carried out the school will be laid out in semi-circular style with the colonnade forming a very quaint centre for the grounds.

The trustees state that if the plan to raise a fund of $100,000 among those interested in the school is too ambitious, the sum of $25,000 at least ought to be raised immediately. This sum would be loaned to the trustees in order that they might procure temporary quarters to be used as a recitation building, and would be repaid with interest within five years.

The trustees point out that the operating expenses of schools have increased 54 per cent. in the last four years, that Rogers Hall has increased its fees for house pupils only 25 per cent., that a deficit has been avoided by an increase in numbers, and that the school has not been enlarged. They say that they need a larger school room, more class rooms, a room exclusively devoted to art, practice rooms for music students, and better equipped laboratories as well as a larger dining room, more bed rooms, an infirmary and more bath rooms. The proposed new academic building will take care of the academic needs and the space salvaged in the house and hall can be utilized in providing for the others. An addition to the main house is also contemplated.

Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's church, and president of the board of trustees stated that the undertaking will be started as soon as the necessary funds are on hand, and that the appeal being made by the alumnae among former students is most heartily endorsed.

Present and former students of Rogers Hall represent every state in the Union, but two. There are hundreds of young women throughout the country who have attended Rogers Hall and a large percentage of them are graduates. At the present time, besides those who have attended the school without graduating, there are 24 graduates in this city.

The alumnae has been set apart in committees which will see that all those who have any interest in the school, receive personal letters and information regarding the building proposition. All the members of the fund committee are Lowell people except the director, Miss Florence Harrison, a member of the faculty and a resident of Minneapolis.

Ex-Kaiser's Gold Behind Kapp Plot

GENEVA, March 26.—Former Emperor William of Germany withdrew deposits amounting to 250,000 Swiss francs from a Zurich bank early in March, it is learned here, and the money is said to have been sent to Berlin just before the attempted reactionary revolt led by Dr. Wolfgang Kapp and General Luetwitz. The German mark is now quoted at 10 centimes and the sum withdrawn from the bank would represent quite a snug fortune in Germany.

Now that Georges Carpentier, the champion boxer of Europe, is here, Jack Dempsey will probably feel a little nervous. From all accounts, Carpentier will not be so easily disposed of as was Jess Willard, but Dempsey will probably hold the championship.

In order to be a complete success, daylight saving must be adopted by the state, by all industries and transportation systems entering the state. It will be of little use for commuters to get out of bed an hour earlier than usual and hurry to a railroad station, if they have to wait an hour for a train.

When it comes to the selection of delegates to the democratic convention in lieu of party service, few will be found more deserving of recognition than Humphrey O'Sullivan. Through thick and thin he has stood with the party organization, often furnishing the financial resources which enabled it to battle for its candidates and its principles.

At Lexington, Ky., a 12-year-old boy has been taken away and held for $25,000 ransom. In every state of the union the penalty of capital punishment should be provided for offenses of that kind. The threat usually is that if the money is not forthcoming the child will be murdered. The government should provide the greatest possible deterrent against such crimes, which is capital punishment.

When the I. W. W. sets out to annex the American Legion, it has undertaken a task almost as difficult as that other plank in its platform by which it would overthrow our free government and inaugurate a reign of anarchy. We should be greatly surprised to find a single service man in the entire country so far deluded as to join the standard of the gang that would tear down the Stars and Stripes and hoist in its place the red rag of anarchy.

That proposition advanced by the farmers at their session in this city, in favor of a wholesale market, is one which should receive careful consideration not only in the interest of the farmers but of the people of our city. If a wholesale market such as proposed provided a centre at which the farmers could dispose of their supplies and where the people could go to buy what they wanted in that line, it could not fail to benefit the city by holding the prices of farm produce at reasonable figures.

PEACE BY RESOLUTION?

It is already understood that the republican scheme of declaring peace by resolution of congress is impracticable. If vetoed by the president, it would have no effect even if passed over the veto, because the president is charged with conducting the war and declaring peace. Any peace pact without his approval would be void. The republicans, it seems, are greatly hampered in their movements by the constitution.

HELP ARMENIA

It has been recommended by a sub-committee of the United States senate that we should furnish arms and ammunition to the Armenians in order to enable them to defend themselves against the Turks and further, that we should send marines to protect American interests from Batoum to Baku.

Of all the things to be regretted in the defeat of the treaty there was probably not one more disappointing than the failure to provide due protection for the new republic of Armenia against the massacres and aggression of the Turks.

Armenia had indulged the hope that the United States would act as a mandatory over the new republic, protecting it against all outside enemies and directing it on the road to success.

The failure to ratify the treaty has dashed the hopes of Armenia in this respect, and hence any movement to aid this unhappy country without treaty authorization will be very generally approved. The Armenians have always been able to hold their own with the Turks on an equal footing, and if they are given the equipment for an army, they will make good use of it in defending themselves and repelling their cruel foes.

A DELUSION

The tremendous values of exports and imports reported by the department of commerce for the year 1919 have led to the assumption that America was exporting and importing more commodities than ever before. The fact is, however, that America is under a delusion. It is true that the total value of exports in 1919 was almost eight billion, as compared with a value of only five and one-half billion in 1916. But in 1916 the United States exported more goods than in 1919. The total commodities exported in 1916 amounted to 53 million net tons, while the total in 1919 was 51 million tons.

Imports show the same. The total value of imports in 1919 was almost four billions, and the total tonnage was 46 millions; whereas in 1916, although the total value of imports was only two billion, the total tonnage was 51 million.

This results from counting in 50-cent dollars. It takes twice as many dollars to move the same amount of tonnage. Our exports and imports have actually fallen off in volume as compared with 1916. America is rich in money but not so rich in commodities. That's one reason why prices are so high.—N. E. A.

ASQUITH VS. GEORGE

Premier Asquith of England has come out boldly against Lloyd George's plan for a union of the old parties against the labor party, in order, he said, to prevent Bolshevism lifting its head in England. Mr. Asquith denounces the proposition as one for "class cleavage" and that is precisely what it is. Lloyd George wants to get a sufficient number of the old line liberals to join the Tories in forming a political party that may be able to win an occasional victory in general elections. For many years previous to the war, the old Tory party had shown such decadence that it could never hope to win a national victory. If the present coalition government were dissolved, its constituent elements would revert back to their former party affiliations rather than form a new party as proposed by the premier.

Mr. Asquith's appeal and his denunciation of Lloyd George's measure of home rule for Ireland, will have its effect in maintaining the identity of the old liberal party and in forming a friendly alliance between that and the labor party. Both combined can rule the empire; and there is little doubt as to the early defeat of the present premier and the bursting of his hopes in regard to a new party that might hold him in power.

HOOVER

It appears that Mr. Hoover made a very favorable impression in his appearance before the Boston Chamber of Commerce. It is admitted that he does not excel as an extempore speaker but what he says carries weight and indicates an unusually good fund of common sense backed by sound judgment. The visit of Hoover tended to weaken the movement in favor of General Wood who is already branded as the candidate of the monopolistic interests. There is very great similarity in the methods of conducting the Wood campaign and those which were evolved by Mark Hanna, the manager of William McKinley's first campaign. Hanna believed implicitly in the power of money in carrying the presidential election and since his day republicans have usually followed his plan except where the law intervened to restrict the amount of contributions offered by corporations. Hoover and a number of other candidates are avoiding the Wood method and may fare as well in the long run as if they went out skirmishing for delegates to the convention and meeting all the expenses incurred.

Mr. Hoover is doubtless a man of presidential size; but he would be rather more of an international character than the people want just at present when true Americanism is the watchword.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

This is community week during which every citizen interested in community effort is expected to become a member of the organization now seeking public support for the benefits of the entire community without distinction as to class or creed. Community service aims at the promotion of every good work that will help the community as a whole. The trouble in the past has been that each class in the community has been working out its own ends, sometimes in a manner that was rather selfish and seldom of use to the community at large. Under the Community Service, Inc., the aim is entirely different: It is to bring all classes together for the common good and the welfare of our city and its people. Native-born citizens are to stand on the same level with the adopted, and all are to join in friendly co-operation in movements that cannot fail to make Lowell a better city in which to live and do business. Thus, all classes will be benefited through this service. Those who hesitate and ask questions should become members and get all the necessary information from the inside. If they are not satisfied with what they find, they can easily retire. The doors are wide open for admission; and they are equally open for those who wish to retire if they do not care to proceed with the work, or if they find at any time that there is anything in this Community Service, that is not strictly as represented for the common good of all.

MEXICAN OUTLAWS

When will some man arise in Mexico with power to go out and get Villa? If President Carranza had the means and the courage to provide the forces, the army and airplanes necessary to stamp out Villa, he should lose no time in putting an end to him and his clan.

Villa is credited with having wiped out a whole Mexican village a few days ago, killing the unoffending men, women and children on some insignificant pretext.

Parts of Mexico are continually overrun by Villa and his bandits. Outrages are perpetrated that bring disgrace upon the nation; and apparently the Carranza government is unable to suppress them.

Sometimes there is uncertainty as to whether the Carranza regime or the Villa outlaws, are responsible for outrages upon Americans in Mexico and even across the border in the United States. When there is no direct or positive evidence against the Carranzas, they blame the Villa bandits for the outrages committed. There must be an end to this state of affairs.

The United States has been very patient with Mexico under trying circumstances; but we cannot allow these outrages to continue indefinitely as a fixed policy. It is true, that there are American interests always ready to exaggerate any attack or injustice upon Americans in Mexico; but making all due allowance for this, the fact remains that there seems to be no responsible government in Mexico and no means of rounding up the bandits who keep up a sort of guerrilla warfare combined with plunder, usually retreating to the hills after they commit a crime.

What is needed in Mexico is a force of cavalry aided by airplanes to run down the Villa outlaws and exterminate them. They deserve no better fate.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Food Taste Good

Creates an appetite, aids digestion, purifies the blood, promotes assimilation so as to secure full nutritive value of food, and to give strength to the whole system. Assailing a Coward

As the motor car sped along the lonely road the young man bent over his fair passenger with a sentimental air.

"At last, Vera, at last we are alone!" he breathed basily. "How I have longed for this moment. May I—may I kiss your hands?"

His temerity startled him much more than it startled the girl. With a quick loss of her head she threw the veil back clear of her face.

"I don't think so, Fred," she replied quietly. "Can't you see I have my gloves on?"

Shrewd Professor

The recent death of both Andrew Carnegie and Prof. Ernst Haeckel, the scientist and philosopher of Jena, who died within a few days of each other, recalls the story of a student about to go to Jena who was called into Mr. Carnegie's office and told to get an autograph of the well-known professor. Some time afterward Mr. Carnegie received this letter: "Ernst Haeckel gratefully acknowledges receiving from Andrew Carnegie a Trumet microscope for the biological laboratory at Jena." The ironmaster was so delighted with the professor's shrewdness that he promptly sent the desired microscope.

Good Cheer

Let's talk good cheer this morning. No matter if we're blue. Somewhere we know there's happiness. Stored up for me and you. So let's just seek to find it. To drive away our cares. To before we know it, gladness will be taking us by the hand. Let's speak good cheer.

Let's talk good cheer this morning. No matter how things go wrong. If burdens seem too heavy. We'll bear them with a song. We'll talk it to the home folks. And our fellows on the street. Let's talk it "strong" this morning. To everyone we meet. Let's speak good cheer.

Let's speak good cheer this morning. To the weary and sad of heart. To the one who is tried and tempted. Not struggling to do his part. Just a cheerful word of greeting. And a kindly helpful hand—tell you these things are sermons. That the weakest can understand. Let's speak good cheer.

Let's talk good cheer this morning. For the best way is ahead. The days may be filled with aushins. And not the clouds we dread. But if the dark clouds must appear. We'll find the silver lining. So we'll "pack our troubles in the old kit bag" And just keep right on smiling. —LOUISE M. MARTIN, in Christian Herald.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

An illustration of the scarcity of tenements and family dwelling houses in Lowell at the present time is afforded in the experience of a family whom I know. The family in question came to this country from Canada some six weeks ago and decided upon Lowell as their place of abode, confident that they would have little difficulty in finding a suitable home as they were willing to pay a fairly generous price for accommodations. However, when it came time to get a tenement or house, unexpected difficulties were met and the seven members of the family had to separate and take rooms in lodging houses. They are scattered in all parts of the city and are still on the hunt for a home where they may live together again. But at present the prospect seems to them most dubious.

ROOT ACCEPTS LEAGUE OF NATIONS OFFER

LONDON, March 26.—Elihu Root has accepted the invitation to become a member of the committee agreed upon at the London meeting of the council of the League of Nations to work out the details for the constitution of a permanent court of international justice. It was announced yesterday.

Other men invited to serve on the committee were Baron Deschamps of Belgium, a member of the League Court of Arbitration; Senor Luis M. CALL EYE SPECIALISTS IN LOWELL MAN'S CASE

Patrick J. Reynolds, attorney for Horace Kinney, an employe of the United States Cartridge company, who seeks to have his compensation for injury restored after its once being stopped, has been informed by the industrial accident board that Boston eye specialists will be called in on the case to decide whether Kinney's blindness is due to the nature of his work or to his toxic condition.

Kinney was employed in the mercury mixing department of the Cartridge company for seven or eight years and then was transferred to the lead-mixing department. After being there a while, he says, he felt blindness coming over one eye. He reported his case and was paid compensation by the Travelers Insurance company. Later the industrial accident board sent an examiner here and following the examination, Mr. Kinney's compensation was cut off. He now seeks to have it restored. A hearing has been held here but the case will be continued in Boston where Boston eye specialists will be asked to testify.

"I won't run away any more," was all that 13-year-old Georgianna Adamakos said when she was brought to Lowell police headquarters last evening by a lodging house keeper with whom she had taken refuge after leaving her home at 82 Common street early yesterday morning. According to the police, Georgianna left her home early yesterday morning for no apparent reason and late in the afternoon went to a lodging house on Merrimack street, telling the proprietor that she had come from Boston in search of her parents. The proprietor finally decided to take her to the station, and the pair arrived there at the same time that the girl's father was leaving after having related the story of his daughter's mysterious disappearance to the police. So Georgianna went home with her father and, as already stated, she says she won't do it again.

NEWSPAPER GAME IN SCREEN PORTRAYAL

A newspaper yarn, "Deadline at Eleven," featuring Miss Corinne Griffith, surrounded by a capable company, is being shown at The Strand theatre the last three days of this week. The management extended a cordial invitation to Lowell newspaper men to attend yesterday afternoon's performance and a number took advantage of the offer and seemed to enjoy the story. As in almost every instance when a motion picture producer attempts to screen a story which has to do with a profession of which he hasn't the most intimate knowledge, there is a tendency to overdo the thing in an effort to color it to suit the public taste. This is somewhat true as applied to "Deadline at Eleven" although the person not intimately acquainted with the actual workings of a newspaper office would find little to criticize.

Then, again, the ordinary routine of any business or profession is altogether too prosaic to suit the motion picture man's needs for a plot, so he must inject a little of the improbable to give it life and a thread of a story. This is done in the present picture, but happily not to the extent of making it appear absolutely impossible.

In converting an English park into an air-drome, engineers buried several hundred feet of a river and made it flow through an inverted double siphon built of concrete.

Stand of giant Redwoods in Humboldt County, California. Size of trees indicated by figure of man.

FORM LEAGUE TO SAVE TEMPLES OF GOD

N.E.A. Staff Special

BERKELEY, Cal., March 26.—Will California's giant Redwood trees, contemporaries of Rameses and the Caesars fall victim, like the Indian and the buffalo to the ruthlessness of the white invader?

Unless the nation is aroused these tall monoliths, the oldest living things in the world, will soon be converted into private dollars, for already the high cost of lumber is bringing about an alarming invasion into "God's First Temples" by axe, rotary saw and donkey engine.

Nature lovers and conservationists have sounded the alarm through California and Oregon and have organized a "Save the Redwoods League" with headquarters here and with former secretary of Interior Franklin K. Lane as president and William Kent, Stephen Mather and others active supporters. They are seeking federal aid in having the Humboldt county forests nationalized, and with what private funds have been donated are buying small forest tracts along the highway to save them from the lumberman's axe.

Northern California and southern

Oregon form the last stand of these glorious monarchs, known to the scientific world as Sequoia Sempervirens. Almost ageless, many of them have stood since the days when history was young. The oldest spent their youth in tertiary times and shed their leafy benevolence while man and beast were fighting with club and fang. Even the youngest have stood patiently since the days when civilization slowly encroached, felled perhaps at last to be converted into shingles and rafters for modern man.

The Redwood has proven the "fittest of the conifers" because it has survived many of its pitted cousins in withstanding forest fires which sear, but do not destroy this timber.

Because of their bulk these trees thus far have largely escaped the lumberman's craft, but now it is being found profitable to cut them, so high has the cost of lumber soared.

Big plans are under way to mill these forests and only the concerted protest and action of nature-lovers can save them for coming generations.

SHELLS FALL IN WESEL

15 Drop in Civilian Part,
Causing Heavy Damage
and Killing Three Persons

WESEL, Rhinish Prussia, March 25, 5 p. m. (By Associated Press.)—Fifteen shells fell in the civilian part of Wesel today, considerably damaging a number of dwellings in the business quarter and resulted in the killing of a nurse and two children.

The virtual shutting off of Wesel from news of the outside world, little information of what is going on elsewhere reaching the city is adding to the tenseness of the situation in the beleaguered town.

There was a flurry this afternoon, causing crowds to collect, when a squad of soldiers passed through one of the streets escorting three men, believed to be spies who had been taken prisoner. The men were compelled to hold their arms above their heads.

There is evidence of some dissatisfaction among the Reichswehr over the proclamation issued by Major General Kabisch forbidding men who had been dismissed from the army to wear their uniforms. A number of such men, including three officers, who crossed the Rhine Monday night, have been interned by the Belgians.

The morale of the remaining troops is said to be good. Many veterans, wearing iron crosses, are frequently seen. Reserves on their way to the front lines this afternoon passed through the streets singing.

RUSSIAN REDS DIRECT GERMAN SPARTACANS

ROTTERDAM, March 26.—The Spartacan movement has been organized with co-operation of the Russian reds and the Bolshevik offensive against Poland has been launched with the joint object that Trotsky, the Russian Bolshevik minister of war, would be at the gates of Berlin at the beginning of July, according to Munster despatch to the Courant. Russian red army officers, says the correspondent, are directing the German Spartacans whose army is being rapidly organized and armed on the exact model of Trotsky's.

The revolution was planned originally for May 1, but the leaders believed that the Kapp movement gave them an opportunity to hasten their plans which included the capture of Munster and Wesel.

Still well

I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women nine years ago, as I was then suffering from general weakness brought on by overwork. I was sick in bed and was beginning to get discouraged, as I was growing weaker every day. I had gas on the stomach, and that combined with sore back made me suffer terribly. I had consulted several physicians, who were unable to help me any, and so I then took RED PILLS, which relieved me altogether in a very short time. I am now perfectly well and happy.

—Mrs. EMILIA DESILET
77 Clinton Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

Extreme Weakness

RED PILLS have helped me of extreme weakness from which I had been suffering. My mother had recommended them to me, knowing through experience of their beneficial properties, and now that I have become familiar with the good results obtained through their use, they have been my favorite remedy for the past sixteen years.

—Mrs. DELIA LAVIGNE
547 Silver Street, Manchester East, N.H.

RED PILLS

Truly, RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women are the ideal medicine for weak and sick women who wish to keep up their strength, especially for mothers who have to bring up a family. I myself used them at different times during my life, and always with the most satisfactory results. They helped me at each confinement, and my children were all strong and healthy. Now when I see any of my friends who are weak and sickly, I cannot recommend them anything better than RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women.

—Mrs. EXILDA BIBEAU
302 Moody Street, Lowell, Mass.

A recent confinement had left me in such a weakened condition that several of my friends advised me to give RED PILLS a trial, stating that they were the surest remedy, and one which would be sure to give me prompt results. I had taken but a few boxes when I began to notice that I was getting stronger, and it was not long before I was well again and enjoying good health. Now, when the occasion arises, I am always anxious to recommend RED PILLS to Weak and Suffering Women.—Mrs. ETIENNE CHAMPAGNA

461 Rimmon Street, Manchester West, N.H.

RED PILLS are for Women only

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "FRANCO-AMERICAN CHEMICAL COMPANY LIMITED" is on every box.

United States should intervene in Mexico will be decided in Salem tonight when the Lowell high school debating team will meet the debating team of the Salem high school. The question is, "Resolved, that the United States should intervene in Mexico."

Mr. Sturtevant of the English department of the high school and Miss Mary Joyce, teacher of elocution, have been coaching the debaters for the past three or four weeks, and they have hopes of a very strongly contested debate. This is the return debate with Salem.

The debaters are Francis O'Donnell, James W. Flood, William J. McCann and as an alternate, Meyer Lipschitz. Mr. Sturtevant will accompany the team to Salem.

Kidnapped Boy

man registered as J. C. Cox, of Cincinnati. The frantic parents, overjoyed at the news of their boy's safety hurried to the hotel and took him home.

The boy disappeared Wednesday afternoon from in front of the Lexington postoffice where he had been seen in conversation with a man. Playmates said the Little boy had told them he was to be given a dollar to deliver a box of candy. Soon afterward, the father received a note stating that his son Paul was being held for ransom. Little intimated that the amount asked was $25,000. Last night, Little deposited a package containing the ransom money in a main street garbage can. When he returned a half hour later the package had not been removed. Having the kidnapper failed to show up for fear of being "double-crossed," Little pocketed the money and went home, intending today to seek other means of obtaining the boy.

At 7 o'clock this morning the key for the room in which the boy was found was turned in at the hotel desk. At 7:15 a. m. Mrs. Little, called to the telephone, was overjoyed to hear the voice of her missing son. Nothing has been seen of the "Mr. Cox" since he left the hotel at 7 o'clock.

Arrest Expected
Katherine Sartain, maid on the sixth floor of the hotel, said she had not been able to get into the room occupied by Cox for two days, or ever since.

Merrimack Rising Rapidly

to pieces on the rocks below and the river is clear as far as the eye can reach from the Pawtucket bridge. With the flashboards gone, the water dropped considerably in height on the dam even though the river rose rapidly throughout the night. Water was pouring over the dam this morning, four feet above the stone crest. In many places toward the boulevard side the water has almost a level flow and it is expected that all signs of the dam will disappear on that end by Sunday.

Great clouds of spray and mist were churned up by the water as it broke against the rocks and stone pillars of the bridge today, becoming so dense at times as to entirely shut out all view of the river. It is hoped that the storm boards on the bridge will be taken down before Sunday in order that the thousands of people who will journey to the falls may enjoy the majesty of the scene.

Although ice is coming down the river in large cakes, it is fair to presume that great quantities broken up in the stream to the north have not reached Lowell and the water will continue to rise over the week-end.

There is practically no ice coming down the Concord river, although it is three inches higher today than on the gauges at the Lawrence street dam at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Swollen brooks are emptying into the river and if the Merrimack continues to rise some back water will be forced up from the mouth of the Concord below the Massachusetts mills.

Howe street and the cellars of several buildings on the river bank are still flooded and today the stream had swollen to such an extent that the water has spread out over the foundations of the old tannery building at one side of the dam near Howe street and is tumbling over them in fantastic cataclysmic form.

Many houses in Billerica are entirely surrounded by water, one in particular just beyond the Fordway bridge being marooned on a small island, with boats tied to the front door as the only means of transportation from the house to the road.

Classic Collegiate Rowing

Race to be Revived Tomorrow After Lapse of 6 Years

NEW YORK, March 25.—After a lapse of six years the classic collegiate rowing race between the Oxford and Cambridge universities will be revived tomorrow in England. This annual rowing event, which was first decided in 1829, was won 29 times by the Oxford crew and 11 times by the Cambridge crew. The race was last held in 1854, when the Cambridge crew won. The race was revived in 1914, when the Cambridge crew won. The race was again held in 1915, when the Cambridge crew won. The race was again held in 1916, when the Cambridge crew won. The race was again held in 1917, when the Cambridge crew won. The race was again held in 1918, when the Cambridge crew won. The race was again held in 1919, when the Cambridge crew won. The race was again held in 1920, when the Cambridge crew won.

to say that the floor seats and balcony will be filled to overflowing, for both teams have their followings and the local color added will tend to augment the size of the crowd.

The teams will battle not only for the championship and a silver cup donated by Frank Ricard, but also for the entire gate receipts and a side bet of $100. It will be a series well worth watching from more than one standpoint and the fair is sure to fly. The game Monday night will start at 8:30 o'clock.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT

Inter-Party Deliberations

Fruitless

BERLIN, March 25.—Inter-party deliberations looking to the reorganization of the German government had been fruitless up until 7 o'clock this evening. Unexpected attacks on Vice Premier Schiffer and increased dissension in the wing of the socialist party led by Philipp Scheidemann, former chancellor, featured the debate.

Dr. Schiffer was sharply criticized by the right socialists for alleged duplicity in his negotiations with Dr. Wolfgang Kapp, leader of the revolt of March 13, and it was claimed he had issued a premature and unauthorized statement announcing the end of the general strike. The latter action, it was said, had been taken without consulting with officials of the labor federation.

Democratic party leaders fished to the defense of Dr. Schiffer, declaring he had acted as a representative of the government and that he was not bound by party politics.

A wide gap developed between the Berlin contingent of the right socialists and the party's representatives who had supported Gustav Noske, former minister of defense, at Stuttgart. The former faction is made up of followers of Dr. Scheidemann, who hold the independent socialists should be humored as they were obliged to respect the agreement effected with the federation of trade unions. The left wing of the right socialists is openly rebelling against the attitude of the party's representatives in the government who are accused of attempting to

A most enjoyable surprise party in honor of Miss Margaret Tenney, who is soon to become the bride of a local young man, was staged in Lincoln hall last evening by her co-workers of the Lowell Telephone exchange. Miss Tenney was presented many valuable gifts by friends, all of whom joined in wishing her health, wealth and happiness. Following the presentation a banquet was served, after which prizes for the best costumes worn by the young women present were awarded. First prize went to Miss Alice Roughan in a "Charlie Chaplin" costume; second, Miss Ruth Flint, who appeared as "Simple Simon"; and third prize, Miss Margaret Fitzpatrick as "Cris Hopkins." Miss Helen Moran, president of the local telephone operators' union, had general charge of arrangements.

The dramatic re-union of Deputy Sheriff John Burke and his son Willie whom he captured as "Red" Christensen, "Murder-head," to learn that it was the boy he left with the lad's mother 14 years ago.

BATTLES TO FREE BOY HE VOWED TO HANG

N.E.A. Staff Special

SAN MATEO, Cal., March 26.—John Burke, deputy sheriff of San Mateo county, for a year trailed "Red" Christensen up and down California as relentlessly as Javert hounded Jean Valjean.

He had landed William Hanke for killing and robbing Albert Reidinger, jitney man, and had assisted in giving him life imprisonment. But Hanke's partner "Red" was missing. It was a "foul murder" and "Red" was a "head," said Burke who swore he'd make him swing.

Then, just as the law's net was closing on "Red," Burke's divorced wife's brother came to him and asked:

Close the Net

"Do you know who this 'red' Christensen is?"

"Sure I do," boasted Burke. He's the yegg who helped slug Reidinger—a foul murder. I'll have him dead to rights in three days."

"Well," said the brother-in-law, "he's your son. His mother sent me to tell you."

At first Burke was as stunned as Reidinger was by the gas pipe. Then dutifully asserted itself. "If he's guilty," said Burke, "he'll swing."

Duty Versus Love

"Red" was arrested. Then his father who had not seen him since the lad was five years old, looked into the freckled face and stroked the red head of an honest-looking, awkward youth of 19 and called him Willie. The miracle of love was performed again.

"Guilty? A head?" Burke now says. "Say, look at that kid and judge for yourself. He had no more to do with that murder than I did. He's just the kind of a kid I hoped the baby would grow into."

Defends His "Baby"

Burke, the implacable trailer of the "head," is now defending Willie, his son and will, he says, prove him innocent. He has secured corroboration from Hanke to the boy's story that he was only riding in the machine and had no part in the crime.

Burke still holds his job of man hunter and will trail other "heads." Some will turn out to be red-headed lads with honest faces, other boys caught in circumstantial traps. Will Burke sneer at their stories and bully them with his belief in their guilt, or will he remember how near he came to sending his son to the gallows?

the original woman "Bull Moose," 3000 Spokane women are battling down the high cost of living here with a consumers' league, a reverse-Englisu boycott, a weekly bulletin of prices and a slogan.

The league is supported by dues of 25 cents a month from each member.

Instead of boycotting merchants who charge too much, the women seek out those who cut prices, boost them in the weekly bulletin, which is mailed to all members and enable the cut-raters to sell large volumes at low prices.

The slogan—which is considerably worrying some local stores—is "No thank you—it costs too much!" The league is headed by Dean William C. Hicks, of the Episcopal church here. The organizer and guiding spirit is Mrs. Sarah Flannigan, who attained fame some years ago as the only woman delegate to the original bull moose convention in Chicago.

A dozen Spokane drygoods and grocery firms have rushed into print recently to assure the league that they're with 'em. But the women aren't taking anyone's word for it. If a price seems too high the slogan is gently wafted across the counter—and the next issue of the bulletin carries the word along.

DOUBLE MURDER IN N. Y.

Doctor and "Patient" Found

Dead in Lodging House—

Third Man Missing

NEW YORK, March 26.—Detectives of the homicide bureau today were searching for a "third man" in the belief that his capture would clear up the mystery in the double murder of Dr. Vincent J. Campisi, a wealthy young Brooklyn physician and an unidentified "patient" whose bodies were found in a disordered lodging house room in Brooklyn, last night.

Dr. Campisi was summoned to visit the patient last night by a middle aged man who accompanied him to the lodging house. An hour later Dr. Campisi's body, terribly slashed, was found on the floor of the patient's room and the latter was dead in his bed with the imprint of human fingers on the throat. The third man had disappeared.

One theory advanced was that the patient had been assaulted earlier by the missing man, and that Dr. Campisi was murdered by the same man after the doctor, summoned to give medical aid, had pronounced the patient dead and had threatened to notify the police.

DON'T WASTE WASTE

Sec. Alexander Urges Housewives to Utilize Paper, Rubbers, Metals, Etc.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—"Don't waste waste," Secretary of Commerce Alexander today urged upon the American housewife, calling attention to the possibility of utilizing much of the refuse which will be disclosed by the spring housecleaning. At least $50,000,000 worth of waste paper, rubber, metals and other articles sent to the rubbish heap each year, can be reclaimed, the secretary said.

"The lessons learned during the war should not be forgotten," Mr. Alexander said. "It is very essential that every means of offsetting the high cost of living be found. Turn waste back into the channels of commerce by selling odds and ends to the junk dealers who will start them back into useful trades."

SEEK BONUS RANGING FROM $1000 TO $2500

MONTREAL, March 25.—Canadian ex-service men want a bonus from the government ranging from a minimum of $1000 to a maximum of $2500, according to resolutions adopted last night at the annual convention of the Great War Veterans' association of Canada.

The resolutions call upon parliament to take immediate action because of the serious difficulties confronting the soldiers in their efforts to re-establish themselves. The soldiers also ask that dependents or beneficiaries of men killed receive a lump sum equal to the amount the soldier would have received up to the signing of the armistice.

Dominion Secretary-Treasurer MacNeil informed the delegates that the proposed bonus would cost the government $215,000,000. He said the present government had declared itself against an indiscriminate cash bonus.

RIGHT TO SEARCH SUIT CASE FOR LIQUOR

NEW YORK, March 26.—The perils of carrying one's liquor about in overnight bags or suitcases, has been enhanced in Brooklyn by a ruling of United States Commissioner McGoldrick that such containers may be searched on sight by official enforcers of the "dry" act.

Overruling contentions of attorneys that their client's right had been violated by search of his suitcase, Commissioner McGoldrick held Robert Walsh, of Kings Park, for action by the federal grand jury.

"I believe that when an officer suspects a person is carrying liquor in a package or bag that he has the right to search the package or bag, and does not need a search warrant to do it,"

the commissioner said. "I don't believe the recent federal ruling against him that his letters from Germany to raiding without search warrants applies here."

Napoleon's handwriting was so illegible that his letters from Germany to Josephine were at first taken for rough maps of the seat of war.

adopted by the municipal council in July, 1915, provides that no vehicle shall be allowed to stand in Paige street from Bridge to John street between 8.30 a. m. and 7 p. m. except vehicles of the fire and police departments and ambulances. Accordingly, Mr. Pappas is not entitled to keep his machine in front of his office for more than 20 minutes at a time between the hours mentioned.

The city solicitor's opinion is as follows:
Redmond Welch, Esq.,
Superintendent of Police,
Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: In answer to the query contained in your communication of the 24th I would refer you to the ordinance entitled "Ordinance Regulating Vehicular Traffic on Ways in the City of Lowell," and particularly to section 4 of the same, said ordinance having been ordained on the 20 day of July, 1915.

Said section 4 provides among others, "that no vehicle shall stop or stand more than 20 minutes on the following street areas, except for the period of time necessary, if it exceeds 20 minutes, for loading or unloading of merchandise." Paige street, from its intersection with Bridge street to its intersection with John street. Under the provisions of said ordinance it is clear that no vehicle shall be allowed to stand on Paige street within the limits described between the hours of 8.30 a. m. to 7 p. m. except on Sundays and holidays, and on Saturdays from 8.30 to 3 p. m. other than the period of time stated in said section 4. This prohibition is absolute and contains no exceptions other than to the vehicles of the fire and police departments and to the ambulance there in the performance of duty.

Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM D. REGAN,
City Solicitor.

Regulars Hold Wesel

workers will undertake to maintain public order in the district.

Reds Take Several Villages

LONDON, March 25.—Workers' forces entrenched along the Lippe river, south and southeast of the city of Wesel, threaten, if they fail to capture Wesel, to destroy all factories and mines in western Germany, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co., filed in Berlin this morning. The Reds have established great headquarters similar to that of old German army and are issuing official statements.

In last night's communiqué, the Reds claimed to have captured several villages and to have taken more than 200 prisoners during the day. They say the government troops in western Germany are not taking any action, pending orders from Berlin.

Treatment of complicity in the revolutionary movement by military authorities at Halle has greatly excited German workers, rendering the situation more critical, it is reported.

Wesel Still Holds Out

COBLENZ, March 25.—(By Associated Press)—It was stated from German official sources tonight that Wesel, the government fortress northwest of the Ruhr region, besieged by a workers' army, was still in the hands of the government troops at 9 o'clock, although the fighting was heavy.

The government officials declared, had definitely decided not to negotiate with the revolutionaries in the Ruhr region because of their violation of the armistice agreement Tuesday night and Wednesday. A counter attack by the Reichswehr was expected momentarily, it was said, the situation of the troops in Wesel remaining critical meanwhile.

In Berlin it was announced the situation was still unsettled.

To March On Berlin

BERLIN, March 25.—The majority socialist organ Vorwaerts charges that Pomerania and the northern Uckermark, northwest of Stettin, are under the domination of the Iron division (Baltic troops) and the League of Pomeranian land owners, who have mobilized the citizens' guard and used it for their own purposes. In Prenzlau, southwest of Stettin, they procured the murder of the local executive of the independent socialists, the newspaper declares.

According to statement made by its officers, the Vorwaerts asserts, the Iron division intends to march on Berlin.

The peasants of the eastern district of Prignitz, northwestern Brandenburg have been equipped with machine guns, according to other advices to Vorwaerts, while reports of similar terrorism come from other parts of Brandenburg.

Machine Guns Used in Battle

AMSTERDAM, March 25.—Fighting at Wesel began yesterday morning when government troops sent to secure arms the communists had agreed to surrender were fired upon with machine guns, says a Muenster despatch to the Telegraaf. On Wednesday night the commander of the troops in Wesel demanded that the Reds withdraw to a line about two miles south of the Lippe river and surrender arms stored at Peddenburg. This was agreed to, it is said, but fighting developed when the communists were asked to turn over the arms.

When communist forces occupied Dülmen, a town 25 miles east of Wesel, government troops holding the place retired without fighting, it is said.

Reds in Retreat

BUDERICH, Rhenish Prussia, March 25 (By Associated Press).—Ebert government troops still held Wesel across the Rhine north of this city, at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Fighting, which had been in progress during the day, was seemingly dying away at that hour and, although Wesel was under fire from artillery in the hands of the workers' army the troops had succeeded in repelling all infantry attacks.

Today's battle opened during the forenoon when government troops attacked the workers' forces which had advanced to within a few hundred yards of the Wesel bridgehead. Moving rapidly to the onslaught, the regulars drove the Reds south across the Lippe river and southeast out of Lippe Schloos. In the meantime, government artillery opened fire upon the workers' headquarters at Lippendorf and partially destroyed them. Working southward from Lippe Schloos and eastward from Lippendorf, the regulars began a double flank attack which swept the Reds back, they being forced to retreat under heavy artillery and machine gun fire. An armored train pushed along toward the bridge across the Lippe river, about three and a half miles from Wesel and kept up a steady fire on the workers.

Many shells fired by the workers' artillery flew wild during this struggle. One of them struck at the gate of Fort Bluecher on the Belgian bank of the Rhine and then ricocheted, bursting harmlessly.

strongly entrenched north of the Lippe river and are being constantly reinforced by armed farmers and bourgeois from towns nearby, the frontier correspondent of the Telegraaf says. The Red army's trenches are but little over a half mile from those occupied by the defenders of Wesel and are manned by about 4000 men. The Red forces also are increasing, it is said. Casualties in the ranks of the Communists in the fighting up to last night, have been quite light, being only about 40 dead and 100 wounded.

Southwest of the scene of the fighting are Belgian forces which have been withdrawn to the left bank of the Rhine from the bridge head formerly occupied on the right bank. In addition to the Belgians, French troops equipped with artillery are arriving. Soldiers in the Communist army re-

PLAYS LLOYD GEORGE IN FRENCH CHAMBER

PARIS, March 26.—A bitter attack upon Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain was delivered in the chamber of deputies this afternoon by Jean Louis Barthou, former premier.

M. Barthou declared that the British premier was in agreement with the allies in sending stern notes to Germany, but they bore the signatures of Clemenceau or Millerand, while when concessions were allowed Germany the notes were signed by Mr. Lloyd George. "Thus France is left alone facing Germany as the country toward which Germany must prepare her revenge," he said.

"France," he declared, "cannot remain in a position of inferiority toward the other free nations. She has nothing to hide of her policies, projects or aims. France is not a militaristic nation. There is no military dictatorship in France. She desires no conquests; but she asks restitution."

M. Barthou's declaration that France was not a militaristic nation was taken as a reply to the recent letter of President Wilson to Senator Hitchcock.

"I have confidence," M. Barthou continued, "that the United States will finally ratify the peace treaty which is rejected today. The United States one day will take its place in the League of Nations, but meanwhile the treaty, which guarantees England, the United States and France, is a dead letter. England has obtained its security by destruction of the German fleet, but France stands alone."

M. Barthou advocates the resumption of relations with Russia, and said Italy's stand along this line was being supported by Great Britain.

"Great Britain knows how to defend her interests," added the ex-premier. "France is still strong enough to defend hers with her allies. If they agree, and without them, if they withdraw."

M. Barthou insisted upon strict application of the peace treaty and the pursuance of a hands-off policy toward Germany as far as a choice of a government for herself was concerned.

Deputies and spectators alike were puzzled as to M. Barthou's motives. The question was raised whether it might not have been a maneuver of evolution toward the parties of the Left, with the assistance of which M. Barthou, according to reports, hopes to govern the country in the near future.

While M. Barthou was attacking Great Britain someone on the extreme right shouted:

"You speak like Caillaux." (Former Premier Caillaux is on trial before the high court charged with treason.)

The consensus of opinion was that M. Barthou's attack against an allied government was ill-timed, many deputies declaring after the sitting of the chamber that his speech would only tend to complicate a situation already grave. Charles Bernard, deputy for Paris, said: "He has scuttled his own ministry before forming it."

CARPENTIER PRIZE FIGHTER DE LUXE.

NEW YORK, March 26.—Callers on M. and Mme. Georges Carpentier became convinced today that the French champion is a prize fighter de luxe. Their flower-filled, sumptuously furnished six rooms constitute the best suite in one of the city's newest and best hotels. From France they brought a valet, a maid, a secretary, a manager and a trainer, and 35 trunks.

Carpentier is enabled to be a gift, Carpentier is enabled to be a gift, Carpentier is enabled to be a gift. In addition to natural Apollo-like Beau Brummel by the following wardrobe:

One hundred silk shirts of various hues, stripes and dots with collars to match.

Twenty overcoats, three fur coats and one fur robe.

Seventy-five suits.

Seventy-five pairs of shoes.

Two hundred neckties.

The wardrobe has been found to be insufficient for American purposes and Carpentier is rapidly increasing it by visits to Fifth Avenue shops.

INQUEST ON BODY OF MAN WHO DIED AT PRIVATE HOSPITAL

MALDEN, March 26.—Marks found on the body of Alvin W. Woodward of this city, who died at a private hospital in Meriden, Conn., on Feb. 11, led to an autopsy today by order of the district attorney of Middlesex county. The death of Woodward, who was a designer of silversware, occurred after three days' illness which was reported as pneumonia.

When the body was brought here for burial, a dent was noticed in the forehead and two discolorations over the right eye. The condition was brought to the attention of the district attorney's office by Woodward's daughter, Mrs. George Frost of Boston, and examination was ordered to determine whether there was any fracture of the skull or other indication of violence.

DE VALERA TO ADDRESS MARYLAND HOUSE

ANAPOLIS, Md., March 26.—Acting on a resolution adopted by the Maryland house of delegates, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie today sent a letter to Eamon de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," inviting him to address that body next week.

Storm Guards on Pawtucket Bridge Obstruct View of River Observers

Employees of the street department will begin taking down the storm guards from various bridges throughout the city next Monday, according to Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy. The first job to be tackled will probably be the guards on the new Pawtucket bridge in order that visitors may have an unobstructed view of the falls and Merrimack river swollen by melting snow and ice from the north. There have already been numerous complaints from people who have been unable to get a good view of the unusual spectacle afforded at this season of the year, but Commissioner Murphy says that these complaints have been countered by the sentiments of residents of Pawtucketville who have occasion to cross the bridge daily. The latter claim that the weather has not yet become sufficiently mild to warrant removing the guards, but the commissioner believes that conditions will be ripe for the work next week.

The Sun has had many inquiries from persons who wanted to know what department at city hall had charge of the storm guards on the bridges, the putting up and taking down of them, and many suggested that the guards should be taken down tomorrow as it is expected the river will reach its maximum on Sunday and the guards would obstruct the view of the falls from the bridge. The Sun passed these queries and suggestions on to Mr. Murphy, who said he would rather comply with the wishes of Pawtucketville people, who use the bridge daily, than with those of people whom he referred to as "sight-seers."

It has also been suggested that some danger attaches to the storm guards; danger for the ambitious youth who dares to climb and perch on the guard rail and one Pawtucketville man reported to 'The Sun' today that he saw two boys perched on the rail as he came across the bridge on his way down town.

Commissioner Murphy, as heretofore stated, intends to take the guards down on Monday, and it does seem as if they might be taken down tomorrow in order that a good, full view of the falls might be had from the bridge on Sunday. What say you, Mr. Murphy?

Man Wanted by Police in Five Cities Arrested as He Stepped From Jail

WORCESTER, March 26.—John H. Ryan, Jr., of New London, Conn., who is wanted by the police of five states for obtaining money under false pretences, was arrested today, as he stepped from the Worcester house of correction, where he had completed a two months' sentence imposed on him in Fitchburg. The arresting officer had five warrants for him from as many cities, and the Worcester police decided to turn him over to the Hartford authorities, as he is wanted by them on two different charges. Ryan came to the Worcester house of correction from the Lawrence house of correction.

BONUS PAYMENTS

Mass Meeting for World War Veterans

All veterans of the world war—male and female—are urged to attend a mass meeting in Memorial hall at 8.15 o'clock this evening, for the purpose of discussing further government bonus payments to all service men and women. The question is of sufficient importance to demand the interest of every Lowell veteran and it is hoped that the hall will be hardly large enough to accommodate the crowd.

The 150-a-month scheme will be explained and opportunity will be given for full discussion of any other measures introduced in congress. James E. Markham, school committeeman, will preside, and at the close of the meeting a buffet luncheon and "smokes" for the men will be served.

INFLUENZA CASES

Another case of influenza was reported to the board of health late yesterday, making seven this week. None had been reported up to noon today.

REJECTS MILLION OFFER

George Bernard Shaw Refuses To Turn His Plays Into Movies

NEW YORK, March 26.—A million dollars doesn't look large to George Bernard Shaw when it dangles before him as an inducement to turn his plays into movies. The Irish dramatist, satirist and stormy petrel of the English theatre in general, says as much in a letter to Frank M. Franklin, a lawyer of 309 Broadway, who made him that offer in behalf of American moving picture interests.

Mr. Franklin declined yesterday to name the movie magnates who were anxious to spread the Shaw comedies on the screen, but he added that he was a brother of Harold D. Franklin, manager of Shaw's Hippodrome, Buffalo, and that the offer came from interests with which his brother is associated.

Shaw's letter on the subject to the lawyer is characteristic. In one sentence he says:

"I already have an offer of $1,000,000 for the cinema rights of all my plays, but as it would be subject to taxation on the highest scale in the United States, the state of New York and in England, I should be out of pocket, by accepting it, to the extent of $17,000."

LAME BOY SAVES

3 YEAR OLD CHILD

BOSTON, March 26.—George W. Laming, three years old, son of William Laming of 103 Clifton street, Malden, was saved from drowning late yesterday afternoon in the swift current of Ceylmore Lea brook, Malden, by a 16-year-old lame boy, Herbert E. Robson of 7 Garnet street, Malden.

The little boy had fallen from the embankment of the brook where he had been playing and was quickly carried down the stream and was about to be washed over the dam of the Cochran print factory onto the jagged rocks below when Robson, summoned to the scene by the cries of a woman, seized the child's form as it reached the parapet and pulled it to the shore.

The Malden police with the use of a pulmotor revived the boy. He was resting comfortably last night at his home, where it is said he will be about in a few days.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

IN ADAMS STREET

Damage to the extent of about $1,000 was caused by fire early this morning in the store formerly conducted as a saloon, at 13 Adams street. The blaze started in the floor about the centre of the store. The damage to the first-while saloon included the breaking of three large plate glass mirrors, injury to the bar and fixtures, and the burning of the floor.

It is believed that the blaze was caused by a cigar stub, carelessly thrown, for when the establishment was closed at about 10 o'clock last night everything seemed all right. Shortly after 3.30 o'clock this morning a young woman who conducts a boarding house nearby, and who was awake at that time, smelled the smoke and, noticing the great volumes coming from the store, sent in an alarm from box 15. When the firemen reached the premises the flames had made considerable headway and it took them over an hour to extinguish the fire. The building is owned by Frederick J. Ryan.

Blaze in Cotton

At 7.47 o'clock last evening an alarm was sent in from 34 for fire in a carload of cotton on the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad in the vicinity of Maple street. The blaze, which it is believed was caused by a spark from a locomotive, practically destroyed the contents of the car.

COMMITTEE VISITS
NORMAL SCHOOL

The educational committee of the legislature visited the State Normal school yesterday afternoon to look over the Parker estate, which the state department of education has recommended be bought for the use of the Normal school. The chairman of the committee is Senator George Chamberlain of Springfield who has shown a great deal of interest in the project.

Supt. M. E. Fitzgerald of Cambridge gave an illuminating talk upon the qualifications which a superintendent looks for when employing a teacher. The students were greatly interested in his message and the original way in which it was presented.

Others who accompanied the legislative committee were Senator Frank Putnam, Colonel Perry Parker, Chairman Delaney of the school department and Supt. Hugh J. Molloy. Dinner was served by the girls of the city vocational school under the direction of Miss Ruth Upton.

BATTLE ON SUFFRAGE WORLD WAR DRAWINGS IN DELAWARE ON EXHIBITION HERE

DOVER, Del., March 26.—Plans for disposal of resolutions to ratify the woman suffrage constitutional amendment were uncertain when the Delaware legislature reconvened today. The struggle of suffrage workers and antagonists has reached a climax, with the time for voting and the result of both in doubt.

Overnight gains in strength were claimed by the suffragists, but confidence of the opposition was indicated in plans of Representative McNabb, Democratic leader in the house, to call up the ratification resolutions immediately. Suffrage forces were prepared to filibuster against a vote.

Developments in the senate were equally dubious, suffragists and opponents both claiming a majority.

With the fight at high heat and adjournment planned tonight until Monday, a vote in either house before next week was doubtful.

WHO WANTS TO GO TO GERMANY?

Lowell young men who find life in these peaceful and dry United States a rather hum-drum existence and who pine for more exciting scenes—get in on this.

Out in Germany, where they stage a new revolution every day in the week and two on Sunday, there is an urgent need of musicians and train despatchers to serve with Uncle Sam's forces.

So announced Lieut. Kennedy of Lowell's army recruiting party today. He adds further that the pay in these branches of the service is most liberal.

Applicants must have some experience in either of these lines, and should be over 21 years of age.

The lieutenant also states that as far as he has been able to discover, prohibition has not yet made its debut in the fatherland, although this last has, of course, nothing to do with the subject in hand.

One of the most realistic portrayals of scenes that attended the world war is that contained in the exhibition of drawings by Lucien Jonas and Jean Drott now on display at the city library. The exhibition is furnished the library by the Library Art club of New England and is the ninth in a series of war picture displays being circulated by that organization.

The greater part of the 40-odd drawings in the exhibition is the work of Jonas, one of the most successful illustrators of incidents of the great conflict, while Drott's pictures are confined to eight drawings, each showing a type of the French soldier.

Jonas' works range from the intensity of the fighting in the front line trench to the effect of the war on peaceful French homes, hundreds of miles behind the trenches.

One of his most notable achievements shows a Belgian priest reading Cardinal Mercier's letter of protest against the deportations of his countrymen while a German soldier stands by the pulpit with drawn bayonet ready to quell any demonstration on the part of the congregation. The drawing is entitled "Pulpit Protest Under Guard."

"The Blue" portrays one of the youngsters of the French fighting men writing his first letter home after his induction into the service. Boys still in their early teens were called to the service and while in the preliminary stage of training the youthful soldier or embryo hero was called a "bleuet."

"Two Minutes and Over" shows a trench scene with a French officer standing in front of his men, with his eyes on his wrist watch, counting off the minutes before he gives the signal for the dash over the parapet to the eager men behind him. Some of the most noted war observers said that the most critical and nerve-straining period in the soldier's work was during the few minutes that he waited for the signal to get into the conflict and the artist has interpreted this tension admirably in his drawing.

"His Ne Passeront Pas" ("They Shall Not Pass"), is the title of another drawing showing the gallant stand made by the French troops at Verdun. Another group of drawings show scenes attending the deportations of Belgians, even the women and children, to work in Germany. Girls were separated from their mothers and very often families were parted for years by these deportations. However, "The Hour of Deliverance," shows the same girls being restored to their parents when British and French soldiers advance through the territory previously taken by the Germans and release the towns from German control.

The exhibition as a whole is most interesting and well worth the perusal of students of the great war. It will remain at the library long enough for all who wish to see it to have an opportunity to do so.
